Misunderstanding of Orders Blamed for Missouri-Pacific Accident.

Passenger Train and Fast Freight Meet South of Omaha, Neb.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OMAHA (Neb.) Oct. 15.—Seven people were killed and twenty-one injured, four of them seriously, in a collision between Missouri Pacific passenger train No. 105, northbound, en route for this city, and a fast freight train.

The wreck, which occurred at Ft. Crook, ten miles south of here, at 10 o'clock this morning is believed to have resulted from a misunderstanding of orders by the freight crew.

A passenger train due to leave this city for the South about the time of the accident was converted into a relief train and sent to the scene of the accident, and later returned here with the uninjured and several of those who were slightly injured.

All of these were sent on their way. Those seriously injured are being cared for at the army hospital at Ft. Crook.

Gov. Gilchrist of Florida, who was a passenger on the northbound train was unhurt.

The dead:

J. W. PETRING, Nebraska City.

O. W. KEELER, brakeman, Atchison, Kan.

MRS. FRED W. ROWTMANN, Nebraska City.

A. W. SPRAGUE, St. Joseph, Mo.

MISS FRANCES LILLIAN KANKAKEA, Washington, Kan.

UNIDENTIFIED NEGRESS.

Among the seriously injured are:

John Scott, passenger engineer.

Among the less seriously injured are:

Mrs. Hope Conway, Alameda, Cal., flesh wound on leg.

Flo Conway, Alameda, Cal., cut about face.

Passenger train No. 105, out of Kansas City, in charge of Conductor F. R. Travers, running late. Conductor L. P. Cross of the freight passed South Omaha at 8:30. He had "signed off," but evidently did not check the train register as to the whereabouts of No. 105.

At the point of collision the track was a sharp curve, shutting off the view of the Fort Crook station. It was at this point that Engineer Crawford of the freight caught sight of No. 105, which was coming at high speed. Engineer Crawford, it is said, had no orders in regard to No. 105, but he whistled and slackened speed. When the passenger did not answer he concluded that it was a train on the adjoining Burlington tracks.

When within a few car lengths of each other, both engineers realized the danger and reversed their engines. The momentum of the passenger train, however, was so great that in a moment it was piled high upon the freight engine, which had almost stopped. The crews of both engines jumped.

Dr. John Colliver of Los Angeles, a passenger in the Pullman, rushed to the front and worked heroically to assist the injured.

The crew and uninjured passengers formed themselves into a band that worked under the direction of Dr. Colliver until the arrival of the army medical corps from Fort Crook under Maj. Dale and Lieut. Clark.

A call was sent to Omaha for medical assistance.

John Scott, engineer of the passenger, declared that he heard no whistle from the freight train. He said he was not going over twenty-five or thirty miles an hour.

CITY. President Taft is scheduled to arrive in Los Angeles from the North at 10 o'clock this morning. A full programme of entertainment has been prepared and the visitor is to deliver a number of addresses to the populace and is favored audiences.

Extra police last night on the eve of the President's visit has caused the police to make extra precautions to guard the city against those who are believed to be here to take advantage of the crowds.

The Supreme Court's session today is expected to prove momentous to industrial interests, as a decision is expected on the lines laying out districts.

A Los Angeles physician has been appointed a member of the executive committee to serve under the State Board of Health in quarantining and a plan of campaign is being formulated.

Rev. Robert Campbell accepted the call to the First Presbyterian Church yesterday and succeeds Rev. W. A. Hunter.

Rev. C. C. Bower, pastor of the Wilshire Methodist Church, resigned yesterday after a year's pastorate, and the board of trustees is to consider it at a business meeting tonight.

Col. D. H. Brush, in charge of the National Guard of California, said yesterday that it is the aim of the department to have the highest efficiency in mobilization.

Rev. Frank Koch's English Lutheran Church was dedicated yesterday by impressive ceremonies at Vermont avenue and Thirty-sixth street.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA. South Pasadena will adjourn this morning to enable its citizens an opportunity to see President Taft as he returns from a visit to Pomona College.

A runaway team crashed under a threshing machine while making repairs and others, including Wheelabouts, started the engine. Jones was terribly injured before anyone caused the machinery to be stopped.

Riverside politicians are in a dreadful state of perturbation. The name of the Hon. Frank Bard, and now the "progressive" has been changed from Longbeach to that of the present incumbent and all is confusion. Mr. Stephens is pleased by the situation.

The Imperial Valley cotton planter is making a success in the production of long staple cotton. This particular cotton brings from 2 to 3 cents per pound than the ordinary cotton. The growers of the valley say they have cleared considerably.

Orange growers will ask President Taft to see that no discrimination between themselves and the pure food officials. Growers are incensed to look after the matter.

Mrs. Parsons of San Bernardino was thrown by a motorcycle while crossing the track and probably fatally injured. The man on the machine had an arm broken, but the driver was arrested by the police.

Burglars, a long and a short one, are operating many daring robberies at Anaheim. The police force will be augmented in the hope of bringing the miscreants to book.

The rejected suitor of a young Redlands woman is so assiduous in his attentions that the police have granted the girl the right to carry a revolver to protect herself from his tempestuous advances.

The County Clerk of San Diego will not permit women to register until he is clothed with official authority to do so. A band of women wanted to qualify for a bond election which is to be held on November 14, but their request was denied.

PACIFIC SLOPE. The steamer Princess Beatrice went ashore on Noble Island yesterday.

Plans were laid in Portland yesterday for the forthcoming Presidential campaign.

The State Board of Control announced in Sacramento yesterday that the new tax system is a success as a revenue raiser.

Secretary of War Stimson reached Phoenix yesterday.

President Taft started last night for Los Angeles after two busy days in San Francisco; refused to make speech on Sabbath, but attended church, was guest at luncheon, inspected military forces and visited warship.

Portland "trusted clerk" was arrested Saturday and taken East to answer serious charge after having given his wife all his cash.

GENERAL EASTERN. Tobacco trust will today submit plans for dismemberment in obedience to the orders of the Supreme Court.

All the pomp and splendor of the Catholic church ritual was used at the opening of the ceremonies in honor of the Golden Jubilee of Cardinal Gibbons in Baltimore.

DR. ADDIS ALBRO.

COLUMBUS (N. M.) Oct. 15.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Dr. Addis Albro, collector of customs here, died today. Dr. Albro, who was both a clergyman and a lawyer, was born in Middleburg, N. Y., in 1855. For many years he was prominent in Republican politics in New York. He came here in 1907.

Matter published after 2 a.m. appears in the Second Edition. (See Page 15.)

PICTURES OF THE PRESIDENT FREE.

It has been suggested, as a compliment to the distinguished guest whom the city entertains today, that the people of Los Angeles secure and prominently display in the windows of their homes and places of business photographs of President Taft. In order that this may be done without trouble or expense to them, The Times has had prepared a large number of handsome half-tones of the Chief Executive which will be given away to all applying for them. The pictures measure 13 by 18 inches and are printed on heavy sheets of fine Bristol board, making an excellent subject for framing and preservation. One copy of this picture will be supplied free of charge to each person applying at the office of the Times-Mirror Printing and Binding House, No. 118 South Broadway, today.

ENGAGEMENT IS ONLY TRIAL.

WILL LAST ONE YEAR FOR HAROLD VANDERBILT.

Newport Hears that the Scion of Wealthy Family Will Marry Miss Eleanor Sears if at the Expiration of the Term Specified They Are Still Satisfied.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEWPORT (R. I.) Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Harold Sterling Vanderbilt and Miss Eleanor Sears have entered into a "trial engagement" for a period of one year. This is announced by Mrs. Frederick R. Sears of Boston, mother of the young woman whom society looks on with interest as having won the heart of the younger son of William K. Vanderbilt.

The terms of the "trial engagement," says Miss Sears's confidante, will not expire until next summer, so a public announcement that the couple are engaged is not considered likely before the time is up. Should the young pair conclude to "call it off," it may be there will never be any public acknowledgment that there was an engagement. When Miss Sears was in Newport this season she was constantly attended by young Mr. Vanderbilt, and together they took part in motoring, yachting, tennis playing and other sports. Miss Sears visited Mr. Vanderbilt's mother, Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, at Marble Hall.

Unfortunately for Mr. Vanderbilt he could not return here during the ladies' tennis tournament at the Newport casino in September, when Miss Sears took so an important a part in the clever playing, as his duties at the Grand Central station kept him fully occupied.

IRISH LASSIES REACH GOTHAM.

THIRTY-FIVE COME TO BE MARRIED HERE.

Forty-one Others Are Brought Over to Enter a Convent—Scotch Ship Has a Large Passenger List Sailing from the Clyde and Londonderry.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Anchor liner Caledonia brought over from Londonderry today forty-one Irish colleens, all of whom are entering convents of the sisters of charity of the Incarnate Word at Providence, R. I., and San Antonio, Tex.

The girls were in charge of Mother M. Alexis and Sister M. Felix, who have spent months in assembling the coming novitiates from different parishes. Mother Alexis and Sister Felix were met by two sisters of their order.

All the lassies are young, many of them in short skirts, and they represent all the types of Irish beauty from the darkest brunette, with long black eye lashes, and large oval orbs to the flaxen-haired, blue-eyed and buxom colt.

Mother Alexis started today with some who are candidates for the veil for Providence, while others went to the Leo Home at 6 State street, where they will remain until Wednesday when they will sail on the Morgan liner Antilles for New Orleans.

The ship brought the largest number of first and second saloon passengers that ever sailed from the Clyde and Londonderry, Ireland, on the same vessel, a total of 688. Among them were thirty-five Irish girls, who have come to America to join their sweethearts and become brides in different parts of the country.

Dr. Sun Yat Sen's Son Tells of Plans for Republic of Chung Hwa.

Money, Already Coined, Patterned After American. Votes for Women.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—With $2,000,000 in its treasury and an equal amount subject to call, 35,000 troops in the field and 130,000 reserves in the United States and Canada, and with a constitution adopted and administrative officers chosen, the proposed Chung Hwa republic is declared to be making a determined effort to overthrow the Manchu dynasty and establish itself as supreme in China.

Details of the formation of the tentative republic were revealed here today by Sun Fo, son of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, who is to be President of the new government if the revolution now in progress is successful. Years have been consumed in working out the different problems that have presented themselves to the revolutionists and haste was guarded against lest there be some fatal slip. Today the hundred thousand and more revolutionary Chinese in the United States and Canada feel that it is but a matter of days until the Manchu dynasty will succumb.

SIX PROVINCES FALLEN.

Cable advices received by the revolutionists here during the past twelve hours indicate that the provinces of Hunan, Honan, Hu Peh, Klang Su, Ng An Whi and Szechuen have fallen and that Quong Tong, the province in which Canton is situated, is about to be captured by the rebels. With the fall of Canton it was predicted today by Sun Fo, 4000 Chinese, including many wealthy merchants and officials of the new republic, will immediately leave here for China.

Twenty thousand troops are marching from Peking to meet the revolutionary forces and an engagement is expected within a short time in Hunan Province.

Dr. Sun Yat Sen, who at present is in Chicago, will be president of the Chung Hwa republic. Chinese women will have suffrage, according to present plans, and elections will be held once in five years. The Chinese yen is to be supplanted by money patterned after American coins. The decimal system will prevail. Already $2,000,000 in currency of the new republic has been disposed of. The bills are inscribed in English on one side and Chinese on the other, and resemble gold certificates. Gold is the standard of exchange.

In a three-story brick building on Spofford street, in the heart of San Francisco's Chinatown, is the treasury of the new republic. In this unassuming structure the plans of the revolutionists have been largely perfected under the direction of Dr. Sun Yat Sen and the Young China Association.

CELEBRATE "INDEPENDENCE."

One thousand Chinese participated in an "independence day" parade here today. Carrying in one hand the American flag and in the other the revolutionary emblem, the Chinese marched through the business district headed by a band and drum corps. Two hundred Oakland Chinese joined in the procession. The revolutionary flag is a white sun with twelve points on a blue canton. The field is a blood-red.

Enthusiasm fairly bubbled in Chinatown today. The revolutionary flags were raised from many buildings and crowds watched the bulletin boards at the Chinese newspaper offices for cablegrams from the Orient. A mass meeting was held tonight at Oakland to celebrate "independence day."

Free speech, no taxation without representation and no restrictions save as to education are the fundamental principles of the new constitution.

Sun Fo, son of the new president of the republic, is about 28 years old, well educated and thoroughly conversant with political conditions in China. Included in Sun Fo's staff of advisers are a number of Chinese who have received degrees in American universities. Fo is unassuming and extremely democratic. He made the following statement today:

"TIME TO FIGHT."

"It has taken years of preparation, but our plans are now perfected and the time has come to fight. Six provinces are already ours. We have 25,000 troops and a host of sympathizers. The government has 55,000 soldiers at Peking, many of whom will join the revolutionist ranks. Gen. Wong Hing is in command of our forces."

"We expect to establish a modern republic with two houses of Congress much the same as you have in the United States. Men and women who can read and write will be permitted to vote without regard to property holdings. Martial law will prevail

TURKS ATTACK ITALIANS; TORPEDO BOAT IS SUNK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TRIPOLI, Oct. 15.—Before dawn yesterday morning 200 Turkish infantrymen attacked the entrenched advance posts of the Italians west of Bounelanie. After an hour's fighting the Italian infantry, backed by field guns, landed from the fleet, forced the Turks to beat a retreat, leaving one dead, a quick firing gun with ammunition and various supplies.

TURKISH PARLIMENT HEARS SULTAN'S SPEECH

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 15.—The Turkish Parliament was opened yesterday afternoon, the Sultan's speech being read by the Grand Vizier in the presence of the Sultan, the oldest Turkish princes, the foreign diplomats and the heads of the foreign banks.

The speech dealt mostly with the action of Italy in declaring war against Tripoli and with the steps taken by the powers looking to mediation. In the meantime, the Grand Vizier read, the Turkish government continues to have recourse to measures to defend its rights and legitimate interests.

The speech declared that Italy's ultimatum was presented while the Turkish government was engrossed in developing the country industrially and repairing the errors of the old regime. It accused Italy of opening hostilities before the expiration of twenty-four hours after the ultimatum was given, and with firing upon torpedo boats in the Adriatic when they were saluting, ignorant that hostilities had broken out.

The Chamber re-elected Ahmed Riza Bey president by 86 votes to 55 for Mahir Said. Ahmed Riza urged that the Young Turks committee keep its hands off in the coming election. It is said certain Young Turks will control the chamber, resulting in a continuance of the resistance to Italian demands.

ITALIAN TORPEDO BOAT WRECKED ON ROCKS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ROME (via frontier) Oct. 15.—The landing of the Italian expeditionary force in Tripoli was more eventful than at first known. Owing to the difficulties caused by rough sea and a hard shore, the Italian commanders found themselves confronted by a serious problem. The great fleet of coral boats from the islands came to the rescue, however, and helped in landing the troops. The torpedo boat Precca was wrecked on the rocks although the crew was saved.

There have been twenty or thirty cases of cholera, with a 75 per cent. mortality.

BERLIN, Oct. 15.—The Emperor, who is at his hunting lodge near Eberswalde, Prussia, invited Signor Alberto Pansa, the Italian Ambassador, to a conference today on the political situation. The German Imperial Chancellor also attended.

The Italian Ambassador had arranged to meet the German Foreign Minister, Herr von Kiderlin Waechter, at the Foreign Office to discuss matters connected with the Turko-Italian war, but hastily cancelled this engagement upon receiving the Emperor's message.

MADERO'S PRESIDENCY AWAITS INAUGURATION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 15.—Lacking only the ceremonies of the inauguration, Francisco I. Madero is President of the republic of Mexico. By a vote of the electoral college, which was practically unanimous, he was chosen officially today.

Jose Pino Suarez will be the Vice-President, without doubt. If he has failed to get a majority, there is not a reasonable doubt that the Chamber of Deputies will name him as Madero's lieutenant over Francisco de la Barra, who obtained second place in the vote of the electoral college.

Francisco Vasquez was hopelessly distanced.

Madero, who one year ago was planning his revolution, today manifested but a casual interest in the outcome. His last opponent was eliminated when Gen. Bernardo Reyes fled from the country.

Early this morning the President-elect took a long horseback ride into the country and spent the rest of the day in his home, where he received messages regarding the election, chiefly of a congratulatory character. Tonight, accompanied by Mrs. Madero, his constant companion since the day he was thrown into jail in 1910 for daring to oppose Porfirio Diaz, he left for a tour through the northern part of the republic, which will terminate at San Pedro de las Colonias, a little town in Coahuila, where he was born thirty-eight years ago.

A few scattering votes, perhaps 100, were cast for other candidates for the Presidency, among them Porfirio Diaz, to whom some admirer gave one vote.

It was impossible tonight to say how large the vote had been. Under the electoral law of division, there should be 30,000 members of the electoral college. It is probable that at the general elections on October 1 more than 25,000 were named, but reports tonight indicate that a number of these did not qualify and that still others were thrown out because of improper credentials.

The Federal District gave Pino Suarez 601; De la Barra 202, and Vasquez Gomez 10. This is approximately the proportion received by the

President Due Here This Morning.

Chief Executive Puts in an Unusually Busy Sunday in San Francisco.

Attends Church, Is Guest at Luncheon, and Inspects Soldiers.

Declines to Make Speech on Sabbath, but Wishes Exposition Luck.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—After two days of strenuous activity, President Taft left San Francisco tonight for Southern California and Los Angeles with the expressed conviction that San Francisco and the State will make a success of the exposition of 1915 that signifies the opening of the Panama Canal.

Today Mr. Taft was the guest of the officials of the exposition. He visited the Y.M.C.A. this morning, attended divine worship at the First Unitarian Church and lunched with the officials at the Cliff House. After luncheon he was driven to the site of the exposition, inspected several regiments of infantry and companies of coast artillery at the Presidio, and wound up the day with a call upon Rear-Admiral Thomas on the cruiser California, flagship of the fleet now assembled in San Francisco Bay.

There was no speech-making today. The President was called upon only once to respond by a talk and he declined then to enter into a Sunday discussion. At the Cliff House, President Moore of the exposition company presented him with a miniature replica in silk of the official exposition flag which he unfurled yesterday at the ground-breaking ceremony in the stadium. Mr. Moore said no speeches were expected but in accepting the little flag the President said:

"I hope that your exposition will be successful; I hope it will be the most successful exposition in the world's history."

The automobile ride following the lunch took the President over much of the ground that is to be covered with the exposition buildings. Not far from the Cliff House his automobile topped the crest of the hills that border San Francisco Bay and beneath him he saw the Golden Gate, with just across the monster coast defense guns that guard the harbor.

Through the Presidio with Maj.-Gen. Arthur Murray of the Department of California by his side, the President was taken next. On the parade ground 2000 infantrymen were massed in parade formation, but no guns roared a welcome to disturb the Sunday quiet.

From the harbor's edge the President was taken later to the cruiser California, where the ranking officers of the fleet paid him honor. From the California he returned to his hotel, took dinner in his apartments, and then boarded his private car.

HEARS OF SOCIALISM.

President Taft heard John D. Rockefeller and J. Pierpont Morgan referred to today as "those arch socialists," and tradesmen of the East as "lean and unhappy-looking weaklings." These allusions were made in a sermon on Christian socialism by the Rev. Bradford Leavitt, at the First Unitarian Church in this city. The President went to the church unattended.

Dr. Leavitt said in part:

"Socialists believe that their creed will save the world. When I see a procession of tradesmen in the East, I do not wonder that these lean, unhappy-looking weaklings have turned to socialism, just as I do not wonder at the effectiveness of the propaganda of those arch socialists, Rockefeller and Morgan. No reorganization can make men better than they were before."

Continuing, Dr. Leavitt said: "Many men use the Bible as a fetich-children's questions are not answered truthfully and the common method is making men cowards and liars."

PRESIDENT'S TILE GOES WITH THE WIND.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When President Taft was on his way across the bay on the night of his arrival here he lost his high silk hat which the wind whisked away into the water. Since that time he has but one tile and that has been made to do heavy duty.

The President had half a dozen hatters send samples, but there was not one that had the proper width of top and curve to suit. Then it was decided to stand by the one remaining silk hat.

Continual doffing of the headgear to the cheering populace was hard on its appearance. After each appearance it would go to the hands of the hat man or valet and went through the shining up process.

The President and his official family hope that in Los Angeles they will be able to find a hat of the proper design.

TAFT SPEECH IS APPLAUDED.

London Likes Sentiment of His Seattle Address.

His Doctrine Described as Both Sound and Wise.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mr. Taft's argument for his general arbitration programme in his Seattle speech is generally applauded by the London friends of peace and limitation of armaments as "the most telling, though the briefest, he has made."

The President's statement that the duty of the United States to lead the way is all the more obvious because "we have the resources to equip an army and a navy either of which could sweep any other off the face of the earth," is characterized as a "pardonable jingoistic way of putting a doctrine perfectly sound and wise nationally and internationally."

There is a growing feeling, nevertheless, in the same quarters that the events of the year in North Africa have turned back the hands of the clock so far as the actual work of disarming the nations is concerned.

Passionately devoted to their ideal, the British leaders of the movement fear that it has been checked for a generation and that "the next decade will witness an appalling increase in the price England must pay for what Reginald McKenna calls 'the freedom of the great high road of the sea upon which our very existence depends.'"

In explaining their fears they point to the "insensate new hatred Germany has for us because she thinks we prevented her from bullying France and cites the German Navy League's clamor for an acceleration of the construction of large cruisers and the shocking complacency with which the German naval party contemplated the explosion that wrecked the French battleship Liberte."

At the launching of England's biggest dreadnought last week there was a distinct note of defiance in the festivities; and an allusion to the necessity of being always more than prepared for contact, and even for conflict, with the aims, hopes and ambitions of other peoples," seemed to be a palpable hit.

TRIAL IS SET FOR TOMORROW.

ULRICH MUST ANSWER FOR ASSAULT ON DR. WASHINGTON.

Lawyer for Assailant of Famous Negro Educator Says There Will Be No Delay—Charge Changed to One of Minor Gravity—Story of Midnight Sensation Recalled.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The case of the people vs. Henry A. Ulrich, of No. 11½ West Sixty-third street, for simple assault upon Booker T. Washington, the negro principal of Tuskegee Institute, will come up for trial in special sessions Tuesday morning. James I. Moore, attorney for Ulrich, said today:

"The case is one of simple assault and my client will be ready to go on with the trial. I do not know what the District Attorney has been doing, but I presume that the case will be tried at once."

Ulrich, who has a dog kennel and hospital at No. 779 Eleventh avenue, said today he thought it would not be tried for several weeks. He has been awaiting trial several months. On the night of March 19 last, Dr. Washington was brought in to the West Sixty-eighth-street Police Station by a policeman who had chased him up Central Park West after a scuffle in the hallway at Ulrich's house.

Ulrich was arrested on Dr. Washington's charge of assault. He told the police he had found Dr. Washington peering tarough a keyhole in his hallway. Dr. Washington said he had been told the auditor of Tuskegee Institute was at the address and he was trying to find his name on the door.

After the two men had told their stories the charge against Dr. Washington of unlawful entry was dismissed and Ulrich was held on the charge of assault. He gave $500 bail.

Dr. Washington, who lives in summer time at Huntington, L. I., is expected in court Tuesday.

GIANTESS ON VISIT.

Girl of 22 Years Weighs Two and a Half Times as Much as President Taft.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Gertrude Burk, largest woman in the world, weighing two and one-half times as much as President Taft, is visiting at the home of Mrs. H. W. Hayes, in Alton. Miss Burk is 22 years old, weighs 825 pounds, stands 5 feet, 7 inches, and some of her measurements are: Arm, twenty-eight inches; waist, fifty-four inches; bust, seventy-five inches. She wears No. 4½ shoes and No. 7 gloves. At the Hayes home she sits on two chairs placed facing each other. Efforts have been made by showmen to get Miss Burk to exhibit herself, but she has never been tempted. Her parents left her an estate and she does not need the money.

Clarence E. S. Funk,

Manager of the International Harvester Company, and a Lorimer witness, who is defendant in a suit in which alienation of affections is alleged.

Aftermath.

LORIMER WITNESS ALLEGES CONSPIRACY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Evidence tending to show that the mysterious "John and Josephine Henning," named in a suit for alienation of affections against Clarence E. S. Funk, are but figureheads in a plot against the International Harvester Company manager, was unearthed today by detectives in the latter's employ.

Both Mr. Funk and E. A. Bancroft, his attorney, charge that the $25,000 suit is an aftermath of Mr. Funk's testimony before the Lorimer Investigating Committee. For months, they say, they have had knowledge of a conspiracy because Mr. Funk testified that Edward Hines had solicited $10,000 from the harvester company to be contributed toward Mr. Lorimer's campaign fund.

The "Henning" woman's name has been mentioned by the detectives who have been trying to "get the goods" on him, according to Mr. Funk's friends, and also the names of "Dorothy Bruener," and three other women, among the latter being a 15-year-old West Side girl.

Attemps to ascertain where John and Josephine Henning are failed today. While the "Mr. and Mrs. John Henning," who are staying at a hotel at Mobile, Ala., admit that they are the parties named in the suit, they refused to discuss their antecedents or give details of the alleged alienation which "Henning" claims. Whatever troubles, if any, they ever had, it would appear, had been patched up from the fact that they are living together and seem to be the best of friends.

"Mr. and Mrs. Henning" have spent money lavishly since going to Mobile a week ago, according to dispatches. "Henning" is said to have preceded his wife to the southern city.

STEAMER HITS GROUND; PASSENGERS RESCUED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VICTORIA (B. C.) Oct. 15.—The Canadian Pacific steamship, Princess Beatrice, running between Vancouver, Prince Rupert and the northern canneries, struck on Noble Island at 10 o'clock last night and is held fast on the rocks. The 300 passengers, 200 of whom were Chinese being brought south from the canneries, were taken off by the steamship Venture and landed at Alert Bay. No one was injured.

The wooden steamer struck an hour from low water. She is lying shattered with three fathoms of water under her stern and the bow hard ashore. Large holes were stove in the bow and her forward hold filled with water. The engine room pumps are keeping the vessel free from water abaft the bulkheads, which are holding well.

When the vessel struck the Chinese in the steerage were greatly alarmed, but the officers succeeded in controlling them and the passengers were taken into the small boats and transferred without mishap to the Venture which responded to distress signals.

The steamship Princess Royal is standing by the wreck and the salvage tug Salvor and the steamer Princess May have been sent to her assistance. The Princess May will call at Alert Bay and pick up the passengers.

EX-BANKER WALSH HOME; HAS QUIT ALL FIGHTING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—John R. Walsh, ex-banker and former head of railroad and quarry enterprises in this vicinity, who was paroled Saturday from the Ft. Leavenworth Federal Prison, spent today at his home here. Tonight he outlined his plans for the future.

"I do not contemplate any sensational financial fight; I do not anticipate that my entry to the business world again will be a matter of apprehension or anxiety to those now engaged in business," he said, with a twinkle in his eye. I have quit fighting. All I want to do now is to get a little rest at home, and get a new line on the tangled braids of business enterprises I am interested in since the adjustment of the clearinghouse note. After things have been straightened out, I do not know just what I shall do. Certainly I shall not make any attempt, as has been reported, to become the 'coal king of the West.' I take it that the coal royalty is rather complete as it is.

"No, my plans are very simple. I haven't another thirty years to spare in getting into another of what is called a 'struggle for financial prominence.' Both my boys are engaged in business and are doing satisfactorily, so they probably won't need my help."

The former banker arrived in Chicago from Kansas today and went directly home, where he was welcomed by his wife and the family of his children.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER (Colo.) Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The recent wedding of Carl Yeager of the St. Francis Hotel, San Francisco, and Miss Goldie Greenough of Denver, was the culmination of a seven-day romance. Miss Greenough and her mother left for San Francisco three weeks ago.

Two young men occupied a section opposite the Greenoughs in the Pullman. Carl Yeager was one. Mrs. Greenough and daughter whiled away the hours by playing cards. Mr. Yeager wore a Masonic emblem. Mrs. Greenough was wearing a Shriner emblem, which belonged to her husband. The ties of fraternalism paved the way to acquaintanceship and Mr. Yeager and his companion were invited to join the Greenoughs in whist.

Acquaintanceship led to friendship between Mr. Yeager and Miss Greenough. Friendship ripened into love and the sequel occurred in San Francisco two days after they reached there 10 minutes to half an hour. All depends upon whether the Salt Lake can take care of the extra 20 minutes which the President is willing to allot to San Bernardino in making up the schedule between here and the East. This word was telegraphed here tonight by R. C. Harbison, who went to San Francisco in an effort to secure the additional time of the President here.

President Drever of the San Bernardino Merchants Protective Association received the telegraphic announcement, and has taken the matter up with the Salt Lake officials. An answer is expected in the morning. A committee to arrange for the additional time has been appointed by President Drever, S. W. McNabb being named as chairman. If the longer stop can be secured the President will visit Lugo Park and make a brief talk there, and also will address the High School pupils.

The demonstration lasted fifteen minutes.

DEBUSSY COMING.

French Composer Will Conduct First Performance of His Opera in Boston.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] DeBussy, famous French composer, will conduct the first performance of his opera, "Pelleas et Melisande," to be given at the Boston Operahouse January 6.

The coming of Debussy will be a notable event in American musical circles. "Peleas et Melisande" is expected to be the climax of the most briliant season of grand opera Boston has ever enjoyed.

The Melisande on this occasion will be the noted French artist, Georgette Maeterlinck, wife of the poet, whose work Debussy has set to music. Maeterlinck himself will also be present.

HUNTING FATALITY.

First Accident of the Season Costs the Life of Florin Man While Shooting Near Nicolaus.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 15.—The first fatal accident of the winter hunting season occurred this morning, when George M. Bagnall was shot and killed three miles from Nicolaus, while hunting ducks, with Elbert Edwards and George Berdick.

Which one of his companions shot Bagnall will probably never be known. Both declare they did not do it.

Bagnall, who was a resident of Florin, has a wife and two children.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TARRYTOWN (N. Y.) Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller attended the First Baptist Church this morning. They came down in their automobile. This is the first time Mrs. Rockefeller has been to church since she returned from Cleveland. While riding in the automobile she was heavily veiled and well wrapped in blankets.

Mr. Rockefeller looked as well as usual. He met many after church and shook hands with them. As one old churchman was coming out leaning on his cane. Mr. Rockefeller walked up to him, shook his hand and advised him to take good exercise. At the same time Mr. Rockefeller gave him a demonstration through a few vigorous exercises with his arms.

When the Stomach Stops

Working Properly, Because There Is Wind in It, Use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to Set It Going Again.

Trial Package Free.

The doctors call it flatulency, but unprofessional folks know it as "wind on the stomach," and a most distressing state of things it is. It is a serious condition of this great motor organ. Always annoying and painful in the extreme, at times often leading to bad and fatal results. The stomach embarrassed and hampered with wind cannot take care of its food properly and indigestion follows, and this has a train too appalling to enumerate. The entire system is implicated—made an active or passive factor in this trouble and life soon becomes a questionable boon.

All this is explained in doctor books; how undigested food causes gases by fermentation and fomentation in which process some essential fluids are destroyed — burnt up—wasted by chemical action, followed by defective nutrition and the distribution through the alimentary tract of chemically wrong elements and as a consequence the stomach and entire system are starved. Plenty of food, you see, but spoilt in preparation and worse than worthless.

A deranged stomach is the epitome of evil; nothing too bad to emanate from it, but the gas it generates is probably its worst primary effect and the only way to do away with this is to remove the cause. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets go to the root of this trouble. They attack the gas-making foods and render them harmless. Flatulency or wind on the stomach simply cannot exist where these powerful and wonderworking little tablets are in evidence.

They were made for this very purpose to attack gas-making foods and convert them into proper nutriment. This is their province and office. A whole book could be written about them and then not all told that might be told with profit to sufferers from this painful disease, dyspepsia. It would mention the years of patient and expensive experiment in effort to arrive at this result—of failures innumerable and at last success. It would make mention of the different stomach correctives that enter into this tablet and make it faithfully represent all.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not alone intended for the sick, but well folks as well; for the person who craves hearty foods and wants to eat heartily and run no risk of bad effects, they act like a charm and make eating and digestion a delight and pleasure. They keep the stomach active and energetic and able and willing to do extra work without special labor or effort. Don't forget this. Well people are often neglected, but the Stuart Dyspepsia Tablets have them in mind.

A free trial package will be sent any one who wants to know just what they are, how they look and taste, before beginning treatment with them. After this go to the drug store for them; everywhere, here or at home, they are 50 cents a box and by getting them at home you will save time and postage. Your doctor will prescribe them; they say there are 40,000 doctors using them, but when you know what is the matter with yourself, why go to the expense of a prescription? For free trial package address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Building, Marshall, Michigan.

OREGON'S PLANS FOR CAMPAIGN

General Committee Named to Conduct It.

Mr. Taft for Renomination and Re-election.

Organization to Be Extended to Every County.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The campaign in Oregon for the renomination and reelection of President Taft will be directed by a general committee of eighteen representative Republicans. This group of the President's supporters will constitute the parent body of an organization that will be made State-wide through the formation of auxiliary committees in every county. The personnel of the central or directing authority, which will be both advisory and executive in its capacity, has been announced. It has the cordial indorsement of Charles D. Hilles, Secretary to the President.

Regulars and insurgents are about equally represented on the committee. A complete working agreement has been reached between the factions as the result of conferences held while Taft was in the Northwest and which were promoted by Secretary Hilles and Ralph E. Williams, National Committeeman for Oregon.

The personnel of the Taft committee is:

T. B. Wilcox, J. R. Porter, Ben Selling, Phil Metschan, Jr., A. G. Rushlight, John S. Beall, Dr. A. C. Smith, A. E. Clark, W. B. Ayer, W. M. Killingsworth, D. J. Mallarkey, John P. Logan, W. F. Woodward, D. C. Lively, Amedee M. Smith, W. Aden, J. B. Yeon and John H. Burgard.

WORKERS AS DEPUTIES.

Fifty-Eight of Them and Three Inspectors in a Chinatown Raid in Sacramento.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 15.—Assisted by fifty-eight deputy constables, three inspectors of the State Board of Pharmacy last night raided twenty-three places in Chinatown, taking about 120 prisoners and a lot of opium, and hundreds of pipes and "hop-outs" which will be used as evidence.

About fifteen white men were among the prisoners.

Most of the deputies sworn in for the occasion were striking union shoppers from the local Southern Pacific shops. They were gathered together at 7 o'clock at the local labor temple, and there informed of what their work for the night would be.

Two men were detailed to each place and given orders to hold all the occupants and allow none either to enter or leave. The inspectors, J. J. Browne, H. Charmack, F. Sutherland and Secretary L. Zeh of the State Board then went the rounds and searched each place, preparing the evidence and arrested the occupants.

WED AT PRISON DOOR.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Clinging to the man she loves, who must pass at least the next six years in the Walla Walla penitentiary, Mrs. Climena Rolleri, a pretty young widow, obtained a marriage license from Clerk Claude F. Savage and with George Elliott, alias George Sanborn, the bridegroom, in charge of Deputy Sheriff William Zimmerman, was married yesterday in a retired nook of the County Clerk's office.

Sanborn has been convicted of grand larceny and sentenced to three to five years and also convicted of forgery, for which he was sentenced to three to twenty years. He is charged with forming an important link in the Hatfield crowd, who are said to have dealt largely in bogus warranty deeds and mortgages.

BANKER-CONVICT TO TESTIFY.

Cooper Morris, Out of Prison on Bond, Expected to Be Witness Against Wilde.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Reports have been spread strongly that Cooper Morris, banker-convict, will be the star witness against J. Wilde here, as the result of conferences held between Morris and Dist.-Atty. Cameron here today.

Morris was allowed to come to Portland last night but Gov. West says that the man who accompanied the banker at his conference with the District Attorney was a penitentiary guard. Mr. Cameron refuses to state what the significance of Morris's visit was, but admits it relates to the Wilde matter.

Morris has frequently expressed himself bitterly against his former associates, declaring he was being punished while others more guilty were free. However, he refused, prior to his conviction, to turn State's evidence.

OFFICERS ARRESTED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] George W. Marr, wanted in Denver and taken from the custody of the Circuit Court here Saturday by Deputy Sheriff Rinker of the Colorado city, aided by two Portland detectives, was arrested today with his custodians on a train at Newport, Wash., and is being held for return.

Judge Gatens of the Circuit Court, however, declares he will issue no requisition for the return of Rinker and Martin. The Governor and the judge, who are both Democratic leaders in Oregon, are at loggerheads over the case.

By Judge Gatens's order Detectives Mallet and Maloney of the local force, who helped Rinker kidnap his prisoner, have been arrested and both declared they had acted on the Governor's assurance that he would protect them if their action led to trouble. The Governor admits this is true.

"I had issued a Governor's warrant," said West, "and I wanted it respected. There was no occasion for further delays."

"Martin will not be taken to Denver without due process of law," declared Judge Gatens. "We will punish all persons concerned in this kidnaping."

LEAVES WIFE TO ANSWER CHARGE.

Gives Weeping Bride All His Money Before Departure for East. Police Captain Refuses to Let Officers Carry Off Prisoner Without Chance to Say Good-by to Family.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After an affecting farewell and leaving with his young wife money enough to maintain her for two years, Thomas J. Brooke, a former trusted clerk for the Pacific Bridge Company here, was taken out of Portland late last night in the custody of Sheriff Grant of Lake county, Indiana, to answer for an alleged share in extensive peculations suffered by the Illinois Steel Company, of Gary, Ind., a subsidiary of the United States Steel Corporation. He had been under surveillance two weeks.

The Indiana officers telegraphed ahead to have Brooke detained but he was merely kept under surveillance here. When they arrived the Indiana officers obtained a Governor's warrant and then arrested their man. They wanted to rush away at once to avoid possible court proceedings, but Police Captain Baty interposed his veto.

"This man is going to see his wife first," he said.

After some demur the Indiana Sheriff consented and the prisoner in an automobile and guarded by Detective Day made a last visit to his home. Taking every cent he had from his pockets, Brooke said:

"There, dear, with the money you have, that will be enough to last you two years and I shall be with you again before that time."

Then he kissed the weeping woman and rejoined his custodian.

ESPEE DEED FILED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Southern Pacific Company through its legal representative, W. H. Devlin, has filed a deed with the County Recorder that practically contains a description of all property on which there is Southern Pacific trackage in the city of Sacramento. The deed shows the transfer of considerable property from the Southern Pacific Company to the Central Pacific of Utah. Filed with it are eleven large blue prints showing in detail the course of all tracks, switches and spurs of the Southern Pacific.

It is not known why transfer of the deed was filed at this late day, but it may have some bearing on the controversy between the company and the city of Sacramento over the possession of waterfront property now used by the railroad.

FLOATING CANNERY.

One Has Proved So Very Successful in the North That Others Are to be Started.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA (Wash.) Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Reports of a successful season's work of the only floating salmon cannery in the world, the old dismasted ship "Glory of the Seas," which has just returned from Southeastern Alaska, make it evident that the plan of placing a cannery on shipboard is destined to be widely copied.

The ability to move the cannery on the "Glory of the Seas," from place to place, prevented failure several times during the season. When the run of fish became so poor an ordinary cannery would have been forced to shut down, it was simply necessary to hitch a tug to Glory and tow her to another field.

MILLIONS OF TROUT.

California State Hatchery on Lake Tahoe Distributes an Immense Output to Various Streams.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TRUCKEE (Cal.) Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The State Fish Hatchery on Lake Tahoe this year had an output of 34,000,000 trout, all of which have been distributed to all parts of the State, sixteen trips being made by the State fish car to distribute them. The completion of the Western Pacific Railroad enabled the State to distribute trout to a great many streams and lakes that could not be reached heretofore.

INSPECT ARMY POSTS.

Secretary of War and the Chief of the Army Staff Spend Few Hours in Phoenix.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Oct. 15.—Secretary of War Stimson and Chief of Staff Wood spent a few hours here today enroute to Ft. Whipple, and Ft. Huachuca on a general inspection tour of western posts. Gen. Wood spent a few minutes with his son, Leonard Wood, Jr., in the Evans School for Boys, near Tesa City.

QUARANTINE RAISED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dr. Charles Keene, State veterinarian, has announced that the county of Santa Barbara has been exempted from United States quarantine against the Texas fever tick and that cattle can be shipped from that locality free of the former restriction that for so many years has been a detriment to the cattle industry in that section.

This leaves only San Diego, Orange and a portion of San Luis Obispo counties under quarantine, and it is expected early in the coming year, as only one ranch in that section is afflicted with the tick.

In San Luis Obispo there are still eight ranches that have not been cleared.

In San Diego county the main trouble is on a ranch of some 400,000 acres, carrying nearly 40,000 head of cattle.

In Spite of It Amateur Cracksman Tackles San Jose Safe Full of Books.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN JOSE (Cal.) Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "This safe contains books only. Please close the door again after searching."

This is the sign which stood over the safe in the office of J. F. Parkinson, lumberman, in Sunnyvale last night, but was no protection against an amateur cracksman who entered and did considerable damage to the safe without being able to open it.

LIKE THE TAX SYSTEM.

California State Board of Control Announces That it Succeeds as Revenue Raiser.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The State Board of Equalization has determined that the new tax system is successful in so far as the raising of revenue for the State is concerned.

The first installments paid by corporations to date amount to $5,537,825. The total amount for the year's expenses is $12,330,000. Corporations were depended upon to produce $10,500,000. There are 19,635 corporations assessed and all but 3814 have paid the first or both installments. Many delinquents will pay both installments when the second falls due.

Some protests have been filed and some requests have been made for rebates of taxes paid, these steps being taken as a basis for test suits, if it is decided later to file them. The equalizers will hold a meeting here in a few days.

MEET VOTING SISTERS.

Brothers with the Ballot Are Invited to Meet with Them in Mountain View.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MOUNTAIN VIEW (Cal.) Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A political equality meeting has been called to be held in Masonic Hall on Thursday afternoon the 19th at 2:30 p.m. The call states that every modern man and woman, all sorts, creeds and conditions, must meet for the social betterment of the community, and that the brothers of the ballot must meet the sisters of the ballot.

The meeting will discuss the political changes which will be wrought as a result of the passage of the woman suffrage amendment.

FOUR INSTITUTES.
OF TEMPERANCE DELEGATES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, Oct. 15.—The State convention delegates in attendance at the W.C.T.U. sessions last night were divided into four institutes for the purpose of more thorough educational discussions on subjects pertaining to the purposes of the organization. Mrs. Addes Estes of Stockton, Mrs. Anna Mardin Deyo of Fresno, Mrs. Mary A. Reichenbach of Oakdale, State Secretary Anna E. Chase and Mrs. G. W. Washburn of Lodi presided over the institute sessions. The feature of the evening was an address on "success" as the W.C.T.U. knows the term. Reports most glowing were recorded and the organization shows exceptional progress and numerical gains in memberships and active workers.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Ready For the Jury.

OLYMPIA (Wash.) Oct. 15.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The evidence in the trial of George H. Wilson, the section-hand accused of chopping Archie Coble and wife to death on the night of July 10 at Rainier, was concluded yesterday. It is expected that the case will go to the jury tomorrow night.

candidates in a majority of the State capitals which reported tonight. De la Barra's principal strength was in the State of Jalisco, but the surprise came when it was known that he had lost the capitals of Puebla and Queretaro, both regarded as strongholds of the Catholic Church. In both of these places, Pino Suarez ran far ahead.

Pino Suarez, himself, is in Merida, the capital of Yucatan, where he was recently elected Governor. He telegraphs to Madero, claiming to have won a majority in that State, in Campeche, Tabasco, and the territory of Quintana Roo. It is not impossible that when the reports are all in, Pino Suarez's lead may be greatly reduced. Hundreds of small towns in rural districts remain to be heard from, and since many of these are not reached by telegraph, the result can not be known for days.

The progressives are basing their belief that their candidate is beyond all danger on reports from the larger towns, but in the villages, on the haciendas and far back in the mountains are hundreds of accredited electors whose votes may change the result. There appears to be no doubt that Pino Suarez will retain a plurality, but he may not get the necessary 51 per cent.

STEAMER ASHORE.

Princess Beatrice Strikes Land On Noble Island—Passengers and Crew Are Taken Off.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VICTORIA (B. C.) Oct. 15.—The Canadian Pacific steamer Princess Beatrice is ashore on Noble Island, off the north coast of British Columbia. The passengers and crew have been taken off by the steamer Venture. The Princess Beatrice is not equipped with wireless and the only word of the wreck reaching here has come from the government station on Triangle Island, northwest of Vancouver Island.

A WOODEN VESSEL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Oct. 15.—The Princess Beatrice is a wooden passenger steamship of 2190 tons gross register. She was built in Victoria in 1903 and is operated by the Canadian Pacific Railway in the service between Vancouver, B. C., and Skagway, Alaska. The local officers of the Canadian Pacific have received no report of the loss of the Princess Beatrice.

IRRIGATION CONGRESS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—A call for the nineteenth annual national irrigation congress was sent out today. It will be held here from December 5 to 9. Delegates from each State, city and town in the United States have been invited to be present. The colleges, commercial bodies and engineering societies also have been invited to send representatives.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Ordered to be Careful.

FRESNO (Cal.) Oct. 15.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Southern Pacific Railway officials were yesterday notified by Mayor Rowell and Chief of Police Jones to have their watchmen be more careful. H. R. Pickens and H. P. Moon, two guards, were arrested on charge of having assaulted a Japanese going through the yard. Their appointments as deputy constables have been canceled.

Paper Money Burned.

PLACERVILLE (Cal.) Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Word has just been received here that the big hotel at Phillips Station was burned Wednesday, including $12,000 in paper currency, causing a total loss of $20,000. J. B. Bryson was proprietor of the establishment.

Killed by a Train.

EUREKA (Cal.) Oct. 15.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] H. McCormick, formerly a guard at San Quentin penitentiary, was struck by a train at Jones Creek near here tonight, and instantly killed. McCormick was 60 years of age and leaves a family, living in Honolulu.

GOVERNOR IN WRECK.

and unnerved. With tears in his eyes, he repeated over and over his story of the collision. He blamed Gross, his conductor, for the wreck, saying that he had been given no order regarding the passenger train.

BLAMES THE WRECK ON MENTAL LAPSE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) Oct. 15.—"The accident can only be attributed to the fallibility of men, as the freight crew seems to have had one of those mental lapses that sometimes occur, causing them to forget all about passenger trains notwithstanding special notification was given that it was due." This is the explanation of the probable cause of the collision near Omaha, advanced by President Bush of the Missouri Pacific.

"The freight train was in charge of Conductor Gross and Engineer Crawford. It was an extra without right of way against the passenger train."

It was reported to President Bush that Col. William Lassier, in command at Fork Crook, was on the scene of the wreck within a few minutes after it occurred with his officers and men including the army medical corps and rendered valuable service.

FLORIDA GOVERNOR ON RESCUE PARTY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OMAHA (Neb.) Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Gov. Gilchrist of Florida acted the part of hero today, when for more than an hour he worked among the dead and injured following a wreck to the train upon which he was traveling. Although badly shaken up and bruised in a number of places the Governor refused to accept aid for himself until all the injured were made comfortable. He then accepted the hospitality of the general in comand at Fort Crook, near where the acident occurred and was driven to that officer's quarters, later coming into Omaha. Gov. Gilchrist was en route to Omaha to attend the American prison congress.

DETAINED BY THE WEATHER.

VINITA (Okla.) Oct. 15.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Transcontinental Aviator C. P. Rodgers, who arrived here last night, was detained today by adverse weather conditions. He will leave early Monday for Ft. Worth, Tex., where he expects to arrive about noon.

TOLD SECRET TO HER FRIENDS

Sad Experience of Miss Brown, In Hanging Limb, Before She Knew Cardui

Hanging Limb, Tenn.—"I told all my friends," says Miss Ethel Brown, of this place, "that my present good health was entirely due to Cardui. For several years I had suffered with troubles peculiar to women — long weakening spells, nervousness, etc.—and my condition was often very serious.

"Since I took Cardui, I feel better in every way, and grow stronger daily."

The strength-giving properties of Cardui, the woman's tonic, are not due to powerful drugs, but to its gentle, natural, building action. Cardui is not a stimulant, but a mild and effective tonic for women, that through 50 years of success has proven its merit.

Being prepared principally from the extracted medicinal principle of a plant grown in Europe, imported direct by the manufacturers, and combined with other ingredients to form a scientific remedy, Cardui brings results, different from other medicines.

If you suffer from any form of womanly weakness or irregularity, try Cardui. It helps nature to perform a cure in a natural, easy manner.

In every community there are those who have been benefited by Cardui.

Have you tried it? If not, do so, today.

TOBACCO TRUST DISMEMBERING.

Octopus Proceeds to Obey the Supreme Court.

Will Split Up Into Four Separate Companies.

Need Forty Million Dollars to Execute Plans.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The plan for the dissolution of the American Tobacco Company, in compliance with the direction of the United States Supreme Court, decreeing it an illegal combination, officially was made public last night, and will be submitted to the United States Circuit Court of the southern district of New York for approval tomorrow.

The official plan provides for division of the American Tobacco Company into four companies, no one of which, it is stated, will have a controlling influence. The four companies are the present American Tobacco Company, which will continue in its corporate existence; the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company, which is to be reorganized; the C. P. Lorillard Company, also to be reorganized, and the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, an existent corporation.

DISMEMBERING OCTOPUS.

Disintegration is to be brought brought about by selling $115,000,000 of the property of the American Tobacco Company, consisting of factories, brands, business and capital stock of tobacco manufacturing companies now owned and controlled by it, to the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company and the C. P. Lorillard Company for cash and securities of the two vendee companies, and by distributing to common stockholders of the American Tobacco Company two-thirds of the stock of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, now owned by the American Tobacco Company.

The plan also provides for the distribution in the form of dividends of the securities of the various subsidiary companies controlled by the American Tobacco Company, to the American Tobacco Company, common stockholders and the division of some of these subsidiary companies, which were held to be illegal combinations, into separate companies having no interest in each other.

It provides further for radical changes in the voting power of the stock, so that the twenty-nine individual defendants who formerly controlled the American Tobacco Company will surrender this control.

The principal financial feature of the plan is an assessment of the $40,-240,000 common stock of the American Tobacco Company amounting to $36,451,925, or about 91 per cent., which will be used toward the proposed retirement and cancellation of company's existing bonds. For this assessment, however, the common stockholders will receive common stock of the Liggett & Myers and C. P. Lorillard companies.

SUGAR WAR AHEAD.

Chairman of the Beet Men In Denver Makes Reply to John Arbuckle, Coffee Magnate.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

COLORADO SPRINGS (Colo.) Oct. 15.—That the statement of John Arbuckle, New York refiner and coffee magnate, that he will go before Congress next winter to fight for free sugar, is the first gun in a battle between the beet sugar manufacturers and the cane sugar refiners, is the declaration of Clarence C. Hamlin, chairman of the Executive Committee of the United States beet sugar industry, in a statement made public here today.

"The fact of the matter is that beet sugar is the only competitor which these gentlemen have, as from it they can exact no toll and every pound of beet sugar produced means one pound less for them to refine. Their purpose in seeking its destruction is therefore clear."

Hamlin states pointedly that, while the condition of the sugar market this year has been bad from the consumers' point of view, it would have been infinitely worse, but for the 500,000 tons of beet sugar America produces.

"It is this great industry," he says; "the one which Senator Bristow said was the best justification for a protective tariff, that the refiners are seeking to destroy."

SEES A SUFFRAGE TRUST.

Woman Says Unless It Is Busted Mother Will Never Get to Vote in Wisconsin.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) Oct. 15.—Declaring the campaign in Wisconsin for woman suffrage had been retarded by a search for peace and harmony, Mary Swain Wagner, who says she launched the movement in this State, issued a statement today that unless the "suffrage trust was busted" there was no hope of winning suffrage in Wisconsin.

Miss Wagner came to Wisconsin from the East during the session of the last Legislature and worked hard in the interest of woman suffrage. She claims to have been mistreated by the National Association of Women Suffrage, and in turn by the Wisconsin branch of the organization. Notwithstanding this, Miss Wagner said she was determined to fight for the cause, if she had to "go it alone."

"Unless we can bust the suffrage trust, there is little hope of winning suffrage in Wisconsin," she said. "Many women are not aware of the fact that there is a suffrage trust, but my experience during the last year proves it beyond doubt. Neither can we hope for success without the progressive independent method used in Washington and California, and above all, the women must learn to be absolutely honest with themselves and with one another.

"Until we bust the suffrage trust so that every woman in the land feels that she has a right to work, to organize, to speak, to do what she can in her own way, we never can succeed. The most wholesome thing that could happen would be to have fifty independent organizations started in the State tomorrow."

STILL HOLDS ON.

Maj. Colburn Says Gen. Wilder Has Not Displaced Him on the Chickamauga Commission.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHATTANOOGA (Tenn.) Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Maj. W. J. Colburn of this city, secretary and member of the Chattanooga and Chickamauga National Military Park, reported to have recently been displaced by Gen. John T. Wilder, maintains that he has not been dismissed, inasmuch as President Taft suspended the order of his dismissal before the date on which it was to take effect.

Maj. Colburn, on this presumption, declared that Gen. Wilder is not a member of the commission, as he took the oath of office on September 30 and the Presidential ruling was several days before that date.

Among the representations made to Col. Colburn is that the letter from the War Department asking for his resignation was dated August 21, but was not received by him until September 21, the envelope being postmarked September 19.

PLANS TO SAVE U. S. MILLIONS.

Pension Commissioner Would Abolish Vouchers.

Would Simplify Methods of Paying Out Funds.

Charges of Fraud in Rolls Are Disproved.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—A saving estimated at $1,000,000 annually to the pensioners of the United States, and eventually about $580,000 a year to the government is contemplated by a simplified plan for the payment of pensions without vouchers, which Commissioner of Pensions Davenport has submitted to the Secretary of the Interior in his annual report.

During the year, $157,325,160 was paid as pensions, a decrease of $3,498,-154 from last year, making the total amount paid in pensions since the foundation of the government, $4,-230,381,730. There were 55,580 names dropped from the roll and 36,-200 added, leaving a net loss of 28,-985 pensioners. The total number at the end of the year was 892,093, the smallest since 1892. Methods of economy resulted in a decrease of the cost of administration by $140,546, the amount being $2,517,127, the lowest since 1882.

COMMISSIONER'S PLAN.

Commissioner Davenport's plan, which was devised at the request of Congress and which will require the passage of a law, would greatly simplify the methods of paying pensions, result in the making of pension checks on the day upon which the pension falls due, eliminate the cost to the pensioners in a large majority of cases of the execution of pension vouchers, which varies from $1 to $3 yearly; decrease to a considerable extent the work in drawing and mailing pension checks and eliminate the sending of four million letters yearly through the mails, saving about $80,-000 thereby.

The plan contemplates payment direct by checks mailed to the last address of the pensioner. Besides the indorsement on the back of these checks, the government would require certification by two witnesses as to identity. In a few instances, Commissioner Davenport said vouchers still would be required.

PROBE FRAUD CHARGE.

Commissioner Davenport told of his efforts to ascertain the truthfulness of reports in the press and elsewhere that the pension roll was honeycombed with fraud. He sent field men from pensioner to pensioner in the Washington agency, and is now doing the same in the Knoxville agency. Out of a total of 47,187 pensioners seen and questioned, only twenty-six cases of improper pensioning were revealed.

The number of sailors and soldiers on the pension list at the close of the fiscal year was 570,050; dependents and widows, 321,642, and army nurses 406. There were 529,884 survivors of the Civil War, 35,293 having died during the year. It is believed that only about 25 per cent. of the estimated 2,213,365 individuals in the United States service during the Civil War are now living, the death rate of the survivors being now slightly in excess of 6 per cent. yearly.

The last pensioner of the Revolutionary War, Mrs. Phoebe M. Palmeter, daughter of Jonathan Werley, who served in a New Hampshire company, died at Brookfield, N. Y., April 25, 1911, aged 96 years.

Mrs. Brittania Kennon of Washington, D. C., a great grand-daughter of Martha Washington and who died during the year, drew a pension as a widow longer, probably, than any other person in the history of the pension office, having received $50 a month almost sixty-seven years. Mrs. Kennon was a widow of a captain of the United States Steamship Princeton, who was killed February 28, 1844, by the bursting of a cannon on that vessel.

THE HARLAN OBSEQUIES.

Funeral Service For the Supreme Court Justice Will Be Held Tomorrow in a Presbyterian Church.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—"Goodby, I am sorry I kept you all waiting so long." These were the last words of Associate Justice John M. Harlan of the Supreme Court of the United States, who died yesterday.

The body of the famous jurist will be buried in the National Cemetery at Arlington, or at Rock Creek Cemetery, following a service Tuesday in the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, of which he was an active member. The Supreme Court will take formal action on his death tomorrow and adjourn immediately as a mark of respect.

Gossip as to the probable successor of Justice Harlan was resumed today. Some persons believe his successor will come from the Cabinet, Atty.-Gen. Wickersham, Secretary of State Knox and Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel being mentioned.

Among lawyers, Senators Kenyon of Iowa and Borah of Idaho were mentioned. Another group was responsible for the suggestion that there should be another Democrat.

The names thus mentioned were Solicitor-General Lehmann, Lawrence Maxwell of Cincinnati and District Judge Gordon Russell of Texas.

Senator Sutherland of Utah, a leading constitutional lawyer of the Senate, and Judge Francis J. Swayze of New Jersey also figured in the gossip.

Justice Harlan's dissenting opinions were known more widely than those wherein he joined with the majority. Notable among these were his opinions in the Standard Oil and tobacco so-called trust cases, the income tax insular and Knight cases, the last-named involving the so-called sugar trust.

PERMISSION GRANTED.
TO CONTINUE RATE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Permission was granted yesterday by the Interstate Commerce Commission to the Northern Pacific, Great Northern and Southern Pacific railroads to continue to charge through passenger rates in some cases higher than the combined local rates. The railroads claim that rates to the intermediate points often are forced down because of competition from railroads with more direct and shorter routes.

THE DEAN PROTEST.

Denounces Crane's Arraignment of Colleges and Criticizes the Reply Made by College Editor

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dean Byron S. Hurlburt of Harvard, in an article written for the Harvard Crimson, pronounces the statement regarding lax morality at Harvard, made by R. T. Crane, of Chicago, as false. He also severely criticizes the reply to Crane, made by Editor H. K. Moderwell, Harvard '12, in the Harvard monthly. Speaking of Moderwell's article, Dean Hurlburt writes:

"In the sections which he heads the 'Core of the Problem' he is strangely blind, utterly oblivious to man's better nature, and this blindness is the more unfortunate because the unthinking reader, outside the college, the reader who does not know college men, will believe that here again he has the whole truth about them, when in reality he has but a very little part, and that the lowest in the scale. Injury here done colleges by the reply is far greater than that wrought by the attack. To the thoughtful no such harm accrues."

FOR THE MOFFATT ROAD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER, Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A new bond issue of $40,-000,000 for the construction of the Moffatt road westward from Steamboat Springs and to bore the six-mile tunnel under the main range, west of Denver, was voted yesterday at the annual meeting of stockholders.

A portion of the new issue will be used to take up the outstanding bond issue. The capital stock was increased from $20,000,000 to $40,000,000 and an issue of $8,000,000 income bonds bearing 6 per cent. interest, to pay interest only if the dividend is earned, will be voted.

All of the present board and officers were re-elected.

EARTHQUAKE IN SICILY.

Church Is Demolished by the Tremor in Macchia—Much Other Damage Done.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CATANIA, Oct. 15.—An earthquake of brief duration occurred in Sicily today. The strongest shocks were felt at Giarre, at the east base of Mount Etna, Macchia, Guardia, Roudinella and Santa Venerina. At Guardia and Santa Venerina several houses collapsed and two persons were killed. At Macchia a church was demolished. Considerable damage also was done at Roudinella.

WASHINGTON POLICE HOLD A CONNECTICUT WOMAN.

Charged With Stealing a Bracelet They Say They Will Prefer the Charge of Bigamy—Accused Tells Why She Prefers Men of Nutmeg State for Helpmeets.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Roberts-McIlvaine, 24 years old, was arrested in Richmond, Va., yesterday and is at the Washington House of Detention, charged with stealing a $50 bracelet from a local boarding-house keeper. After causing her arrest the local authorities claim to have discovered that she has four living husbands.

The charge of larceny, probably will be superseded by bigamy charges. According to the police she married A. J. Burbank when she was 16 years old. She tired of him within two years and without the formality of a divorce married Charles Tibballs of Cheshire, Ct. This yoke hung heavily and a few months after taking Tibballs for better or worse she married Kenneth Roberts of Ansonia, Ct.

While Roberts was preparing to institute divorce proceedings she came to Washington and married Robert McIlvaine, formerly of Connecticut. The divorce suit is pending. Asked to account for her evident fondness for residents of the Nutmeg State, Mrs. Burbank-Tibballs-Roberts-McIlvaine sighed and said:

"I was born in Connecticut and have always believed that the men of Connecticut were the most honorable in the whole country. I have been fond of them always, but I cannot say anything at this time about these reports."

BRYAN A DOUBTER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ARAPAHOE (Neb.) Oct. 15.—William J. Bryan in an address delivered here made a statement that his hearers interpreted to mean that he now doubts he will ever be President of the United States.

HOOSIERS PREFER BRYAN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Friends of Judson Harmon in this State believe it will be useless to try to deliver any delegates to the Ohio Governor in the race for Presidential nomination and National Committeeman Tom Taggart, who is credited with a desire to have the Hoosier delegation go over to Harmon in the convention, is confronted with a serious situation. The entire situation seems to revolve about William J. Bryan as the hub. While the Indiana Democrats are not inclined to permit Bryan to dictate to them on the Presidential nomination, their regard for the commoner is so high they will not permit the State to go over to a candidate for the Presidency who did not support Bryan when he was a candidate for the Presidency himself.

MINISTER IS NOW RICH.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] From the plain living of a semi-millionaire, the Rev. Richard Garten has been raised by the recent death of his brother-in-law, Mr. Garten, who is 60 years of age, has been supply pastor for a number of small Baptist churches near Alton. The brother-in-law, William Sommers of Los Angeles, left to Mrs. Garten, himself, and her four children his entire estate, valued at $500,-000. The minister said he would be obliged to devote himself for the rest of his life to caring for the property. He accordingly sent letters to the various churches which he had served notifying them he would be obliged to give up ministerial work.

THE KATE CLAXTON CASE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EAST ST. LOUIS (Ill.) Oct. 15.—Judge Vandevanter in City Court yesterday on the plea of Mrs. Charles A. Stevenson, widely known in stage circles long ago as Kate Claxton, set aside the divorce granted to the actor husband of Mrs. Stevenson in the same court in 1901. In his decision Judge Vandevanter said he had found the divorce had been obtained by "false, fraudulent and perjured testimony."

STORM IN INDIANA.

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) Oct. 15.—A tornado which struck Ben Davis, a village near here, last night wrecked thirteen houses and stores, injured four persons, one probably fatally and caused damage estimated at $50,000.

...The music was chiefly Gregorian. ...The decorations were confined to ...the altar. The main altar was ...banked with hundreds of candles and ...flanked with thousands of Bermuda ...lilies.

...The procession, which for im... ...pressiveness probably never has been ...surpassed in this country, were nine ...archbishops and twelve archbishops and ...bishops.

...During the mass, dinner was ...served to the visiting clergy. In re... ...sponse to a toast proposed for Pope ...Pius X, Archbishop Falconio, the papal ...delegate, said that up to the time ...of the present pontiff's election, so... ...licitude was distracted by a ...desire to see reforms and unwholesome ...practices gradually extended and ...that a vastly extended and ...pernicious organization of mod... ...ernism was undermining the ...fundamental truths of the Chris...tian religion and that problems of the highest importance for the welfare of the church and of society were awaiting a speedy solution.

"There was required then," said the archbishop, "a man of apostolic zeal, a man coming from the ranks of the people, who could fully understand their wants and direct the movements of the advancing democracy; a man of Christian courage and of stern determination, able to protect the rights of the church and religious liberty against irreligious legislation and atheism. And God provided the church with such providential man in the person of Pius X, whose energetic action in the administration of the church has been so beneficial to religion."

Archbishop Farley of New York expressed the hope that eventually Cardinal Gibbons would be seated upon the throne of the Vatican.

The cardinal, rising at the end of the dinner, said the prejudices which formerly existed against Catholicism in this country were almost exterminated. He charged the bishops and archbishops around him to garner by the end of another fifty years, one hundred million souls for the Catholic church in this country.

Archbishop Falconio celebrated vespers in the cathedral tonight and the sermon was delivered by Archbishop Blenk of New Orleans.

FINE TEMPLE IS DEDICATED.

LARGE CONGREGATION ATTENDS AT ST. MARK'S.

Liberal Donations Made in Cash and Subscriptions, Which Nearly Obliterates Indebtedness — Outgrowth of Little One-room Structure and Second in City.

St. Mark's English Lutheran Church at Vermont avenue and Thirty-sixth place was dedicated yesterday morning with impressive though simple ceremonies. The congregation and friends crowded the edifice, which was decorated with hundreds of blossoms. It was a day of deep rejoicing in the spiritual progress of the church and the liberal offering taken up, which nearly sufficed to wipe out the indebtedness on the new building.

The pastor, Rev. J. W. Ball was in charge of the services. The sermon was preached by Rev. Herbert J. Weaver, pastor of the First English Lutheran Church.

"The Lord is in His holy temple; let all the earth keep silence before Him," was the text, the leading thought being God's presence in the church and the attitude of the people toward His presence.

"The church," said the speaker, "should be a place where persons can go to become quiet, to give themselves up wholly to the spirit in order that they may carry away with them thoughts of patience, of peace, of strength and gentleness. It should be a house in which the heart may be still and invite the spirit of infinite love, a house in which the word may be preached in purity, and in which the young may be educated in eternal principles, thus fitting them for life on earth and the life in the great hereafter.

"As the beautiful mausoleum, Taj Mahal, was built by the Indian prince to the memory of an undying love, so let us dedicate this temple to the memory of the Prince of Peace, the basis principle of whose life was love."

At the evening service a large congregation heard a sermon by Rev. George H. Hillerman of San Diego. He was in charge of the finances at both morning and evening services, and at these meetings nearly $2000 was given in cash and subscriptions.

St. Mark's is the second English Lutheran church of Los Angeles. It was organized several years ago, and services were held in a little one-room building. The new structure, which is connected with the old edifice, was completed last Friday. At the services yesterday eleven new members were added to the church enrollment.

Thursday evening the pastor and congregation will tender a general reception to the congregations of the neighboring churches.

for a time if we are successful, after which a President and Cabinet will be chosen.

"We are informed that the Japanese Ambassador at Peking has been called into consultation, but for what purpose we do not know. I do not think Japan will interfere, as it would be violating neutrality compacts."

LEADER OF REBELLION IS NOW IN CHICAGO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Dr. Sun Yat Sen, who is favored by the Chinese revolutionists as President of the Republic they hope to establish, is in Chicago. He arrived here late Friday night from Kansas City, Mo.

When found at the headquarters of the Young China Society, whither he had gone to attend a secret meeting, he said he would remain in Chicago several days.

"I can't discuss my plans or tell anything of my movements since I came to Chicago," he said; "perhaps I can give out some information before I leave."

The meeting last night was for the purpose of raising money to aid in carrying on the revolution, and another meeting has been called for tomorrow afternoon, when plans for the organization of the new Chinese government will be formed.

Dr. Sun, according to his friends here, does not fear being assassinated by a royalist agent for the reward of $75,000 that is on his head so much as he does the probability that the American government will take action to prevent him from directing the revolution from this country, should he gain much publicity. For that reason he plans to keep his movements secret.

STATE DEPARTMENT CABLES TO PEKING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Because of the receipt of many telegrams from relatives and friends of American missionaries and business men in China, the State Department yesterday cabled to its representatives to inquire whether it were true that Hankow, where a number of Americans are supposed to have gathered from the neighboring dissatisfied towns, had been burned by the revolutionists. The latest reports from Charge Williams at Peking and Consul-General Greene at Hankow, sent hours after the reports of the destruction of Hankow by fire, made no mention of any such conflagration as would affect the foreign quarter.

That the rebels hold the native cities of Wu Chang, Han Yan and Hankow and that the gunboats of foreign powers are co-operating in protecting foreign subjects, were reported to the Navy Department tonight by Commander Knepper of the gunboat Helena.

CHINESE GOVERNMENT ENFORCES CENSORSHIP.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
PEKING, Oct. 15.—The Chinese government has placed severe restrictions on telegraph lines, evidently for the purpose of preventing communication between the rebels. The telegraph administration refuses to transmit messages either to or from the provinces of Hu Peh, Hunan, Klang Si, Sze chuen, Kwei Chow and Yunan.

On this account, Hankow, where the revolution is at its height, is cut off.

It is not considered possible that the wires have been cut throughout these six provinces. Until lately the revolutionaries, having free use of the wires, received and disseminated information concerning the progress of their plans in all quarters.

The government refuses to reveal the number or the destination of the troops, who are being sent southward. Beginning tomorrow, only a single first-class train will be run daily between Peking and Tientsing Fu, about seventy miles to the southeast of the capital. This is due to a heavy troop traffic and for the purpose of preventing any great number of rebels from coming into Peking. Passenger and freight traffic has been entirely suspended between Peking and Hankow.

So far, the government has refused to permit correspondents to accompany the army. Both sides are anxious to favor foreigners, and it is believed that the government will reconsider this refusal if the imperialists meet with initial success.

The last dispatch received from Hankow said that the revolutionaries had organized a red cross society and had invited the co-operation of the American Episcopal mission. This invitation was accepted provisionally.

WOMEN WILL VOTE IF THE REBELS WIN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
KANSAS CITY (Mo.) Oct. 15.—Women will vote for Presidents, Congressmen and other public officials in China if the revolutionary uprising now disturbing the country is successful, according to the statements made here by K. S. Wong of San Francisco, C. S. Yook and O. W. Jang of Berkeley, Cal. The three are traveling over the country with Dr. Sun Yet Sen, said to be the leader of the revolution, who was in Kansas City for a time Friday, his companions remaining here to discuss the new movement with the Young Chinese here. They left late last night for St. Louis, where they will work for a few days and then join Dr. Sun in Chicago.

C. S. Yook, who is secretary of the Young China Association in this country, while in Kansas City said: "There are three su jects which we use in our lectures about the country: 'Put down the old government,' 'Construct a new government for China, making it a republic,' and 'Be socialistic in your ideals.'"

THOUSANDS DYING OF STARVATION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
VICTORIA (B. C.) Oct. 15.—News was brought by the Empress of Japan that thousands were dying of starvation in Kiang Su, along the Yangtse, following the floods, and the situation was expected to augment greatly the rebellion. Refugees paint a black picture of dire distress.

The whole of the country was under water, the Yangtse having risen to such an extent that it was virtually bounded only by the hills some distance from the banks, corpses were floating everywhere, and famine-stricken refugees were dying daily from disease.

In places the Yangtse was thirty-five miles broad, and floating bodies upon which starving dogs were feeding, were seen in numbers. An officer of one of the river gunboats tells of seeing a number of mutilated corpses in uniform, indicating the fate of some imperial soldiers at the hands of the starving peasantry.

Between 60,000 and 70,000 refugees, probably from Anhui, were clustered at Nanking in the hope of being able to get food and shelter, but their condition was appalling, owing principally to ravages of disease. Cholera was raging among them, and typhus was said to be equally bad, besides other forms of pestilence. The death rate was reported to be between 200 and 300 daily. Food had been sent to them, but it was next to impossible for medical science to do anything.

WANTS GUARANTEE OF EARNEST REFORM.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
LONDON, Oct. 12.—A Shanghai dispatch to a London news agency says Yuan Shi Kai, who was recalled by the government and appointed a Viceroy of Hupeh and Hunan provinces, has declined to accept the appointment unless it is accompanied by imperial guarantees of immediately effective reforms and the enforcement of constitutional measures, such as are demanded by the leaders of the present agitation. The insurgents disclaim the character of revolutionaries. They have styled themselves the "constitutional party," contending that the Constitution granted by the late Emperor has been violated under the existing regime.

The insurgents, says the dispatch, are well organized and the leaders have their forces thoroughly in hand. All looting and lawlessness are mercilessly repressed. The shyness of coin reported from Hankow is due to the rich residents of Hankow having handed over their wealth to the insurgents, who have also commandered all the specie in the banks, for which they have given receipts.

Another dispatch received here from Hankow, purporting to bear the date, Sunday, 11 a.m., says:

"Perfect order is still being maintained here and the foreign concessions are respected by the rebels who occupy the city."

WANT AMERICA TO INITIATE PEACE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
LONDON, Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Sunday Times correspondent at Vienna telegraphs:

"I hear from authoritative sources that Russia is negotiating with Washington about joint proceedings in China. The negotiations are stated to be progressing well. The Russian government is convinced America has parallel interests in the Pacific and that an understanding is most desirable. So Russia has taken the matter up with the American government."

IMPERIAL TROOPS TO ENGAGE THE REBELS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—Imperial troops are en route from Peking to Hankow to engage the revolutionists, according to a cablegram received tonight by the Chung Sai Yat Po, a Chinese daily newspaper here. The message confirmed the report received earlier in the day that the revolution was spreading rapidly. Local Chinese have thus far refrained from any demonstration, although it is admitted that there is a strong revolutionist faction in this city. A mass meeting of revolutionary sympathizers will be held here tomorrow, simultaneously with other meetings of a similar order in several cities in the United States.

Insurgents On the Go.

ST. PAUL (Minn.) Oct. 15.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The Minnesota Insurgent Republican delegation, headed by Senator Moses E. Clapp, left tonight for Chicago, where they say they will fight any movement looking to a delay in the announcement of Senator La Follette's candidacy for the Republican Presidential nomination at the Chicago conference of the National Republican Insurgent League tomorrow. North and and South Dakota Progressives were represented in the delegation.

Where The Land Pays Its Way

Get started on a nice piece of acreage in my Perris Farms, and you'll find your land will "pay its way"—and a whole lot more. Get your land under cultivation. Profits will come quickly—big, handsome, steady profits. You'll live in comfort, enjoying the good things of life—while your rich, productive land is steadily growing in value and you're securing profit enough from your crops to meet all obligations. This is selected land in the famous Perris Valley, located only two miles from the city of Perris, where all city advantages are to be had. Near some of the most profitable ranches in the State. It's fine for alfalfa, corn, sugar beets. It's perfect for potatoes, onions, and other field crops. Apples do splendidly here—as do pears, peaches and apricots. This land costs but $100 to $150 an acre and a valuable water right goes with it. A very little cash starts you and you have four years in which to pay for your property. Come in and get my interesting folder. Let me give you all the facts. If you cannot call at my office conveniently, just write me. Free Excursions.

WHERE IS HOMER LEA?

Now that the long-threatened revolution has broken out in China the question arises, where is Gen. Homer Lea of Los Angeles, who is generally reputed to have started the whole thing going?

A TEXAS IDEA.

A physician in Texas with an idea and the cash to back it is making good in an industry as promising as it is unique. On the premise that wild furs are on the rapid decline this man is crossing domestic sheep with the rarest of Angora goats of the Arabian desert. The result is a Karakul Angora which produces a skin that is worth at least $10 and this leaves the raiser the usual value of his mutton.

LETTERS BY TELEGRAPH.

The Western Union's report for the three months ending September 30 shows that it had the best quarterly revenue for any similar period in ten years. Some of those who comment on this fact give entire credit to the statesmanlike management of President Vail, but the chances are that the introduction and wide popularity of the night and day letter telegram is responsible to some degree for the increase in business.

THE CLEAN UP.

This is the blithe season of the year when the growers of walnuts and other deciduous products are depositing in the banks the financial results of the golden summer just passed. Broad smiles illuminate the faces of said growers. Trips to Europe, new automobiles and the like of that are the topics that now interest them. We know of no man more to be congratulated than he who has pinned his faith on deciduous groves and orchards in sunny, faithful Southern California.

A WHOLESALE REVIVAL.

The president of the Fourth National Bank of New York has been made the chairman of a committee of ninety-seven men who are going to conduct a revival of religion in eighty of the principal cities of the United States. Their plan is to appoint a committee of 100 men in each of these eighty cities, which will give the movement 8000 trained workers. They are to begin their work by compiling far-reaching religious and civic statistics that will cover the spiritual and institutional needs of each of these cities.

CHURCH COLLECTIONS.

Christians whose sense of delicacy has been hurt by the crude manner in which church collections have been carried on during services, or at church doors, will rejoice that one great Christian denomination will abandon the practice in the future. Mgr. Falconi has issued an order forbidding the collection of money at the doors of Catholic churches.

Of course churches must have money. Pastors must live, buildings must be maintained, light and fuel bills and bills for repairs must be paid. But the jingle and rattle of coin in the collection boxes during divine service disturbs the atmosphere of any church. There should be another method for collecting the necessary funds.

FAITH AND GUNS.

The statesmen of Italy recognize the value of sentiment, especially a religious sentiment, in dealing with public affairs. It is not so powerful as it was in the Middle Ages when Peter the Hermit led the mailed knights of Europe against the Saracens in order to rescue the tomb of the Savior from the followers of Mahomet. But it is powerful enough to cause millions of Christians, who otherwise would denounce Italian seizure of Tripoli as the act of a bandit nation, to say: "The end justifies the means." Indeed, Italy has as good a right, morally speaking, to capture Jerusalem and change Turkish mosques into Christian churches, as Turkey had in a former century to capture Constantinople and change Catholic cathedrals into Turkish mosques.

Propagation of a religious faith by missionaries with machine guns is not in strict accordance with the teachings of the Prince of Peace, but it is wholly in harmony with the doctrines and practices of Mahomet. The Turks will have no great cause of complaint if they lose by the sword that which their ancestors gained by the sword.

TRIBULATIONS OF AN ARCHDUKE.

The Austrian heir-presumptive, Archduke Karl Franz Joseph, is announced as engaged to H.R.H. Princess Zita of Parma. Zita is a pretty, charming girl and would make a very presentable Empress; but between her and that honor stands the morganatic wife, Princess Hohenberg, of the young Archduke's father.

The heir-apparent is understood to have made a vow that the disqualification in the Princess' rank which precludes her from becoming his Empress shall be removed, and he is said to bring every endeavor to bear to this end. But the old Emperor is adamant and at present it looks very doubtful whether the lady will be allowed to reign beside him on the Hapsburg throne. So the heir-presumptive is no longer heir-presumptive, since his mother is not officially recognized as existing.

And thus the position of the new fiancee Princess Zita, is somewhat ambiguous—and rather exciting. Either she is wedding a future Emperor, or a bastard. In any case her name will figure prominently in the future history books—and one hardly envies her.

INSULTING SALARIES!

A curious situation has arisen in Great Britain over the first installments of the payment of members of Parliament. Nearly a third of the members declare the money to be an "insult" and some have returned their checks from the Chancellor of the Exchequer with lofty magnificence. Others are handing over their salaries to various charities, while others again are wisely pocketing the money—under protest!

Great Britain was the only country left in the world that did not pay its members of Parliament; and, chiefly for the benefit of the labor contingent, the Liberal government passed the measure to this end three months ago. The Conservatives opposed any such "vulgar" reward for services to the country with great vehemence, the majority of them being landed proprietors or retired business men well able to regard the $2000 a year with indifference. Now that the first quarter's salary has been disbursed, their sensitive souls are recoiling in horror from contact with anything so degrading as parliamentary pay. Their letters to the various newspapers—all Britishers write to the newspapers about everything—make comical reading.

The London Times comes out with a naive article entirely agreeing with the "insulted" members' sentiments, but advising them to merely destroy their checks in a quiet, gentlemanly way and not make such an ostentatious fuss about it. They point out that those members who are grandly handing the money over to charities will unquestionably disburse less from their private purses in that direction, or even if they really continue as charitable as before they are nevertheless getting a good deal of unearned eclat out of these despised salaries. They are likewise setting up class distinction in a most objectionable manner, placing those members who really need the money in a somewhat delicate position. All the same it is good in these greedy days to find a section of men still anxious to serve their country without pay. It is true they can afford to, but even so—well, many men are greedy who can afford not to be.

BIDE A WEE.

Owing to the apathy of one-half of the voters, who did not go to the polls, a majority of the other half abolished representative government and substituted in its place the making and repealing of laws and the recalling of all elective officers, including judges, by direct popular vote. The government of California has, for a time at least, been changed into an ancient Athenian "fierce democracy," and municipal control of public utilities and of all business enterprises which the Legislature may hereafter designate as public utilities will be placed in the hands of a gubernatorial appointee, who cannot be recalled, whose power will be despotic and from whose decisions there will be no appeal.

The friends of these cnanges did not fail to vote for them. The reasonable presumption is that those who did not vote would have voted against them if they had voted at all.

This reserved force of voters, aided by those who voted against the amendments, may, under the operations of the initiative, undo the work of Tuesday last and rescind the Constitutional amendments which deprive municipal boards of their control of public utilities. The fact that this can be done may act as a check upon the newly-created autocrats and prevent them from making a corrupt use of the power given to them.

Those who actively, but vainly, opposed the adoption of the new system of government, and those who passively opposed it by not voting, will await developments. If the victors prove to be just and benevolent despots and do not abuse the vast powers with which they are vested they may be suffered to exercise them without molestation. If they use them to the detriment of the people they may be swept from power by another election called by the initiative process. "Bide a wee."

WHAT IS WASTE?

Conservationists under the lead of Pinchot and Kent and their disciples adopt the Socratic method of argument and ask: "Shall water powers and coal lands be wasted, or shall they be conserved for the benefit of posterity?" The process of "wasting" a water power is not clearly explained or explained at all. The Colorado River, for instance, in its journey from its mountain cradle to its ocean grave furnishes in every mile of its course a water power which, by means of dams, or by siphons such as the government is now constructing at Yuma, will provide enough electric energy to smelt all the ores and run all the railroads and turn all the wheels of factories within a hundred miles or more of its banks. This vast natural force now tumbles into the Gulf of California unused. The only possible way in which to "conserve" it is to harness it and use it. By its use it not only "conserves" itself, but aids to conserve coal and fuel oil by lessening their consumption. Possibly the day is not far distant when science will succeed in seizing and utilizing the electric power that dwells in the ether. Marconi, with his wireless telegraph, has blazed a trail which may any day be turned into a highway.

How can coal fields be wasted? Capitalists will not unduly intrude upon the 400 years' supply of coal that is in sight merely for the fun of piling it up in dumps at the mouth of the pits. Unless they can sell it they will not extract it, and unless they can find somebody to buy it they will not be able to sell it. Every day the consumption of coal in manufacturing establishments and on railroads is diminishing. Formerly the forests were stripped for cord wood, and Mt. Diablo was disemboweled for coal to feed the locomotive engines on the Central and Southern Pacific roads. Now oil has superseded all other fuel. There are hundreds of factories run with natural gas and electricity. The winter fires and the cook stoves of a large proportion of both the mansions and bungalows of our cities, and of the farm homes within five miles of the cities, are supplied with gas or electric juice or gasoline. Our ocean steamers are using fuel oil. Only those localities near coal fields and those to which coal can be sent by water transportation will continue the use of coal. Alaska coal at $5 or $6 a ton would be used extensively in the Pacific Coast cities which are on or near the ocean. But the use of Colorado and Wyoming and New Mexico coal at $12 a ton is growing less every day, and electric heaters, gas ranges and coal oil stoves are putting the glowing grates out of commission.

It's in the Air!

OUR GROWING TRADE SOUTH.

We think, study and write frequently of our trade with Europe and with the Orient, but apparently give but little thought to our great and growing trade with the countries and islands south of us, embracing Mexico, Central and South America, and the West Indian Islands, Porto Rico not included. Our exports to those countries in 1911 fiscal year were (Bureau of Statistics:)

South America	$108,894,894
West Indies (including Cuba)	84,904,072
Mexico	61,281,715
British Honduras	1,562,583
Bermuda	1,357,631
Total exports south in 1911	$258,000,895
Total imports from the south
Increased exports in ten years	$128,000,895
Or a gain in exports of nearly 100 per cent.
Then our imports therefrom in 1911:
South America	$183,623,750
West Indies (including Cuba)	127,527,844
British Honduras	1,184,373
Bermuda	599,516
Total imports from the south in 1911	$370,385,594
Total in 1901	212,000,000
Summary of ten years' increases:
In imports	$158,385,594
In exports	128,000,895
Total trade "south" increase in ten years	$286,386,489

An average trade gain of $28,638,000 a year for ten years.

It must be remembered that far the greater part of our exports "south" consist of that most profitable of all exports—manufactures, high-wages producing manufactures, of which our exports to all countries had a value in 1911 of $900,000,000, or $500,000,000 more than in 1901.

It is also to be borne in mind that our increasing imports from the south consist of tropical and sub-tropical products which we need (and do not raise) for our rapidly growing population, and which do not, therefore, enter into competition with our productions, except as to coffee, which could be profitably raised and sent us by Porto Rico, the Philippines and Hawaii—members of our own family—did we not so foolishly allow Brazilian and other foreign coffees to enter free of duty to the extent of $90,000,000 a year. Brazil gets $66,000,000 of this each year, and does not buy nearly as much of our manufactures or any of our goods as does Argentine, for instance. The old duty of 3 cents a pound should be restored as to foreign coffees and our $90,000,000 a year (or most of it) coffee money go to the three outside members named of our own family.

THE SHOW-DOWN.

Probably no nation ever found the spotlight of publicity more searching than does Germany at present. The allegation that the Mannesman brothers and the Krupps wanted the iron of Morocco, even at the cost of war, coupled with the fact that the socialists of Berlin held a great mass meeting at which they announced a refusal to fight for any such purpose, has made so much noise in Germany that everybody in general has been taking a squint at conditions over there. America's interest in German affairs lies in the situation that the bankers of Berlin are the chief owners of every railroad and every electric power company of consequence in South America. They have fairly gobbled every good investment of the Latin republics which would naturally seem to be a legitimate field for American enterprise. The English find that their German cousins are operating on a wholesale scale in Egypt, Africa, China and Ceylon. France is the one nation which seems to have anything on Germany in the financial argument, since its banks have been able to force the banks of Berlin, at much inconvenience, to pay several huge loans. There is no objection to private German enterprise buying anything which may look good, but if the private German citizen is to be called on to back the German banks in a purely financial war the German business acumen will find that it has over-reached itself.

HONEST WORK FOR HONEST MEN.

[Portland Oregonian:] The Oregonian has no purpose of prejudicing in any way the hearing before Judge Galloway over the State University referendum petitions. The petitions are admitted on all sides to be foul with fraudulent names, bogus signatures, false handwritings. The extent of the perjuries, falsehoods and forgeries appears to be not open to controversy, except that the one side says there are enough authentic names to render the petitions valid, and the other side insists that nearly all the petitions are so tainted by fictitious signatures and faulty affidavits that they should be rejected. A summary of the situation as it stands was stated in a striking manner by a correspondent of the Oregonian yesterday:

"It may interest Oregonian readers to know that of nearly 14,000 names on the university petitions all but about 2000 were secured by Portland circulators. Of these about 6000 were secured by six men who have suddenly left the State, two who cannot be located, one who admitted that he made his affidavit under an assumed name, and another whose testimony is of itself sufficient to send him to the penitentiary. These men have testified that they have written hundreds of names in the petitions, scores of reputable citizens have sworn that their signatures have been forged, proof has been made of the writing in the names of citizens who have been dead for years, women have testified that circulators wrote in the names of the husbands, brothers and sons-in-law, and yet there are still remaining hundreds of cases equally suspicious that cannot be investigated with the limited funds at hand."

Without declaring that the university has made out a case against these petitions, the Oregonian does not hesitate to say that enough has been shown through this hearing to constitute an unanswerable indictment against the whole practice and method of petition-making and signature-chasing. Payment of a stipulated sum per name or per day to professional or amateur petition-circulators ought to be made a crime. It is debasing and wrong. It makes the referendum an instrument of corruption and malice.

Anyone or any interest willing to pay the price can hold up any legislative bill, however meritorious and however much needed or desired by the public.

Who will venture to jeopardize the general faith in his proper or disinterested motives by supporting the present methods under the present system? Who will say that honest men, acting from high motives, are not the ones, and the only ones, to whom should be intrusted the function of procuring petitions to invoke a referendum on any legislative act?

Recent experiments have shown that aluminum and manganese play an important part in the growth of vegetation. Prof. Stoklasa of Prague concludes that these elements possess a special function in the process of assimilation, and his experiments have shown that it is the leaves which contain the greatest quantities of them. Gabriel Bertrand has shown that vegetable production can be increased by adding manganese to the nutrition. All vegetables that contain a certain quantity of manganese always contain aluminum also. It has been found that hops, especially, need these elements in order to prosper, and in Bohemia a preparation of mangano-superphosphate is employed to improve the quality of hops.

UNCLE WALT.

The Poet Philosopher.

Aunt Sarah is a suffrage dame, and she has more than local fame. She walks much like a grenadier, and wears her bonnet on her ear. She paws around like everything, and makes the weary welkin ring. When she comes near I give a whoop and most adroitly jump the coop, for she is wearing on the nerves; I can't appreciate her curves. She only has one thought, one dream; for her there's but one vital theme, one subject that will hit the spot—and that's her suffrage tommyrot. She may be great and good and wise, but when it comes to making pies or mixing up a Charlotte Russe, my good Aunt Sarah is a goose. Aunt Jenny stays at home and makes the finest pies, the smoothest cakes! She says she never understood the ranting, shrieking sisterhood. She has a pleasant, gentle face; she makes her home a lovely place. And when she looks into our eyes, and sees the love that in them lies, she doesn't hanker for those rights for which the dames sit up at nights. "While all the folks at home love me, I've all the rights I want," says she.

WALT MASON.

(Copyright, 1911, by George Matthew Adams.)

IN DEFENSE OF THE ELDERLY MAN.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

Yes, a lot of things improve with age, and the lord of creation is certainly one of them.

In his early stages he is as bad as the newest wines or the newest wood—and conversationally insufferable!

Youth, especially in America, is a good deal over-rated. As a matter of fact, there are very few men worth talking to under 40 years of age, and the ideal stage would appear to be reached at about 50.

By that time the lord of creation has become mellowed; his cocksure attitude toward life has become modified; his interests extend to a somewhat wider circle than is encompassed by "Me;" and by that time also a woman can generally enjoy a rational conversation with him without being suspected of ulterior designs.

The middle-aged and elderly man has a greater understanding, a more kindly tolerance for human weakness; and a capacity for friendship of which the young man is rarely capable. He no longer has definite and pronounced opinions upon every subject under the sun. He no longer knows woman in all her moods as your young man of 30 to 35 is wont to do. He no longer divides the world into arbitrary sections. And condemnation and hero-worship are equally abhorrent to his keen perception.

The middle-aged man can be a friend to a woman. The young man only wants a woman to be a friend to him! It makes all the difference in the world.

Of the very young man, up to 25, one has no criticism. One does not criticise the babble of infants, for we all know they must be given time to grow. But between that age and 35 what an impossible creature he can be! He has come to pronounced and definite conclusions upon every subject. His whole attitude is one of intolerant arrogance which he backs up with the most painfully elementary views and an egotism that cannot be equaled in any other species. His overbearing manner, combined with his pathetically circumscribed knowledge, makes women of his own age regard him with bewildered exasperation. The women that fall in love with him are generally a good deal younger than himself and not very discerning, or else they are wise enough to know that in a little while he will grow out of it.

If the young man confides in you—which, alas, he frequently does—he has the air of doing you a favor, and the appalling amount of sympathy he exacts from his friends is only equaled by the amount he fails to reciprocate.

But when the middle-aged man confides in you it is a rare sign of friendship—a confidence that invites your own, a confidence generally to assist you in overcoming some difficulty in your own affairs. It is, in fact, the confidence of friendship, and not the confidence that demands superabundant and exhausting sympathy on your part.

The middle-aged man has begun to realize that the world holds other souls besides his own; that they, too, have their sensitive feelings, their little problems, their little temptations, their little weaknesses. He has begun to feel some slight doubts as to his own superiority—perhaps he has failed just once or twice, the blessed little failures that make men kind.

He becomes conversationally possible after 40, and women find they can enjoy a talk with him without the grave suspicion that always lurks in the mind of the young man that they are losing their heads and hearts over his attractive personality.

The young lawyer, for instance. Did you ever see such swagger? Such an assumption of erudition and such flamboyant bosiness! And what a well of comfort when the lawyer is a quiet, well informed elderly man. All our irritation passes and we feel at once that the case is safe in his hands.

The young doctor is terrifying. Full to the brim with what he regards as the very latest, and, therefore, of course, the very best methods of slicing up the human anatomy, he has a way of pronouncing upon your case with an air of finality that makes one shudder. He treats every case from the youthful ambitious point of view, the know-it-all standpoint—and the Lord have mercy on his victims! But the elderly doctor, how different! He knows that because a thing is new it is not necessarily right. He knows, too, that patients have a strange yearning to retain their limbs and their "innards" as long as possible, and he is not above a little kindly investigation before hurling his ultimatum forth. He has generally had time, also, to suffer a little himself, perhaps—and there is nothing like personal experience in such cases. But our young doctor, sound in wind and limb, buoyant in the arrogance of youth, cannot and does not understand these things.

The young dentist—ugh! What a fiend incarnate! None but the kindest, gentlest age should be allowed to engage in this profession. In fact, a very little thought will convince one that lawyers, doctors, dentists and oculists should not be allowed to graduate under 40.

Young men ought to be soldiers and fortune tellers, in that way they could work off their bloodthirsty and know-it-all aspirations, without doing any material damage in the world. As it is, the young man is the greatest bar to progress—it makes progress seem so unpleasant.

Indeed, were it not for the elder men there would be no progress. The young man, in his impulsive unwisdom, takes up every new invention and extols and overpraises it until its real merits are clouded, and it is always left to the older man to rescue it and put it to scientific use. One finds that all the really great men have not attained greatness until after 40—Lord Kelvin, Edison, and a particularly shining example, the late King Edward. And, perhaps, the German Emperor.

Particularly is this true in political life. It is a wise world that makes it almost impossible for a statesman to attain power until middle age. A glaring instance of this is seen in the labor leader, John Burns in England. As a young man he was an irresponsible firebrand to whom no man gave serious attention. Today, in his maturity, he is one of the most respected members of the British government, and one of the most cautious. England is amazed to hear John Burns raise his voice in warning against the excesses of labor unionites—yet it is the most reasonable thing that could have happened. John Burns has now passed middle age, his edges have become rounded off, his opinions considered and matured. Responsibilities and failures have been his—and thus he is one of the wisest men in England today.

The Play.

Hartman's entrance-song, yesterday, at the Grand original affair, fashioned to the comedian's needs. journeyings up and down, stops of varying intensity horribility, from San Diego and each verse ended with jingle that "Each October home again."

ich is perfectly true, and true, but well established as Therefore the Grand, which carrying fortunes in Hartman, had no empty seats yesterday afternoon, and the welcome was as ever, even though the cast of the company has changed.

show was "Marcelle," as stated, and "Marcelle" is a delightful three-act comedy, proving a most delightful reunion.

Billy Dudley, a notable "find" of Hartman's last season, was as comic as before.

Vaudeville goers all know "Billy" Dingwall. Some time back, he was heard by Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew. His reappearance last night at the Bank Theater, this time in a three-act comedy, proved a delightful reunion.

WHERE IS HOMER LEA?

Now that the long-threatened revolution has broken out in China the question arises, where is Gen. Homer Lea of Los Angeles, who is generally reputed to have started the whole thing going?

A TEXAS IDEA.

A physician in Texas with an idea and the cash to back it is making good in an industry as promising as it is unique. On the premise that wild furs are on the rapid decline this man is crossing domestic sheep with the rarest of Angora goats of the Arabian desert. The result is a Karakul Angora which produces a skin that is worth at least $10 and this leaves the raiser the usual value of his mutton.

LETTERS BY TELEGRAPH.

The Western Union's report for the three months ending September 30 shows that it had the best quarterly revenue for any similar period in ten years. Some of those who comment on this fact give entire credit to the statesmanlike management of President Vail, but the chances are that the introduction and wide popularity of the night and day letter telegram is responsible to some degree for the increase in business.

THE CLEAN UP.

This is the blithe season of the year when the growers of walnuts and other deciduous products are depositing in the banks the financial results of the golden summer just passed. Broad smiles illuminate the faces of said growers. Trips to Europe, new automobiles and the like of that are the topics that now interest them. We know of no man more to be congratulated than he who has pinned his faith on deciduous groves and orchards in sunny, faithful Southern California.

A WHOLESALE REVIVAL.

The president of the Fourth National Bank of New York has been made the chairman of a committee of ninety-seven men who are going to conduct a revival of religion in eighty of the principal cities of the United States. Their plan is to appoint a committee of 100 men in each of these eighty cities, which will give the movement 8000 trained workers. They are to begin their work by compiling far-reaching religious and civic statistics that will cover the spiritual and institutional needs of each of these cities.

CHURCH COLLECTIONS.

Christians whose sense of delicacy has been hurt by the crude manner in which church collections have been carried on during services, or at church doors, will rejoice that one great Christian denomination will abandon the practice in the future. Mgr. Falconi has issued an order forbidding the collection of money at the doors of Catholic churches.

Of course churches must have money. Pastors must live, buildings must be maintained, light and fuel bills and bills for repairs must be paid. But the jingle and rattle of coin in the collection boxes during divine service disturbs the atmosphere of any church. There should be another method for collecting the necessary funds.

FAITH AND GUNS.

The statesmen of Italy recognize the value of sentiment, especially a religious sentiment, in dealing with public affairs. It is not so powerful as it was in the Middle Ages when Peter the Hermit led the mailed knights of Europe against the Saracens in order to rescue the tomb of the Savior from the followers of Mahomet. But it is, powerful enough to cause millions of Christians, who otherwise would denounce Italian seizure of Tripoli as the act of a bandit nation, to say: "The end justifies the means." Indeed, Italy has as good a right, morally speaking, to capture Jerusalem and change Turkish mosques into Christian churches, as Turkey had in a former century to capture Constantinople and change Catholic cathedrals into Turkish mosques.

Propagation of a religious faith by missionaries with machine guns is not in strict accordance with the teachings of the Prince of Peace, but it is wholly in harmony with the doctrines and practices of Mahomet. The Turks will have no great cause of complaint if they lose by the sword that which their ancestors gained by the sword.

TRIBULATIONS OF AN ARCHDUKE.

The Austrian heir-presumptive, Archduke Karl Franz Joseph, is announced as engaged to H.R.H. Princess Zita of Parma. Zita is a pretty, charming girl and would make a very presentable Empress; but between her and that honor stands the morganatic wife, Princess Hohenberg, of the young Archduke's father.

The heir-apparent is understood to have made a vow that the disqualification in the Princess' rank which precludes her from becoming his Empress shall be removed, and he is said to bring every endeavor to bear to this end. But the old Emperor is adamant and at present it looks very doubtful whether the lady will be allowed to reign beside him on the Hapsburg throne. So the heir-presumptive is no longer heir-presumptive, since his mother is not officially recognized as existing.

And thus the position of the new fiancee Princess Zita, is somewhat ambiguous—and rather exciting. Either she is wedding a future Emperor, or a bastard. In any case her name will figure prominently in the future history books—and one hardly envies her.

INSULTING SALARIES!

A curious situation has arisen in Great Britain over the first installments of the payment of members of Parliament. Nearly a third of the members declare the money to be an "insult" and some have returned their checks from the Chancellor of the Exchequer with lofty magnificence. Others are handing over their salaries to various charities, while others again are wisely pocketing the money—under protest!

Great Britain was the only country left in the world that did not pay its members of Parliament; and, chiefly for the benefit of the labor contingent, the Liberal government passed the measure to this end three months ago. The Conservatives opposed any such "vulgar" reward for services to the country with great vehemence, the majority of them being landed proprietors or retired business men well able to regard the $2000 a year with indifference. Now that the first quarter's salary has been disbursed, their sensitive souls are recoiling in horror from contact with anything so degrading as parliamentary pay. Their letters to the various newspapers—all Britishers write to the newspapers about everything—make comical reading.

The London Times comes out with a naive article entirely agreeing with the "insulted" members' sentiments, but advising them to merely destroy their checks in a quiet, gentlemanly way and not make such an ostentatious fuss about it. They point out that those members who are grandly handing the money over to charities will unquestionably disburse less from their private purses in that direction, or even if they really continue as charitable as before they are nevertheless getting a good deal of unearned eclat out of these despised salaries. They are likewise setting up class distinction in a most objectionable manner, placing those members who really need the money in a somewhat delicate position. All the same it is good in these greedy days to find a section of men still anxious to serve their country without pay. It is true they can afford to, but even so—well, many men are greedy who can afford not to be.

BIDE A WEE.

Owing to the apathy of one-half of the voters, who did not go to the polls, a majority of the other half abolished representative government and substituted in its place the making and repealing of laws and the recalling of all elective officers, including judges, by direct popular vote. The government of California has, for a time at least, been changed into an ancient Athenian "fierce democracy," and municipal control of public utilities and of all business enterprises which the Legislature may hereafter designate as public utilities will be placed in the hands of a gubernatorial appointee, who cannot be recalled, whose power will be despotic and from whose decisions there will be no appeal.

The friends of these changes did not fail to vote for them. The reasonable presumption is that those who did not vote would have voted against them if they had voted at all.

This reserved force of voters, aided by those who voted against the amendments, may, under the operations of the initiative, undo the work of Tuesday last and rescind the Constitutional amendments which deprive municipal boards of their control of public utilities. The fact that this can be done may act as a check upon the newly-created autocrats and prevent them from making a corrupt use of the power given to them.

Those who actively, but vainly, opposed the adoption of the new system of government, and those who passively opposed it by not voting, will await developments. If the victors prove to be just and benevolent despots and do not abuse the vast powers with which they are vested they may be suffered to exercise them without molestation. If they use them to the detriment of the people they may be swept from power by another election called by the initiative process. "Bide a wee."

WHAT IS WASTE?

Conservationists under the lead of Pinchot and Kent and their disciples adopt the Socratic method of argument and ask: "Shall water powers and coal lands be wasted, or shall they be conserved for the benefit of posterity?" The process of "wasting" a water power is not clearly explained or explained at all. The Colorado River, for instance, in its journey from its mountain cradle to its ocean grave furnishes in every mile of its course a water power which, by means of dams, or by siphons such as the government is now constructing at Yuma, will provide enough electric energy to smelt all the ores and run all the railroads and turn all the wheels of factories within a hundred miles or more of its banks. This vast natural force now tumbles into the Gulf of California unused. The only possible way in which to "conserve" it is to harness it and use it. By its use it not only "conserves" itself, but aids to conserve coal and fuel oil by lessening their consumption. Possibly the day is not far distant when science will succeed in seizing and utilizing the electric power that dwells in the ether. Marconi, with his wireless telegraph, has blazed a trail which may any day be turned into a highway.

How can coal fields be wasted? Capitalists will not unduly intrude upon the 400 years' supply of coal that is in sight merely for the fun of piling it up in dumps at the mouth of the pits. Unless they can sell it they will not extract it, and unless they can find somebody to buy it they will not be able to sell it. Every day the consumption of coal in manufacturing establishments and on railroads is diminishing. Formerly the forests were stripped for cord wood, and Mt. Diablo was disemboweled for coal to feed the locomotive engines on the Central and Southern Pacific roads. Now oil has superseded all other fuel. There are hundreds of factories run with natural gas and electricity. The winter fires and the cook stoves of a large proportion of both the mansions and bungalows of our cities, and of the farm homes within five miles of the cities, are supplied with gas or electric juice or gasoline. Our ocean steamers are using fuel oil. Only those localities near coal fields and those to which coal can be sent by water transportation will continue the use of coal. Alaska coal at $5 or $6 a ton would be used extensively in the Pacific Coast cities which are on or near the ocean. But the use of Colorado and Wyoming and New Mexico coal at $12 a ton is growing less every day, and electric heaters, gas ranges and coal oil stoves are putting the glowing grates out of commission.

OUR GROWING TRADE SOUTH.

We think, study and write frequently of our trade with Europe and with the Orient, but apparently give but little thought to our great and growing trade with the countries and islands south of us, embracing Mexico, Central and South America, and the West Indian Islands, Porto Rico not included. Our exports to those countries in 1911 fiscal year were (Bureau of Statistics:)

South America	$108,894,894
West Indies (including Cuba)	84,904,072
Mexico	61,281,715
British Honduras	1,562,583
Total exports south in 1911	$258,000,895
Total imports from the south
Or a gain in exports of nearly 100 per cent.
Then our imports therefrom in 1911:
South America	$183,623,750
West Indies (including Cuba)	127,527,844
British Honduras	1,184,373
Bermuda	599,516
Summary of ten years' increases:
In imports	$158,385,594
Total trade "south" increase in ten years	$286,386,489

An average trade gain of $28,638,000 a year for ten years.

It must be remembered that far the greater part of our exports "south" consist of that most profitable of all exports—manufactures, high-wages producing manufactures, of which our exports to all countries had a value in 1911 of $900,000,000, or $500,000,000 more than in 1901.

It is also to be borne in mind that our increasing imports from the south consist of tropical and sub-tropical products which we need (and do not raise) for our rapidly growing population, and which do not, therefore, enter into competition with our productions, except as to coffee, which could be profitably raised and sent us by Porto Rico, the Philippines and Hawaii—members of our own family—did we not so foolishly allow Brazilian and other foreign coffees to enter free of duty to the extent of $90,000,000 a year. Brazil gets $66,000,000 of this each year, and does not buy nearly as much of our manufactures or any of our goods as does Argentine, for instance. The old duty of 3 cents a pound should be restored as to foreign coffees and our $90,000,000 a year (or most of it) coffee money go to the three outside members named of our own family.

THE SHOW-DOWN.

Probably no nation ever found the spotlight of publicity more searching than does Germany at present. The allegation that the Mannesman brothers and the Krupps wanted the iron of Morocco, even at the cost of war, coupled with the fact that the socialists of Berlin held a great mass meeting at which they announced a refusal to fight for any such purpose, has made so much noise in Germany that everybody in general has been taking a squint at conditions over there. America's interest in German affairs lies in the situation that the bankers of Berlin are the chief owners of every railroad and every electric power company of consequence in South America. They have fairly gobbled every good investment of the Latin republics which would naturally seem to be a legitimate field for American enterprise. The English find that their German cousins are operating on a wholesale scale in Egypt, Africa, China and Ceylon. France is the one nation which seems to have anything on Germany in the financial argument, since its banks have been able to force the banks of Berlin, at much inconvenience, to pay several huge loans. There is no objection to private German enterprise buying anything which may look good, but if the private German citizen is to be called on to back the German banks in a purely financial war the German business acumen will find that it has over-reached itself.

HONEST WORK FOR HONEST MEN.

[Portland Oregonian:] The Oregonian has no purpose of prejudicing in any way the hearing before Judge Galloway over the State University referendum petitions. The petitions are admitted on all sides to be foul with fraudulent names, bogus signatures, false handwritings. The extent of the perjuries, falsehoods and forgeries appears to be not open to controversy, except that the one side says there are enough authentic names to render the petitions valid, and the other side insists that nearly all the petitions are so tainted by fictitious signatures and faulty affidavits that they should be rejected. A summary of the situation as it stands was stated in a striking manner by a correspondent of the Oregonian yesterday:

"It may interest Oregonian readers to know that of nearly 14,000 names on the university petitions all but about 2000 were secured by Portland circulators. Of these about 6000 were secured by six men who have suddenly left the State, two who cannot be located, one who admitted that he made his affidavit under an assumed name, and another whose testimony is of itself sufficient to send him to the penitentiary. These men have testified that they have written hundreds of names in the petitions, scores of reputable citizens have sworn that their signatures have been forged, proof has been made of the writing in the names of citizens who have been dead for years, women have testified that circulators wrote in the names of the husbands, brothers and sons-in-law, and yet there are still remaining hundreds of cases equally suspicious that cannot be investigated with the limited funds at hand."

Without declaring that the university has made out a case against these petitions, the Oregonian does not hesitate to say that enough has been shown through this hearing to constitute an unanswerable indictment against the whole practice and method of petition-making and signature-chasing. Payment of a stipulated sum per name or per day to professional or amateur petition-circulators ought to be made a crime. It is debasing and wrong. It makes the referendum an instrument of corruption and malice.

Anyone or any interest willing to pay the price can hold up any legislative bill, however meritorious and however much needed or desired by the public.

Who will venture to jeopardize the general faith in his proper or disinterested motives by supporting the present methods under the present system? Who will say that honest men, acting from high motives, are not the ones, and the only ones, to whom should be intrusted the function of procuring petitions to invoke a referendum on any legislative act?

Recent experiments have shown that aluminum and manganese play an important part in the growth of vegetation. Prof. Stoklasa of Prague concludes that these elements possess a special function in the process of assimilation, and his experiments have shown that it is the leaves which contain the greatest quantities of them. Gabriel Bertrand has shown that vegetable production can be increased by adding manganese to the nutrition. All vegetables that contain a certain quantity of manganese always contain aluminum also. It has been found that hops, especially, need these elements in order to prosper, and in Bohemia a preparation of mangano-superphosphate is employed to improve the quality of hops.

UNCLE WALT.

The Poet Philosopher.

Aunt Sarah is a suffrage dame, and she has more than local fame. She walks much like a grenadier, and wears her bonnet on her ear. She paws around like everything, and makes the weary welkin ring. When she comes near I give a whoop and most adroitly jump the coop, for she is wearing on the nerves; I can't appreciate her curves. She only has one thought, one dream; for her there's but one vital theme, one subject that will hit the spot—and that's her suffrage tommyrot. She may be great and good and wise, but when it comes to making pies or mixing up a Charlotte Russe, my good Aunt Sarah is a goose. Aunt Jenny stays at home and makes the finest pies, the smoothest cakes! She says she never understood the ranting, shrieking sisterhood. She has a pleasant, gentle face; she makes her home a lovely place. And when she looks into our eyes, and sees the love that in them lies, she doesn't hanker for those rights for which the dames sit up at nights. "While all the folks at home love me, I've all the rights I want," says she.

WALT MASON.

(Copyright, 1911, by George Matthew Adams.)

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

Yes, a lot of things improve with age, and the lord of creation is certainly one of them.

In his early stages he is as bad as the newest wines or the newest wood—and conversationally insufferable!

Youth, especially in America, is a good deal over-rated. As a matter of fact, there are very few men worth talking to under 40 years of age, and the ideal stage would appear to be reached at about 50.

By that time the lord of creation has become mellowed; his cocksure attitude toward life has become modified; his interests extend to a somewhat wider circle than is encompassed by "Me;" and by that time also a woman can generally enjoy a rational conversation with him without being suspected of ulterior designs.

The middle-aged and elderly man has a greater understanding, a more kindly tolerance for human weakness; and a capacity, for friendship of which the young man is rarely capable. He no longer has definite and pronounced opinions upon every subject under the sun. He no longer knows woman in all her moods as your young man of 30 to 35 is wont to do. He no longer divides the world into arbitrary sections. And condemnation and hero-worship are equally abhorrent to his keen perception.

The middle-aged man can be a friend to a woman. The young man only wants a woman to be a friend to him! It makes all the difference in the world.

Of the very young man, up to 25, one has no criticism. One does not criticise the babble of infants, for we all know they must be given time to grow. But between that age and 35 what an impossible creature he can be! He has come to pronounced and definite conclusions upon every subject. His whole attitude is one of intolerant arrogance which he backs up with the most painfully elementary views and an egotism that cannot be equaled in any other species. His overbearing manner, combined with his pathetically circumscribed knowledge, makes women of his own age regard him with bewildered exasperation. The women that fall in love with him are generally a good deal younger than himself and not very discerning, or else they are wise enough to know that in a little while he will grow out of it.

If the young man confides in you—which, alas, he frequently does—he has the air of doing you a favor, and the appalling amount of sympathy he exacts from his friends is only equaled by the amount he fails to reciprocate.

But when the middle-aged man confides in you it is a rare sign of friendship—a confidence that invites your own, a confidence generally to assist you in overcoming some difficulty in your own affairs. It is, in fact, the confidence of friendship, and not the confidence that demands superabundant and exhausting sympathy on your part.

The middle-aged man has begun to realize that the world holds other souls besides his own; that they, too, have their sensitive feelings, their little problems, their little temptations, their little weaknesses. He has begun to feel some slight doubts as to his own superiority—perhaps he has failed just once or twice, the blessed little failures that make men kind.

He becomes conversationally possible after 40, and women find they can enjoy a talk with him without the grave suspicion that always lurks in the mind of the young man that they are losing their heads and hearts over his attractive personality.

The young lawyer, for instance. Did you ever see such swagger? Such an assumption of erudition and such flamboyant bosiness! And what a well of comfort when the lawyer is a quiet, well informed elderly man. All our irritation passes and we feel at once that the case is safe in his hands.

The young doctor is terrifying. Full to the brim with what he regards as the very latest, and, therefore, of course, the very best methods of slicing up the human anatomy, he has a way of pronouncing upon your case with an air of finality that makes one shudder. He treats every case from the youthful ambitious point of view, the know-it-all standpoint—and the Lord have mercy on his victims! But the elderly doctor, how different! He knows that because a thing is new it is not necessarily right. He knows, too, that patients have a strange yearning to retain their limbs and their "innards" as long as possible, and he is not above a little kindly investigation before hurling his ultimatum forth. He has generally had time, also, to suffer a little himself, perhaps—and there is nothing like personal experience in such cases. But our young doctor, sound in wind and limb, buoyant in the arrogance of youth, cannot and does not understand these things.

The young dentist—ugh! What a fiend incarnate! None but the kindest, gentlest age should be allowed to engage in this profession. In fact, a very little thought will convince one that lawyers, doctors, dentists and oculists should not be allowed to graduate under 40.

Young men ought to be soldiers and fortune tellers. In that way they could work off their bloodthirsty and know-it-all aspirations, without doing any material damage in the world. As it is, the young man is the greatest bar to progress—it makes progress seem so unpleasant.

Indeed, were it not for the elder men there would be no progress. The young man, in his impulsive unwisdom, takes up every new invention and extols and overpraises it until its real merits are clouded, and it is always left to the older man to rescue it and put it to scientific use. One finds that all the really great men have not attained greatness until after 40—Lord Kelvin, Edison, and a particularly shining example, the late King Edward. And, perhaps, the German Emperor.

Particularly is this true in political life. It is a wise world that makes it almost impossible for a statesman to attain power until middle age. A glaring instance of this is seen in the labor leader, John Burns in England. As a young man he was an irresponsible firebrand to whom no man gave serious attention. Today, in his maturity, he is one of the most respected members of the British government, and one of the most cautious. England is amazed to hear John Burns raise his voice in warning against the excesses of labor unionites—yet it is the most reasonable thing that could have happened. John Burns has now passed middle age, his edges have become rounded off, his opinions considered and matured. Responsibilities and failures have been his—and thus he is one of the wisest men in England today.

The Play.

GWALL STAR OF MARCELLE.

ART WELCOME HOME IS GIVEN THE HARTMANS.

Woman Repeating His Wonderful Character Study of Hiram Green at the Majestic—Lyceum Has Finer Season With "The Boss"—"Billy" at Burbank.

BY JULIAN JOHNSON.

Hartman's entrance-song, in "Billy," yesterday, at the Grand, was an original affair, fashioned especially for the comedian's needs. It told of journeyings up and down the land, drops of varying intensity and quality, from San Diego to Portland, each verse ended with the same jingle that "Each October I come home again."

This is perfectly true, and not only true, but well established as a habit. Besides the Grand, which has been adding fortunes in Hartman's name, it had no empty seats yesterday afternoon, and the welcome was as hearty, as clear, even though the personnel of the company has changed considerably.

Last year was "Marcelle," as has been noted, and "Marcelle" is a better all-round vaudeville composition. Most of the old friends, Finley and Luders, Ward and Vokes, have not been improved upon, while Hartman has not been seen so much on the stage of late. A new and talented star of the entertainment was Myrtle Dingwall. Little Miss Dingwall comes back from San Francisco with her aeolian voice as clear and crystal-fragile as ever, with her sense of roguish, and with her superb little figure even more fully developed and as fascinating as it was on the day in which she first won Tom Toy. Miss Myrtle plays the 19-year-old girl as well as the 19-year-old lad she was before.

Hartman as an impoverished Baron made the characteristic sunny comedy, in which geniality was the predominating note. Miss Fogarty, in a character role for which nature, was accorded a hearty welcome.

Miss Thomas made his debut as a prosperous-appearing German, and scored a popular success.

Billy Dudley, a notable "hit" in Hartman's last season, was as funny as before.

Miss Palmer, a soprano of blond beauty, pleased with her singing, as did the pretty sister of Miss Stitch, the pretty sister of Miss Stitch, who showed a bit in a soubrette's part, and several others held down their parts with success varying according to their talents and experience.

Adolf Buechler is musical director.

The German choral contingent, although with this actor-manager, seems to be still in the process. There is a superb chorus of little pony girls, but of the old-fashioned show-girl class. It has said the better. This is one of its faults, of course.

There were the usual shouts of acclaim, the usual flowers, the usual speeches, the usual bright new costumes and in the orchestra a supplement of musicians manifesting a managerial inclination to the production.

Manager Kavanaugh has a red velvet carpet in the lobby.

Those fiers all know "Billy" and some time back, he was in vaudeville via a vaudeville appearance last night at Hyde's Theater, this time in a three-act comedy, proved a welcome reunion.

Those who don't know Billy before, have a point to get acquainted with him, and found him an altogether delightful fellow.

Besides the loss of his tombstone possibility of losing his job, and his efforts to get that from her, with the result that "fair lady" thinks he is in all serious to the rah rah football hero, but it was great fun for the audience, which was quick to appreciate the joke and couldn't, for an instant, feel sympathetic.

Henry Stockbridge makes just the right kind of a Billy, too, and his efforts to say Beatrice, and his threats to "think the thing" furnish no end of fun, which is ably abetted by Grace Travers, who presents Billy's sister.

Nana Bryant is Beatrice Stone, the girl in the case. She has caught on splendidly with Burbank audiences, and makes an adorable sweetheart.

Of course, there are others in the cast; James Corrigan and Jack Belgrave, for example, who have a little bit, as boatswain and sailor, which is to their credit, and Charles Ruggles, as Sam Eustace, rival for Beatrice's hand is capital in the scene in which he puts it all over Billy while the latter is temporarily shelved on account of his missing molars.

As a vaudeville sketch "Billy" was a great hit. As a play it is altogether funny—a genuine gloom dispenser.

"The Country Boy," Edgar Selwyn's comedy, based on the trials of a young man reared in a village and seeking success but finding failure in the city, will be the attraction at the Mason for the week beginning tonight.

After five highly successful weeks of "The Bird of Paradise," the Belasco company will tonight open in a revival of Martha Morton's "A Bachelor's Romance."

The production of "A Bachelor's Romance" is unusually interesting, for it will again show James Neill in his characterization of the gracious young-old literary critic, David Holmes.

John W. Burton will make his first appearance on the Belasco stage tonight in his former role of the faithful secretary, Beggs, while Donald Bowes will complete the trio of the original cast. Bessie Barriscale is cast in the part of Sylvia Holmes's ward.

Attention apparently is divided between the coming of the President, the result of Saturday's road race, the coming of Sousa today, and the suffragette problem of registration; a quartette of most interesting debuts. Perhaps the most harmonious of the four propositions will be the concerts by Sousa, whose band and assistant soloists will appear this afternoon at 2:30 at the Auditorium, and again tonight at 8:30.

In today's programme there are a few things of more than passing interest. "The Dwellers in the Western World," the Red Man, the White Man and the Black Man, character studies transposed into music by the March King; a fantastic episode, "The Band Came Back," and the new march, "The Federal."

Afternoon, 2:30 o'clock: Fantasia, "Coppelia" (Delibes;) cornet solo, "Showers of Gold" (Clarke,) Herbert Clarke; suite, "Peer Gynt" (Grieg;) soprano solo, "April Morn" (Batten,) Miss Virginia Root; Siegfried's Death from "Gotterdammerung" (Wagner;) intermission; suite, "The Creole" (Broekhoven;) (a) "The Little Bells" from "The Wand of Youth," (Elgar;) (b) "The Fairest of the Fair" (Sousa;) violin solo, "Ziguenerweisen" (Sarasate,) Miss Nicoline Zedeler; caprice, "Folie Bergere" (new) (Fletcher.)

Evening, 8:30 o'clock: Overture Solonelle "1812" (Tschaikowsky;) cornet solo, "From the Shores of the Mighty Pacific" (Clarke,) Herbert L.

"Los Angeles Oldest Dry Goods House" Coulter's "The Best in Dry Goods Since 1878"

Today We Open the New Annex

To Be "White Goods and Lace House"

IT WILL be a veritable "treasure trove" of Fashion! That is — Fashion as it applies to laces, embroideries, neckwear, trimmings, veilings, etc.—a vanguard of style-accessories that in the end perfect the "piece de resistance" of real exclusiveness and provide the proper touch of daintiness necessary to offset the basic tones in the rest of the attire.

—This large and handsome annex will afford ample space and magnificent light for the proper display of the afore-mentioned merchandise.

—It is with great pleasure that we extend to all a most cordial invitation to visit us today and inspect our new Broadway annex.—the "White Goods and Lace House."
—Welcome!

—With every purchase of boxed stationery we will die-stamp free of charge any desired initial. This offer is for a limited time only.

—We take orders for all kinds of engraving. The best quality, prompt work and reasonable prices. Stationery Department, Main Aisle.

—A notable tunic that will be displayed in the Annex windows is of ecru filet, hand-run in Bulgarian shades. It is draped over brocaded satin and presents an elegant appearace. Another handsome tunic—exceptionally rich in a net of black Brussels—is silk-embroidered in King's Blue. Then, too, there are tunics of cream, with gold bands fully 12 inches in width, at the hem of the skirt and outlined with gold at the yoke and sleeves.

—Chiffons and Nets in all the new shades for tunics and dresses.

—The trimming department will show a beautiful assortment of Marabout in black, white, gold, brown, light pink, light blue, gray, natural, cream and other shades.

—Also white Swansdown bands in a number of widths.

—And an outre-fashionable showing of laces—such as Macreme, Venise, Chantilly, Cluny and Irish, in the most demanded styles.

—Embroidered flouncings in eyelet and Madeira, come in the much-wanted 57-inch widths.

—Drape Veils will be on display—in all the late colorings and weave-effects.

—Complete line of fancy scarfs for all occasions.

Sale of Sheets, Sheeting and Pillow Cases—

A ONE-WEEK reduction event in "Pequot" and "Salem" sheets, sheeting and pillow-cases. These famous brands aren't often sold at underprices,—so act promptly—today.

—Bleached and unbleached—all widths,—all lengths,—all styles;—

HANDSOME, indeed, are the smartly trimmed suits for Fall. Not too burdened with finery, but with just a piquant touch of daintiness here and a bit of color there to enhance the hint of breeziness and retain the suggestion of femininity. One MUST have a plain tailored suit this season,—but 'tis almost as imperative that one should have a tastily trimmed costume for certain other occasions, as well. And at $25,—(also at $35 and up to $125)—can be found an admirable assortment of handsome styles.—

—A charming model at $25 is of hairy English cheviot in navy blue. The collar is fashioned of black Hercules braid, with an inset of tan broadcloth finished in motif of black braid. The skirt is cut on the new lines—not too narrow, but just narrow enough to allow good carriage and provide the requisite modishness. It is finished in braid to match the coat trimmings. Has a panel back.

Now You May Select Your Hat Shapes
Feathers, Flowers, Trimmings Etc., at Coulter's

ANOTHER welcome innovation is the new Millinery Supply Dept. Our buyer has returned from New York with a large and exclusive assortment of the very latest in shapes, feathers, flowers, trimmings, etc.
—This announcement will particularly interest the woman of artistic taste who prefers to perfect her own creations,—at a saving of considerable expense and an increase of distinctive individuality.

Hat Shapes

—Untrimmed models in beaver, velour, felt and velvet effects. Purchased from one of the most exclusive New York houses and within the very month—these shapes are absolutely the very last word in hat architecture.

Feathers

—Upper Main Aisle, First Floor.—

Trimmings

—A wonderland of fancies—in flowers, ornaments, etc.—in the newest colorings. Particularly striking is an assortment of black and white effects—and another novel idea is followed out in clever capuchons of soutache and wool.
—If you've never attempted to trim your own hat—we'd be glad to offer suggestions. Not a great deal is required,—a soft velour or felt shape—an ornament, fancy feather, quill or wing effect—and lo!—you have a new hat at little cost.

TO PASS UPON POLICE POWERS.

Industrial District Decision Regarded as Vital.

Hearing on Issue May Make Legal History.

In addition to permanently settling the status of about five hundred business and industrial concerns now operating in the so-called residence districts and vitally affecting property valued at several million dollars, the hearing in this city this afternoon before the Supreme Court of California of the case involving the constitutionality of the industrial district ordinance, is expected to establish a precedent touching the cardinal principle of police powers to regulate municipal districting within their province.

After having successively passed through the hands of the police and Superior Courts, the fate of city ordinance No. 22978 (new series,) which provides that lumber yards, among other industries, shall not be conducted in sections designated as residential districts, has come on appeal to the highest tribunal of the State.

The case has been made of vital interest to the police department by virtue of their having brought it to an issue by the arrest of W. F. Montgomery, of the Montgomery & Mullin Lumber Company, on a charge of violating the ordinance. The case turns upon the habeas corpus proceedings instituted by Montgomery following the denial of an injunction to stop the police proceedings against him. The yard of the company, to which exception is taken in the test case, is located at Piedmont avenue and Avenue 61 in Highland Park.

The legal points involved are of such a character that the case may make judicial history for California in its final settlement. On the hearing of habeas corpus proceedings last August, a writ granted by Judge Finlayson was dismissed and the case again put up to the police department. A writ was applied for to the Supreme Court, the hearing on which will be held before the tribunal sitting en banc at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

"The lumber yards, of which there are a dozen or more, are only one of a large number of industries mentioned in the ordinance in question," declared Deputy Prosecutor Nimmo yesterday. "The ordinance has a clause which prohibits any factory or works using mechanical power in excess of five horse power from operating in a restricted district. In addition to this blanket clause it prohibits the operation of laundries, stone crushers, rolling and planing mills, carpet cleaning works, lumber yards, hay and fuel yards and machine shops.

"It is not, of course, possible to say how much of the ordinance will be ruled upon by the Supreme Court at this time. The case at bar has to do specifically with a lumber yard and it may be, unless a long and detailed opinion is handed down, that the decision will rule equally specifically. The main reason for objecting to lumber yards in the so-called residence districts appears to be that they are believed to increase the danger by fire.

"Under the present amended ordinance it requires the petition of 60 per cent. of the owners of property frontage in a given district to have it declared an industrial district. That outlying portion of the city which is not obviously one or the other is, for that reason, chiefly in the residential category."

"The ordinance is retroactive," said Montgomery yesterday. "For that reason we believe it is unconstitutional. The lumber yards and other business affected were established several years before the ordinance was passed.

"It will tend to prevent suburban districts from having bases of industrial supplies and will work a great injustice to them. By the ordinance, certain territory is arbitrarily designated as residential sections and the residents will be obliged to come into the city for their supplies."

Montgomery estimates that between $300,000 and $400,000 is at stake in the thirteen lumber yards that may have to be removed should the ordinance be upheld. The other business involved is sufficient to multiply this several times.

Montgomery will be represented before the Supreme Court today by Attorneys E. J. Fleming and James S. Bennett.

POLITICAL HOUSE WARMING.

Candidates for Civic Offices Will Gather at Luna Park, One Hundred Strong, to Outline Policies.

More than one hundred candidates for civic offices will assemble at Luna Park a week from tomorrow for the purpose of outlining their respective policies. They will also take advantage of the occasion to put out "feelers" to ascertain their prospective support at the polls.

The meeting will be unique, inasmuch as probably never before have so many candidates for public offices been assembled at one time. There will be no debating or controversial argument between the rival candidates, but all will be allowed the opportunity to discuss their views and outline their platforms briefly. The speaking will be in the casino and the candidates will take their places on the stage in the order in which they speak. Only one orator will be allowed on the platform at a time.

The affair will be more or less of a political house warming and it is expected that candidates for every office the municipality has to offer will be present.

TO ENTERTAIN FOR CHARITY.

The Society of St. Vincent de Paul will give an entertainment and dance this and tomorrow evenings at the Ebell Clubhouse, Eighteenth and Figueroa streets, to secure funds to help in their campaigns for the practical relief of the needy poor. The demands upon the slender treasury of the society have been so heavy of late that its resources are practically exhausted. The Ladies of Charity, an organization devoted to the aid of those in need, will help in the programmes, which will present many novel and interesting features. The tickets are 25 cents each.

THE TAFT PROGRAMME.

PRESIDENT TAFT will arrive at the Arcade station at 9:30 o'clock this morning. He will be met by a committee from the Chamber of Commerce and representative citizens in thirty automobiles. After an informal greeting by Acting President Osborne of the Chamber of Commerce, the President will be conducted to the automobile reserved for him, the Mayor, the aide and the escort of secret service men.

The parade will form at 9:35 with a platoon of mounted police, Seventh Infantry, Co. A, Signal Corps, Troop D and Battery A, led by Gen. Wankowski. Following the Presidential party will be the automobiles of the citizens and clubs, approximating 200 in number.

The line of march will be up Fifth to Spring, north on Spring to First, west on First to Broadway, south on Broadway to Main, south on Main to Washington street and west on Washington to Washington Park. At the baseball grounds 10,000 school children from the upper grades will be assembled to welcome the President.

At 10 o'clock, as the President's automobile passes through the lines of the school children, flags will be waved at a concerted signal. Circling the grounds the President will be escorted to Praeger Park at Washington, Main and Grand avenue, where he will briefly address the thousands who were unable to obtain tickets of admission to Temple Auditorium.

The parade will move west on Washington to Hope, north on Hope to Seventh, east on Seventh to Olive and north on Olive to Fifth, arriving at 10:30 o'clock. Here the posts of the G.A.R. will be assembled and the veterans will open ranks, honoring the Chief Executive in one of the most impressive ceremonies of the day. The President, his party and the members of the committees, will pass through the lines into the Auditorium.

Admission to the Auditorium is by ticket. Every seat in the vast building will be occupied and a representative audience will greet the President as he steps upon the stage. A greeting to the distinguished guest will be extended by Mayor Alexander, who will be introduced to the President by Capt. H. Z. Osborne. The President will make his longest address of the day here.

Leaving the Auditorium at noon the President and party will reenter automobiles and start for Pasadena, stopping en route to dedicate the new Buena Vista-street bridge. A bottle of Owens River water will be presented to the President, who will break it against the abutment of the bridge. For this purpose a stand has been erected at the southeastern approach of the bridge. Former United States Senator Flint will introduce the President to the bridge committee.

Many thousands will avail themselves of the natural amphitheater afforded by Elysian Park near-by to witness this ceremony of christening the bridge. The slopes within a stone's throw of the speaker's stand will accommodate 30,000 persons with ample opportunity for every one, both to see and hear. After the President resumes his journey to Pasadena, W. A. Spalding will have charge of the dedication ceremonies. Addresses will be made by Councilman Stewart and Rev. F. W. Carsden.

The President will reach Occidental College at 12:20 p. m. and will speak briefly and informally to the faculty and students. The Yale Club will give a distinctive color to the college welcome. Seats have been reserved for twenty-five Yale men under the leadership of Dr. Francis Kellogg, president of the club. President Baer announces that the public cannot be admitted to the chapel, but are welcome to places on the campus. Chief Sebastian has detailed Capt. Lenhausen and forty-five officers to assist in taking care for the people at the college.

On leaving Occidental at 1 o'clock p.m., the President will be escorted to the Maryland Hotel by the Pasadena Committee. The route from the college will be to South Pasadena, through Pasadena avenue to Monterey Road, to Fremont avenue, through to Oak Lawn, to Columbia, to Pasadena avenue, to California, to Marengo, to Colorado street to the Maryland.

Mayor Thum and a committee of representative citizens will escort the President into the dining-room, where an elaborate luncheon will be served. The table will be arranged in the form of an immense American flag. Dr. Baer, of Occidental College, will be toastmaster and the President will make an address. At 2:35 the President will review the school children of Pasadena at the Carmelita Playgrounds. Stores and public buildings along the route will be decorated with flags and bunting.

Returning to Los Angeles by way of Throop Polytechnic Institute and Alhambra, where he will view the school children of the latter city, the President at 4 o'clock will address the members of the Afro-American Council at Blanchard Hall. He will be introduced by James M. Alexander, State president of the council, and after his remarks he will be presented with a solid gold card, suitably inscribed and in appreciation of his recognition of the attainments of the negro race.

From Blanchard Hall the President will be driven to the residence of his sister, Mrs. W. A. Edwards, No. 2600 West Adams street.

At 8 o'clock p.m., a committee consisting of Phil A. Stanton, Gen. Adna R. Chaffee, Walter J. Ballard, Dr. W. A. Edwards, Judge Walter Bordwell, W. M. Bowen and L. H. Schwaebe will escort the President to the Alexandria, where a banquet will be given in the new hall in the annex. The banquet hall will be decorated in patriotic colors. Capt. Osborne will preside and Hon. Frank P. Flint will be toastmaster. Senator John D. Works will speak on "California." Oscar Mueller's toast will be "The President." The President will respond.

The chairman of the banquet committee will be Motley H. Flint. The members include: L. J. C. Spruance, M. A. Hamburger, Stoddard Jess, William M. Garland, H. W. Burnham, William Lacy, P. A. Stanton, Lieut. Randolph Miner, W. I. Hollingsworth and Oscar Lawler.

At the conclusion of the banquet a committee will escort the President to the home of his sister, where he will pass the night. Tomorrow morning the President will be escorted in automobiles to Long Beach and the Hotel Virginia, stopping en route at the University of Southern California, where he will be greeted by the faculty, student body and friends at the College of Liberal Arts on University avenue at Thirty-fifth street. He will make a brief address to the students from his automobile. Brief stops will be made at Watts, Compton and Pacific Grove.

In Long Beach at 11 a.m. a unique reception will be tendered him by special arrangement of the Board of Education. The pupils of every school will march to the grounds of the American-avenue School, where they will be arranged in graded formation. Flags and flowers will be carried by the children and as the President passes through the driveway the ground will be strewn with flowers. The children will be arranged according to the flowers they carry, forming the national colors.

After lunch at the Virginia, the Presidential party will board the special train, which will be drawn up in front of the hotel and resume the rail journey East over the Salt Lake.

At 1:40 o'clock, when the train stops at Pomona by special arrangement, there will be a big demonstration at the Salt Lake depot. Mayor Matthews has proclaimed a holiday between 12:30 and 2:30 o'clock tomorrow, and all business houses will be closed in honor of the President. Baskets of fruit and flowers will be given to the Presidential party, and the President will be presented with a key to the city, made by the pupils in the sloyd department of the public schools. Citizens will carry banners at the depot, and local members of the Ohio Association will gather in a body around the Ohio banner.

Among the most acceptable gifts to be presented to the President on his arrival in this city will be an honorary membership of the Los Angeles Country Club to which he was elected last week by unanimous consent. The directors of the club have had prepared and will also present to him a complete set of steel engravings of the wonderful views of the clubhouse and also the interior prepared in portfolio form.

ANGELENOS LEAD FIGHT AGAINST WHITE PLAGUE.

WITH Dr. George H. Kress of this city at the helm, a campaign, Statewide in scope, has been launched against tuberculosis by the State Board of Health. Plans for a systematic investigation of the dreaded white plague in California were formulated at a recent meeting of the board at Sacramento, when an Executive Committee of five tuberculosis experts were named with Dr. Kress as chairman. An advisory Commission of fifty additional authorities on the disease will be appointed within the next few days.

The two bodies will work together and in harmony with the State Board of Health. The work of the commission is made possible by an appropriation of $5000 provided by the last Legislature for the purpose of studying tuberculosis in California. Upon the outcome of the investigation depends the future action of the State Legislature in the effort to prevent further spreading of the disease. The State governing body is expected to accept the recommendations of the commission as final and be guided by in advice.

Under the supervision of the State Board of Health an analysis of the mortality statistics is being made for the purpose of determining what sections of the State are tuberculosis plague spots, and information regarding the ages and conditions under which the victims of the disease die.

The investigation will be carried on by the commission under ten different classifications, and a general report will be made upon completion of the work. Tuberculosis, as it affects the poorer classes, will be studied in particular, and if the conditions necessitate it, the commission will recommend a free home for those afflicted, to be provided by legislative appropriation.

Civic sanitation will be another subject which will be gone into with care, and a system of perpetually spouting drinking fountains may be advised for all cities in the State.

The members of the Executive Committee are: Dr. Kress, chairman; Dr. C. C. Browning, Pasadena; Dr. R. C. Broderick, San Francisco; A. Bonnheim, Sacramento, and Miss Catherine C. Felton of San Francisco.

STRONG HAND AT THE HELM.

DR. CAMPBELL ACCEPTS CALL TO FIRST CHURCH.

Preaches Sermon on the Eternal Christ to Large Audience and Draws Parallel from Lives of Noted Men Who Are Revered for Their Great Attainments.

Before an audience which filled the First Presbyterian Church to the limit yesterday morning, Dr. Edward Campbell, who has been substituting in the pulpit for a few months, accepted the call to the pastorate. While Dr. Campbell has been here but a short time he has won many friends who have urged him to accept the call which was extended to him a short time ago.

Since the resignation of Rev. W. A. Hunter, who, after a term of two years, left this city for the East a year ago, the church has had no regular pastor until yesterday. For a time Rev. F. J. Mundy filled the pulpit and afterward Rev. Campbell had charge. He came to this city last December from Storm Lake, Ia., on account of his wife's health and will make this his home. Mrs. Campbell passed away a short time ago.

This church organization was the first of the Presbyterian missionary efforts in this city. It was founded by Rev. William Chichester and was organized as a church nineteen years ago when the place of worship was located at Second and Broadway. Two years later there was a split in the church, one faction forming what is now the Central Presbyterian Church while the other, led by Rev. Bert Estes Howard, erected the edifice at Twentieth and Figueroa streets two years later. The latter was its pastor for six years, when he was succeeded by Rev. A. B. Prichard, now pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church, who served for one year. Dr. Webb, who is now in St. Louis, next filled the pulpit for the following two years. He was succeeded by Dr. DeWitt Thomas, now in Philadelphia, who was pastor of the church for three years. Then Rev. W. A. Hunter, who resigned a year ago, accepted the call.

In Dr. Campbell the members of the church feel that they have a strong leader and one who will assist in building up the church body. A graduate of Marietta College, and McCormick's Institute, Chicago, and backed up by several years' experience in the pulpit and colleges, he is considered a strong teacher as well as a preacher of the Gospel.

After leaving college Dr. Campbell went to Fort Wayne, where he served several years as pastor of a church there. Later he accepted the call to the West Side Presbyterian Church, Chicago, where he remained for five years. After that he passed five years in Iowa where he was the pastor of the Ft. Dodge Presbyterian Church. While pastor of this church he was chosen as the president of the Buena Vista College at Storm Lake, which position he resigned to come to California last December.

Yesterday morning Dr. Campbell preached from the text Hebrews 13-38: "Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, today and forever." His theme was "The Eternal Christ." He said in part:

"As the world grows older and civilization advances great libraries are being filled with volumes placing before men for study the lives and characters which the ages have produced. Crowding the shelves of the numerous libraries, public and private, may be found volume after volume written by authors portraying the life and character of the man whose memory the people of this nation delight to honor, the man who was a soldier, statesman and patriot, a man whom everyone designates as 'The Father of His Country'—George Washington.

"Likewise men never tire of writing concerning that great American statesman and patriot whom the whole civilized world has learned to know as the great emancipator. The man whose hand wrote the proclamation proclaiming freedom to an enslaved race—Abraham Lincoln.

"One author has written thirty-two large volumes to set before the world the life and character of the man whose name has been enrolled as one of the greatest warriors of modern ages—Napoleon.

"But if men have written volumes portraying the characters that have become renowned and famous, if they have written biographies that are fascinating and attractive to study and meditate upon, the Divine writer has in one short line set Jesus Christ before the gaze of men in such a way as to secure the interest not only of those who love and admire Him, but he has also attracted the mind of those who are not in sympathy with His teachings.

"The reason why men are drawn to Jesus Christ is because of His unique character. Men find themselves changing and vascillating, they find themselves at one time consumed with an enthusiasm for doing good, then the fires of unholy desire and unrighteous purpose fill their hearts and they are tossed about like the billows of the ocean with every gust of wind. But these words of the Divine writer are music to the ear and a healing balm to the weary soul that is perplexed because of the changing of his own unstable mind that constantly longs for something permanent.

"If the world rejoiced in such a character when the Man of Nazareth walked up and down the country of Palestine, it may now rejoice also in the same unchanged character, for when He departed from this world and passed out of sight He announced to His disciples that He would return again and make himself known to His own.

"Because this man, Jesus Christ, lived and loved and died, the world has been lifted to a higher conception of true manhood and a deeper realization of what God means to the world."

HE WAS TWINS.

The Second Comer Finds Himself an Unexpected Guest and Makes an Awful Howl About It.

Probably the only person that ever came to Los Angeles and did not like it was a young man who arrived at the Pacific Hospital yesterday in the face of all sorts of disappointment. He came ten minutes after his brother, Vernon Henry Peck, Jr., to find that he had no wardrobe, no crib, no name and no supper. He raised an awful howl about it and it took him all of another ten minutes to convince his parents that he really belonged.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peck, No. 1618 West Toberman street, were happy and proud when their first-born was twins, but they were a little short on arrangements for the reception. They had hoped the little stranger would be a boy and had planned that he should be called Vernon Henry Jr., after his dad. When Vernon Henry Jr., showed up as installment twins the Reception Committee got busy and loaned half of his clothes to his brother while Vernon Henry Sr., ordered an extra crib and raised the price on realty commissions.

Mrs. Peck was informed that she now has a vote coming, but said she must decline anything of the sort until one of her sons is a candidate for Governor and the other for President.

Don't rub the life out of your clothes

Sprinkle a little Gold Dust in the water, and let the Gold Dust Twins do all the hard part of the task. Gold Dust starts to dissolve and lather the moment it strikes the water; it starts to cleanse the moment it comes in contact with the garment. It instantly softens the hardest water, saves rubbing, saves wear and tear on clothes, and does most of the work without your assistance.

Use Gold Dust next wash day, and have whiter, sweeter, cleaner clothes, with half the effort and in half the time.

Do not use borax, soap, naphtha, soda, ammonia or kerosene with GOLD DUST. GOLD DUST has all desirable cleansing qualities in a perfectly harmless and lasting form.

IN THE CHURCHES YESTERDAY

DEAN MAC CORMACK.

ST. PAUL'S PRO-CATHEDRAL.

THE TRAINING OF MODERN YOUTH IS RESPONSIBLE FOR THEIR AFTER CONDUCT IN LIFE.

YESTERDAY morning Dean MacCormack spoke at St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral on "The Parable of the Prodigal Son," taking as his topic concerning that produce prodigals. He said in part:

"It is impossible to consider the lesson of this parable without stopping to inquire how far the Father must be held responsible for the indiscretions of the son.

"To me he failed in two very essential points. First, he gave the young man his patrimony without having given him the use of money. Secondly, the father never had brought his young man up to do anything. The parable therefore has a very practical bearing upon the education of our young people today. It enforces the lesson upon parents that their children have to do something.

"The girls ought to know the details of practical housekeeping and of domestic economy. That is, they should be able to cook and to sew and do all things that are essential in a well-ordered household.

"The boys very early ought to be taught to understand that they have duties. They may be very small, perhaps somewhat trivial duties. They may be nothing more than bringing wood or bringing up the coal or mowing the lawn or running errands. But the value of such discipline is inestimable.

"Many parents are reluctant to ask their boys to perform any service about the home, and as a consequence are uneducated or so lacking in education are apt, when they get the means to gather all together and start their journey in a far country that there waste their substance in riotous living.

"And when they have spent all, as sometimes will do, they are forced, because they can do nothing else, to go and feed swine."

REV. C. T. MURPHY.

ST. ATHANASIUS CHURCH.

THE SOURCE OF TRUE WEALTH IS INDICATED BY EASTER ASSOCIATION MEN IN CHRIST.

The sermon of the Rev. C. T. Murphy, pastor of St. Athanasius Episcopal Church, yesterday, was on I. Cor. i. 7 "I thank my God . . . that in everything ye are enriched by Him." He said in part:

"To be rich is the dominating ambition of many Americans. Much of our progress as a nation may be attributed to this. Many useful traits and some virtues are stimulated and heightened thereby. However, a higher and more worthy ambition is found in the desire to live a life.

"St. Paul by the eloquent device of appealing to God teaches us that the Christian life is the richest life we can live. Here then is an important subject for the consideration of hopeful American men: How can the Gospel enrich human life? In three ways at least: 1. Man's environment is improved by the influence of God, and by the moral affects His life produce; (2) Man's capacity increased by the spiritual disciplines in religion. (3) Man's prospective living are extended beyond the brief career of three score years and ten into an unending existence in perfect environment. That these three sources of wealth to humanity are proven in the first and second cases by common experience—in the third by the logic of moral justice and spiritual purpose ruling life.

"The more literal rendering of St. Paul's words are, 'In everything ye were enriched in Him.' The source of all wealth lies in the intelligent association of men 'in Christ.' The purpose of Christianity includes the moral reorganization of human society on the basis of the presence and the enlightened rule of the Lord Jesus Christ. We may say that the object of the Gospel is the formation of a great corporation, so vast as to include all the powers and resources of life in cooperative activity under the control of the Risen King, and governed constantly by His beneficent Spirit of love and service. This is the Kingdom of God to come on earth.

"And while waiting for this glorious Kingdom to come, the Christian lives the ideal life by faith in Christ. His are the treasures of joy that flows from holiness—moral freedom and peace. To Him pertain the good things of the spirit—knowledge of the love of God, the vision of hope, the inspiration and fellowship of those higher spiritual beings whose ministries are most worth while. The wealth of love is his. In fact, no life can be called poor which is lived 'in Christ.'"

WESTLAKE M. E. CHURCH.

SAVING OF THE SOULS OF MEN IS THE GREATEST WORK IN THE WORLD.

The Westlake M. E. Church Rev. J. Howe preached last evening from Luke xix:10: "The Son of Man came to seek and to save the lost." He introduced his sermon by telling of Edward Spencer's heroism at the wreck of the Lady Elgin on Lake Michigan. He said that this work illustrated the work which Jesus declared his business to be the saving of men from sin.

He said that he believed that this was the greatest business in the world today. He said he believed it for two reasons.

"First, because Jesus Christ, the greatest character the world ever has known, made this his exclusive business. He came down from heaven to earth, laid aside His glory; suffered death to bring it about. This Jesus's opinion of sin. He regarded it as the chief curse of the world, the cause of all other sorrows.

"People who make light of sin are making light of Jesus Christ. They are setting their opinion against that of the greatest character the world has known, and the only absolutely sinless one. Jesus taught that sin is a reality. He did not wallow in bloody sweat in Gethesemane and die on Calvary simply that the human carcass might get rid of rheumatism, gout or some other category of disease; but that the soul might be freed from the power of sin.

"I believe that saving men from sin is the greatest business in the world because the greatest fame in the universe was acquired by the one who made it possible. Jesus's name is above every name in earth or heaven, and he won that great fame by saving men from sin. Others have great names in literature, statesmanship, etc., but the greatest man in the world today is Jesus, the world's savior.

"I believe that saving men from sin is the greatest work in the world because Jesus founded a society to carry it on, the church; gave it the power of the Holy Spirit, His own presence. This He did to no other. This is the business of the church. No church can be a Christian that is not trying to save lost men from sin. The church that is trying to do this is trying in the most effectual way to help the world in everything else that is good. For sin is the world's curse. The biggest and best business in the world is to cure it."

REV. GEORGE A. HENRY.

WEST ADAMS M. E. CHURCH.

A CHRISTIAN IS A PERSON WHOSE ATTITUDE TOWARD GOD IS AN ATTITUDE OF LOYALTY.

"An Attitude of Loyalty to God; the Essence of Religion," was the theme of Rev. George A. Henry, pastor of the West Adams Methodist Episcopal Church, yesterday morning. He said in part:

"Attitude is defined as the posture in which a person stands, or in which a human being or an animal is represented in painting or sculpture. Besides these two primary uses, there is a derived use of the term which relates to the posture of a nation's or a person's mind or heart. In this latter sense I use the term on this occasion. I shall use it in answer to the question: 'What are the qualities of character which make a person's life Christian?' In other words, 'What is a Christian?' Thinking only of the essence of true religion, I answer, 'A Christian is a person whose attitude toward God is an attitude of loyalty.'

"This does not mean that every Christian shall believe, or think, or act, or worship like every other Christian. That man is a good citizen who is loyal to his country although he may not always express that loyalty in terms of the wisest political philosophy. One good and loyal citizen may differ from another good and loyal citizen as to the best methods of bodying forth the structural elements of their common patriotism. In like manner that man is a Christian who is loyal to God although he may not always express that loyalty in terms of the most worthy theology. One good Christian may differ from another good Christian as to the best methods of embodying the elements of their common loyalty to God.

"Religion is like a garden of flowers where many different kinds of flowers bloom. But by the immutable processes of historic selection, the most beautiful flowers in the garden of the world's total religious life are the flowers that bloom under the cultivation of Christian principles.

"There is a sense in which every life is alone, absolutely alone, before its God. There are holies of holies in the structural experiences of life into which others may not enter—into which God forbids them to enter. There is a sense in which the aloofness of the human heart rises into a sublime tragedy where the social messages of religion have no part. This aloofness reaches its climax in the experience of death.

"Here then is the essence of true religion for you and for me. First an attitude of personal loyalty to God—tragic in its aloofness, voiceless in its loneliness, if need be; and second, an attitude of loyalty to the programme of God for a world where there is neither East nor West, border, nor breed, nor birth, because men stand face to face."

BOYLE HEIGHTS M. E. CHURCH.

IF MAN WILL REPENT AND CONFESS HIS NEED HE WILL RECEIVE GIFTS OF HOLY GHOST.

At the Boyle Heights Methodist Episcopal Church yesterday morning the pastor, Dr. W. E. Tilroe, preached on the subject of "The Gospel Programme." He said in part:

"Everything worth while has a programme. Only the loafer and trifler cares to be without. The student at school learns early what he can carry. The house-wife goes to the market that handles her wants. The traveler maps out his route. The man about to live makes choice of his profession or trade. Society has its ways. Government follows a policy. Nature obeys laws. The programme is the philosophy, the outline, the skeleton of life.

"I speak this morning of the programme of the gospel. Four words tell the story: Conviction, Penitence, Confession and Experience. Into these four words fall all the boundaries of Christiandom, the eighteen centuries of its marvelous history, the customs and laws that are determining modern civilization, the mighty aggregation we call the church and the yet mightier entity we know as the kingdom of Heaven on the earth. That this one short verse does not shatter with its burden is a marvel.

"The Jerusalem multitude that furnished 3000 converts in a day was pricked to the heart. That is the thing we call conviction. It is the personal persuasion that the man is not living for himself alone, or for his neighbors, but in the grip and call of God as well. And this conviction is inevitable with every denizen of the planet. It is of the sovereignty of the Most High that no man is permanently deaf to His voice or dead to His call. Somehow by trouble or joy, by life or death, by miracle or speech, by conscience or written law, by still small whisper of the cry of judgment, men learn that the mighty God is at the door, and would have words with them.

"These words are penitence, confession, and the cheering promise of experience. If man will repent and confess his need, he shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost. As wealth is gained by toil, learning by study or love by kindliness, so the knowledge of God is found in the path of duty of God is found in the path of duty. Willful living for one's self must be forsaken. Open acknowledgment of obligation to the Eternal must become perennial. That he is not his own, but the servant of another is to be taken on as the habit of life. Thus he will learn the marvelous loving kindness of God and walk daily in the vision of His face."

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH.

"Church Women and Their Ways" was the daring topic chosen by Dr. Arthur S. Phelps at Central Baptist Church, yesterday morning. Taking as his text, Luke xvii 35, "There shall be two women grinding together; the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left," he said:

"Woman was taken from beside man's heart while he slept, and as soon as he awoke he began a chase to catch her and get her back there. She has always stood by his side, to inspire, encourage, reprove him, or ask for a dollar. 'Tis strange what a man may do, and a woman yet think him an angel.' Again and again, man's extremity is woman's opportunity.

"What a difference there is between women! In our verse, two women are compared and contrasted. Two women, at the same task, are separated. It goes to show that home duties are not enough to save a woman. Both were grinding at the mill, but the angel messenger didn't know but one of them. A woman says, 'I am so busy with household cares, I have no time for church work.' Another says, 'By the time I get my children dressed for Sunday-school, I am too tired to go myself.' They forget to say that when the circus comes to town. They will keep up that excuse about the children keeping them home from church till the children get married and begin to follow their example by staying home themselves. Some say, 'We are paying for our home, and educating our children; my husband must diminish his pledge to the church.' A man who was asked if his wife was a decided blonde, said, 'If you knew her, you would have no doubt about her being decided.'

"Why will one of them be left? Because she lives for only one world. Indifference and engrossment are as fatal to spiritual life as open rebellion. She is satisfied with too little. Throw a child a bit of glass, and he will stop crying for your diamond. Oh, the tragedy of being left, abandoned! There is no agony like the agony of failure.

"One shall be chosen.' Is it you? If the Master came today, would you be one of His selected ones? Some of you faithful ones, are saying in your humility, 'I don't know.' But the Lord Jesus knows. You spoke to a friend about being a Christian: 'Oh,' but you say, 'that was such a little thing! I couldn't help doing that!' No, thank God! your heart was so full of love for Him, that it became spontaneous to you. You say, 'I have wanted to help.' What higher words are there in heaven or earth than that?"

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH.

THE PAST MAN'S BEST TEACHER. HE LEARNS FROM MISTAKES AND CONQUESTS.

At the First M. E. Church last night there was a beautiful service in which many of the great hymns and songs were sung, and Dr. Locke told the interesting story of their composition. In the morning, in connection with the Holy Communion, Dr. Locke preached on "Sacred Remembrances." The text was: "This do in remembrance of me." Luke 22:19. Dr. Locke said in part:

"Christ's ministry of three years in the world was filled with exquisite surprises for his disciples. The most sublimely impressive of all the scenes in our Lord's ministry was when in the upper room, after the Feast of the Passover had been celebrated, He instituted the sacred memorial of the Lord's supper and tenderly enjoined his disciples, 'This do in remembrance of me.' Memory makes useful yesterdays, happy todays, and hopeful tomorrows. The faculty of memory reveals the divine origin of man. It is the mission of memory to enrich today with all the treasures of the past.

"An honorable past is man's most valuable asset. Not that we shall live in the past, but that by the vivid memory of the past we may find momentum for the duty of today. The past is the thoughtful man's best teacher. He will learn alike from the mistakes and conquests of the past.

"Memory helps us to apply all the character-growth of the past to the duty and problems of the present. Memory's fairy wand keeps alive all the dear friends and renews all the sweet associations of other years.

"Without the grappling irons of memory and earnest endeavor we must gather all that is worthy out of the past, and look for larger achievements today. We must live now, or else we are dead and the past is dead. The past is a failure unless it can project itself into the living present. To forget is often a tragedy.

"Because it is psychologically true that what we vividly remember will make our character, Jesus said to his disciples in the solemn hush of the Eucharist, 'This do in remembrance of me.' It was not a mere sentimental wish that Jesus should not be forgotten. Jesus knew that the life of the world depended upon mankind fervently and lovingly and obediently remembering the wondrous truths and vicarious suffering and triumphant resurrection of our Lord. Man's character and salvation depend upon a living remembrance of Jesus and his sacrifice."

TEMPLE BAPTIST CHURCH.

EVERY MAN SHOULD BE A PRESIDENT IN THE QUALIFICATIONS WHICH MAKE HIM A TRUE MAN.

Dr. J. Whitcomb Brougher preached to a large congregation last night at the Auditorium on "Every Man a President," or "How to Reach the Top." He took for his text I. Kings 2: 1-3. Among other things he said:

"David was on his death bed. He called his son, Solomon, to his side and gave him a parting message. David looked forward to Solomon being King. It was the desire of the old man's heart—and yet the dying request of David was not that Solomon should be rich or famous or occupy the throne as his successor. The supreme thought in the mind of David was that Solomon should be first of all a man. He said, 'Be strong, and show thyself a man.'

"When President Garfield was asked what he expected to make of himself he said, 'First of all a man; if I fail in that, I fail in everything else.'

"To be a true man is greater than being a king; it is greater than being President of the United States. For it is the man that makes the office one of power and influence, and it is not the office that makes the man noble and honorable.

"Young people frequently have the idea that if they can get a certain degree at college, or gain certain titles in the world, this is going to transform them into great men and women. But you could put all the great and notable titles the world has to bestow at the end of a donkey's name, and it would still be a donkey in character.

"Unless the sheepskin diploma represents real education acquired, unless the degree represents real character developed, unless the title "Congressman" or "Senator" or "President" signifies real statesmanlike ability, then the title in itself will never give to one the qualifications that he lacks.

"It is true that there are many men in the country who are qualified to be President of the United States, but they will never attain that position. The length of the term of office makes it impossible for more than half a dozen capable men to be President in one generation. While this is true, it does not prevent hundreds and thousands of men from acquiring the qualifications which would fit them for the place if they were called upon to serve in so distinguished a position. In character and in the government of his own nature every man ought to be a President.

"Every man should be a King or a President in the qualifications that make him a true and useful citizen. These characteristics are:

"1—He should have the unselfish purpose to serve his fellow men. Jesus Christ laid down this fundamental principle years ago. "He that would be greatest among you, let him be the servant of all." We exalt a man to the high office of President of the United States because we feel as a people that for the time being, at least, he is better qualified to serve the country and the people as a whole than any other man.

"President Taft had been for many years in the public service and had demonstrated his ability to meet great responsibility and to solve difficult problems in the national life. For this reason, he was called to serve the people as President.

"2—He should have everlasting energy and enterprise in accomplishing his purpose. It has been my privilege to meet and to talk with President Roosevelt and President Taft. They are very different in their make-up, but they both have this characteristic, that they manifest great capacity for hard work.

"It is a terrific strain on any man to travel and speak day after day for two months. It requires tremendous physical and mental power to meet the daily duties of the President's high office. As a matter of act, the only secret of success in anything worth while is tremendous energy and enterprise.

"3—He should have a congenial, agreeable disposition. President McKinley, President Roosevelt and President Taft, in their intercourse with men, had the happy faculty of being "good mixers." It is true that they manifested this interest in mankind in different ways. But the ability to make people feel that you are genuinely and sincerely interested in their affairs is a wonderful power in gaining the confidence of those you would serve.

"4—He should live a clean, wholesome and sincere life. There is no power in the world equal to conscientiousness of being a true man. Jesus Christ said, 'I am the truth.' From the center of his being to the furthermost action of his life, Jesus was conscious of being and doing right. Just in proportion as we incorporate the truth in our lives, just in that proportion we are able to face all falsehoods and all false schemes in life and overcome them by the very power of our presence.

"I am not saying that President Taft is a model character. I do not know. I know that his private secretary, who has traveled with him for a number of years, told me personally that his habits of life were above reproach. One thing I know—wine is served at the banquets given in his honor, but he does not touch a drop. He may not be a prohibitionist for others, but for himself he is a teetotaler.

"Knowing this fact, it would seem to me that the reception committees arranging to entertain the President in the various cities would honor him a great deal more highly if they did not serve intoxicating drinks at these banquets. If the President of the United States does not indulge, then it would seem as if ordinary courtesy and respect for his action would call for the omission of intoxicating liquors on such occasions. That man is mighty small and selfish who could not honor the President by omitting 'booze' for at least one banquet.

"It may be all right for men to smoke who want to do so, but no one can deny that it is not a habit of cleanliness. I am glad to know that President Taft does not smoke. I had esteemed Mr. Taft in the past, but as I saw him sitting at the banquet-table, neither drinking wine nor smoking, my admiration for him was increased a thousand-fold.

"He who would rule others must first of all know how to rule himself. No young man starting out to fight life's battles can ever expect to win when he does not have command of his forces. Self-control, self-mastery, this is the dominant power for victory in the world. Be president of your own powers, then you may be called to preside over the destiny of others."

REV. J. A. GEISSINGER.

UNIVERSITY M. E. CHURCH.

CHRISTIANITY HAS THE HIGHEST AND NOBLEST CONCEPTION OF HUMAN LIFE.

Rev. J. A. Geissinger at the University Methodist Church Sunday morning preached on "The Power of an Endless Life." Heb. 7:16.

"Christianity does not stand for pity nor for a contempt for this world," he said in part. "It rather stands for the worth of the person and for a destiny worthy of the person. There are those investigators of the story of man who tell us that man has lived upon the earth for more than 100,000 years. That may be true or it may not. There may be some mistake in the calculations, but it is true that when we get back to prehistoric man we find the custom of burying the weapons and tools of the dead man with him.

"There is an ineradicable instinct of immortality in man, which recalls the word of Scripture 'He (God) Hath Put Eternity in His (man's) Heart.' In spite of the millions upon millions who have passed through the gates of death never to return to this earth again, that faith, that conviction has not faded, but cleared. Christianity has strengthened it, for Christ brought immortality to light. Christianity always speaks of man as one who is a stranger upon the earth, whose citizenship is in Heaven.

"Man, from the Christian point of view, is the power of an endless life. Mark you, not a creature who exists forever, but a creature moving from more to more. Immortality affirms the continuance of life and also the quality of growth. History shows man to be the greatest force on earth, turning the thunderbolts with the tip of one of his fingers, but only reason leaning upon God has enough of the prophetic gift to discern the latent power of man yet to be revealed.

"This view of man as the power of an endless life given to us in the Scriptures is substantiated by many considerations that converge upon what is a practical demonstration of its truth. For not only have we the instinct of life and such considerations as that the spirit of man does not find full expression here, together with the testimony in the words and life of Christ, in whom we see the fulness of the meaning of man, but the trend of our thought today forces us on to such a conclusion. Life ever rises, from matter to mind; from the lower mind to the higher, from the ascidian to Shakespeare.

"Yet not a few today have no concern about this deeper meaning of the life of man on the ground that it belongs, at best, wholly to the future and they rejoice in the present. It is just this deadly indifference that I wish to protest against. For faith in immortality is a present practical force in the everyday life of man. Man begins now to live forever.

"It is often intimated, if not openly declared, that Christianity stands for a boundless pity on the one hand and for a high contempt for this world, on the other hand. But this is to misunderstand Christianity utterly. Christianity stands for the supreme worth of the person. It has highest and noblest conception of human life and the powers of man. For that reason it is interested in any movement that benefits man and has done large things in the way of charity and relief, as also in the way of education and constructive statesmanship."

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL.

BUILDING THE KING'S HIGHWAY UNTO THE COMING OF THE LORD.

Rev. William Horace Day preached yesterday morning on "The Highway of the King," taking his text from Matthew 3:3—"Make ye ready the way of the Lord."

He said in part:

"El Camino Real means the highway of the King. It extended when completed from San Diego to San Francisco. Carlos the Third 150 years ago determined to bring his sovereignty into this remote part of his kingdom in order that Alta California might actually feel the power of his sway. To that end Gen. Galvez began his work in building El Camino Real, that the King of Spain might realize his authority over this highway.

"There was another who did more—Padre Junipero Serra, the great Franciscan Padre and statesman. He too had heard the call to build El Camino Real, but, loyal Spaniard though he was, he cared more that that highway should bring in the kingdom of the King of Kings than even that of Spain, and he saw to it that as well as the red and yellow of old Castile that the white cross of his Lord should come, and not only should there be the uniforms of the soldiers of Spain, but also the brown uniforms of the monks of the church, in building the highway that the Lord might come to this beautiful land, and El Camino Real has expressed from the very beginning the desire to have the Lord of Lords, as well as to have the Spanish King come to his own.

"The kingdom waits on the building of the highway. We listen as great prophetic voices call in our ears, summoning us with trumpets to prepare the highway of the King. We must build the highway and let the King in, that we may hope to have the results of his sway. Today we have this opportunity, an opportunity which has never quite been paralleled in American history, and because that opportunity depends upon the question of personal loyalty. Men must prepare the way and the fundamental fact of preparation is repentance. Repentance means—change your mind. A change of heart, the change of heart toward God, a change of heart toward our fellowman. The fear of the Lord is not the only thing.

"We are in a very flippant and unrepentant age. We have forgotten that the highest type of life must be borne and kept with a certain respect, that the love of God is always bound to the fear of God, that the reverent and humble man can never love Deity as he ought to unless he realizes in some measure that God is high and lifted-up.

"There are two kinds of repentance in the road building, if the King is to have a highway—the social repentance, the act of the community, and the personal repentance, and social repentance has already done much in building the highway of the King.

"At the bottom of municipal and national repentance there must always be the gate of personal repentance. I look into the faces and it doesn't look as though a mean, contemptible thought had ever crossed your mind. I know that is not true, but when you come to me and say, 'Pastor, I have lived a reasonably blameless life, I have never committed any awful crime against God or man, before which I must bow my head in shame.'

"The kingdom can never come unless you, who are most blameless, kneel down in sackcloth and ashes, with the bowed head of the penitent, and make personal repentance. We may persuade other people that we are blameless, we may deceive other people to think that we are blameless and perfect in God's sight, but who of us has not chambered in his memory sin or fear that he would give his right hand to forever blot out? Repent ye, for the kingdom is at hand."

MAY RECOVER.

Thomas Reilley, living at Tenth and Santee streets, who was injured Saturday, when his motorcycle struck a wagon at Pico and Figueroa streets, recovered consciousness about 4 o'clock yesterday morning and it was said at the California Hospital that he will probably recover. He was returning from the races at Santa Monica when the accident happened. John Mersch, No. 243 South Figueroa street, who was riding with Reilley, was thrown off but not injured.

A Druggist's Favorite Kidney Remedy---Cured Himself

Fifteen years ago I had an attack of acute kidney trouble. I consulted a physician who gave me medicine which only relieved me for a time. After discontinuing his medicine my trouble returned as severe as before.

Having heard of Swamp-Root I gave it a trial and can honestly state that three dollar bottles cured me, never having any sickness in fifteen years. I have sold Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root as a druggist for many years and can give it the very best of recommendations at all times.

You are at liberty to use this statement any time you wish.

OUR Biggest Argument For Coulter Tailoring—
Is in the people who wear Coulter Tailoring
—They are people of DISTINCTION, individuality in dress—people of particular taste who desire the best—and can afford the best. Others are women in positions of business trust,—women who prefer the quiet, conservatism of a plain tailored garment for the office sphere.
—And these testify to the excellence of the Coulter-tailored suit far better than could any passing argument of logic. They are the people who WEAR and PAY for exclusiveness.
—And yet the cost is not greater,—if even a little less,—than the ordinary ready-to-wear. At $35, $40 or $45 you may choose from among these admirable suitings:
Scotch Nub Effects, Boston Basket Weaves, Holland Hopsackings, Chain Effect Cheviots, Homespun Heavy-Stuffs, Smart-Set Serges, etc., and all the newest, most fashionable weaves in exclusive patterns for particular women.
Such colors as stone gray, autumn gray, blacks, creams, tans, browns, etc.; blue in all the latest shades from the King's Blue to Washington Navy; —also the very ultra-smart "double-faced" suitings.
We'll tailor you a suit from any of these suitings, complete for $35, $40 or... $45

The Sunday circulation of The Times exceeds 43,000 copies, and more "liners" are regularly printed in its columns than in the five other Los Angeles newspapers combined.

Telephone your want advertisements. Ring up "The Times" any time of day or night and secure prompt and careful attention.

The Times cannot guarantee accuracy or assume responsibility for errors of any kind occurring in telephoned advertisements.

The Times will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

Advertisers should retain receipts given by The Times in payment for "liners" as no mistake can be rectified without them.

FOR SALE—

HAVE YOU FORESIGHT?

If you believe in the future of Los Angeles

—And if you recognize what the Panama canal will do for us

—And if you appreciate the value of our Owens River proposition

—And if you see the great benefits to be derived from the San Francisco Exposition

—And if you believe that Los Angeles will grow in the next 10 years as rapidly as in the last decade

WE'RE READY TO TALK!

You know that you can't go wrong on any land around Los Angeles—

—But—You want the best—

THEN INVESTIGATE MONTE VISTA.

You could have bought acreage in Hollywood for from $300 to $500 per acre a few years ago.

It is exactly as good and as sure to increase in value as rapidly as has Hollywood.

BECAUSE—

Monte Vista isn't low flat valley lands—hot in summer and cold in winter.

Called by many "The Little Yosemite of Southern California."

Only to be compared to Altadena and Sierra Madre, where it costs you four times what we ask.

Monte Vista is absolutely your last opportunity to buy frostless, balmy foothill land, with plenty of water and transportation assured—anything under a thousand dollars an acre.

We are selling every day.

So get busy and investigate!

Do it—Investigate!

McCredie's Parting Words.

"VERNON HAD MORE THAN ITS SHARE OF GOOD LUCK."

McCredie Says Oakland Has Better Fighters Than Vernon—Before Leaving for the North Beaver Expresses Interesting Opinions—Bad Feeling Hurt the San Francisco Club.

BY WALTER M'CREDIE,

(Manager Portland club.)

THE PORTLAND TEAM left last night for San Francisco, leaving the tattered fragments of our baseball pride behind them. McCredie's men won eleven out of sixteen games.
The final week of the season will begin Tuesday.
Vernon will play at Los Angeles.
Portland at San Francisco.
Oakland at Sacramento.

All the ball clubs in the Coast League have had more or less bad luck this season with the exception of the Vernon team, which had more than its share of good luck. It could not have been so high in the percentage column as it is now if it had not had luck.

Even with the Coast League season now practically at an end and the Portland club winner of the pennant for another year it is hardly necessary for me to boast about the prowess of the Beavers. They won because they are the best players in the league, for they could not have won if they had not been the best.

I will probably have to admit that my team has had a good deal of luck on the assumption that any team that wins a game is more or less lucky. Forty per cent. of baseball is luck and any team that wins a pennant from five other teams must be lucky the way they figure all ball games, for the least little thing will often change the result of a game.

I don't mean that our success was all due to luck for we have a good team as the fans have seen. Our pitching staff has been strong and the players generally have held up their end. We have always drawn good crowds on account of our general good play.

I think the Oakland team is a better one than Hogan has as a whole for the Oakland players are better fighters and are never beaten until the game is over. Wolverton has had a good team all year, his pitching staff being a fine one and each man a good player. I cannot imagine why he has not won more games.

The Vernons are a well balanced lot but they have been shy on pitchers when the pinch came in the latter part of the season. Neither one of Hogan's catchers are up to Mitze of the Oaks and Hogan has been handicapped to some extent by having Kane and Hoap out of the game.

I did not figure the Sacramento club at any time to finish one-two-three, for it was not a ball club. It had two or three good pitchers, however. It was distinctively a road team.

All the San Francisco team needed was harmony in the early part of the season, but there was no good feeling in the ranks. The boys did not play together. There was too much 'eliquing' and that kind of business will kill any team. That very thing knocked the chances of my club in 1905, when it might have won the pennant. There are a number of good players on the team, but they did not work together.

The Los Angeles club was a mess of cripples all season and nothing could be expected of it. The club hardly played its full strength two weeks in succession and Berry was unfortunate in many of his new men. He certainly tried out a lot of them. At that he has a lot of good ones on the team right now, and I do not see why the Angels cannot break even with Vernon this week.

One trouble with the Los Angeles team was that it got away to a bad start and the boys became discouraged. Many of them were sick or injured and three-fourths of the new ones they tried out were failures.

On the whole the season has been a very good one and with few exceptions the clubs have made money. Baseball drew better this year than last and will draw better next year than this. More persons are learning the game and the close race this year added to the interest. The game has been singularly free from scandal of any kind."

TIGERS WILL PLAY IN OAKLAND TODAY.

The Vernon Tigers are due here today, but will remain in Oakland today and play an exhibition game with the Oaks, the entire proceeds to be given to the mother of the late Eddie Smith, formerly sporting editor of an Oakland paper.

The Tigers are to leave Oakland this evening for this city and are to open the final week of the season here tomorrow afternon with the Angels, the latter being the home team.

PORTLAND CLUB BIDS ADIEU TO LOCAL FANS.

The Portland ball club of nineteen men left here last night at 8 o'clock for San Francisco, where the champions are to end the season this week with seven games with the Seals.

Manager McCredie was very well pleased with the way the fans treated his players here and his only complaint was about the terific noise the fans made during the first three days of the Portland-Vernon series.

KITTIE BACK AMONG THE OLD FOLKS AGAIN.

Kittie Brashear, formerly with the Vernon team, returned here yesterday from the Northwest, where he was manager of the Vancouver team, which won the pennant in the Northwest League this year.

Kittie is in fine shape and says the Northwest is a good ball country. He may return there next season.

HOW HAP'S CHANCES LOOK IN FIGURES.

Portland .600.
Vernon .573.

If Portland only wins two games in the series with San Francisco, the Beavers' percentage will be .588.

Riddle: Find the chance that Hap has to win the pennant.

Alas; Too Late.

HAP GRABBED ONE GAME FROM OAKS.

SOUTHPAW ABLES WON THE $200 BONUS.

Hap Revenged Himself on Wolverton With a Patched-up Team—He Played First Base Himself and Had Patterson at Short, With Weird Results—Romped in Easily.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Good-by and good luck to you, Happy Hogan, next season. Old Happicus, made a game, bold bid for the pennant honors this season but there is hardly any use doing any more hoping that Vernon will beat out Portland in the league race of 1911. The best Happy could do today was to break even in the double with the ever-dangerous Oaks and Portland went right ahead with a double victory, gaining a game on Happy's tribe.

The cheerful leader of the Villagers practically admits himself that the Oaks have put him hopelessly out of the race for the bunting. Coming up here but a game and a half behind the pennant leaders, Happy laid his plans to return home for the final week of the season in first place, but the Oaks stepped in and spoiled his beautiful dream in decisive fashion. They took six of the eight games from Vernon and Portland moved ahead to a commanding lead that hardly figures to be overcome in a short space of time.

After being chewed and mussed up something frightful all the week, the Villagers turned around and did themselves proud in the last game, the afternoon session, by lacing the Oaks by a 7 to 1 score. In the morning, however, Harry Ables was out to win his second game and that promised $200 bonus from the Portland fans and he walked away with the money. It was easy when the giant southpaw only allowed three hits and the result was a five-to-nothing shut-out in favor of the Oaks.

In the afternoon conditions were different. The Villagers took a one-run lead in the third inning and romped in an easy winner. Gregory, working with a sore arm, stayed in the game for an inning while the Villagers were scoring two runs, and Yates, a young busher from Gilroy, came on the scene for the rest of the contests. Yates showed some promising ability on the mound but the Oaks fell down so woefully in the clfid behind him that the lad's good work was thrown to the four winds. No less than six errors and six stolen bases were chalked up during his stay on the firing line and you can

AMATEURS ARE LOOKED OVER.

Preparations for the Big Boxing Tournament.

Club Physician Examined All Contestants.

Picato and Boscha May Be Ruled Out.

(boxing instructor L. A. A. C.)

Cliff Reuman, Beny Brain and Force Parker, the boxing committee of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, had their hands full for three hours yesterday morning passing judgment on the forty-five boxers who have entered the amateur tournament.

This tournament promises not only to be the largest in nupmbers but the best conducted that ever took place in Los Angeles.

Dr. Griffith passed thirty of the boys who turned up for examination; the rest will be examined d[illegible]g the week. This speaks well for the condition of the boys. After the boys passed the doctor and were snapped by the photographer, they all put in about an hour's work in the gymnasium. There was an earnestness in their work that insures plenty of good clever boxing.

Charlie Picato and Frank Roscha, two entries in the lightweight class, have been protested by several of the other boxers. It is claimed that Picato boxed for money in a club on Central avenue, and that Boscha boxed under the name of Battling Franks at San Pedro.

Cliff Reuman, the chairman of the boxing committee, said that a thorough investigation would be given these entries before they will be allowed to enter the tournament, and unless both Picato and Boscha can prove their amateur standing they will not box.

Reuman is a strict amateur and intends to give protection to all amateurs who enter. Professionals have slipped by before, but they will have a hard time to do so from now on. The committee intends to try and make this the cleanest and best tournament ever held in this city, and in doing so hope not only to educate the members to the finer points of boxing, but to try and interest the business men of the club enough to take it up for exercise.

NO ROUGH STUFF.

The seconds of the boxers will not be allowed to coach their men during their rounds and no remarks will be allowed from any one else during the bouts, and no smoking will be allowed.

There is much speculation as to the winners of the different classes.

The Columbia Club, which is composed of teamsters, railroad boys and men from the packing-houses, have sent in five good boxers, the Southern California Athletic Club has sent in five, and the Los Angeles Athletic Club about eight entries. The friendly rivalry existing between these clubs would alone insure enough sport for two evenings.

Giants and Athletics.

RAIN MIGHT STOP GAME.

Weather Threatens Second Round of Series.

Delay Would Allow Matty to Pitch Again.

McInnes, However, Would Also Be Resting.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Prospects for playing the second game for the world's series here tomorrow between the Giants and the Athletics are considered doubtful. It has been raining all day, and while there are some indications that the weather will clear slightly, there is every prospect of unsettled conditions.

The United States Weather Bureau in the postoffice building was beseiged with inquiries up to midnight, when the bureau was officially closed. The rain, followed by an announcement from the Weather Bureau that conditions tomorrow will be unsettled, caused a serious drop only in the ticket market.

The Quaker City fans are inclined to treat the possibility of a postponement philosophically. They realize that the second game must be played here in any event and that every hour of delay will only help to strengthen the Athletics by allowing more time for McInnes to get into shape. In any event he will be played when "Connie" Mack's champions line up against McGraw's winners. Although Harry Davis put up a game that could not be criticised, McInnes is regarded as being the stronger of the two.

The advance guard has been coming in all day, and around the corridors of the principal hotels the one topic is baseball. Many visitors from distant points who did not attend the game at New York are here for the two games and will remain over when the third game is played in New York.

With Coombs or Eddie Plank in the box, the local followers of the Athletics are confident that he will be able to turn the tables on "Rube" Marquard.

Some of the experts have figured that the delay, however, will aid the Giants, as it will give "Christy" Mathewson more time for a rest and enable him to twirl the second game in New York. Of course, it is admitted that if Marquard should win again the Athletics' prospects of the world's pennant floating in Philadelphia are very slim.

Many inquiries are being made for tickets, but the supply in the hands of speculators seems to be very small.

MARQUARD ALMOST SURE TO PITCH.

COOMBS SELECTED BY CONNIE FOR TODAY.

McInnes Will Probably Be Unable to Play Today—Last Batch of Ticket Speculators Brought Before New York Police Court for Punishment—Snodgrass' Spikes.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Conditions were greatly improved tonight and hope was expressed that the sun would shine brightly and permit the game to be played as scheduled.

The injury to Third Baseman Baker, which was caused by Snodgrass's spikes, is not serious. He will be in the game tomorrow. McInnes, however, is not expected to play, and Capt. Davis will again cover the initial sack.

It was announced tonight that Coombs would be Manager Mack's selection for the second game.

There was little doubt here that Marquard would be Manager McGraw's pitching selection for tomorrow. McGraw, however, preserved his usual reticence. Fred Merkle, New York's first baseman, who finished a little lame Saturday, was said to be able to play tomorrow.

The last batch of 100 speculators who sought wealth from selling tickets to the first game of the world's series found their way to the Police Court today. There were thirty in the lot. Each was fined $10 and warned that if they were again arrested for ticket speculation during the world's series they would have the limit penalty imposed upon them.

AMERICANS WIN TWO VERY EASY VICTORIES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 15.—The Americans won two games, 6 to 2 and 10 to 8, today from the Nationals in the major league series for the city championship.

First game:

	R.	H.	E.
Nationals	2	7	1

Umpires—Johnstone and Perrine.

	R.	H.	E.
Americans	10	17	4

MONROVIA IN RUGBY RANKS.

This afternoon the Rugby team of Monrovia High School will play their first game in the new sport with the second team from L. A. High, at Monrovia. This school has just added football to their list of sports this year and as they are new to the game in every way, are not expecting to do very much the first few contests. The L. A. High seconds should have no trouble in out-scoring them, unless they have been making unusual progress for beginners.

How to Defend Yourself

[Copyright: 1911: By the Marquis of Queensberry.]

BOXING, after all, depends largely on practice. The professional prize fighter who, of course, must be a boxer before he becomes anything else, realizes that hard training, shadow boxing, and work are the price paid for acquiring quick movement and nimbleness.

By shadow boxing I mean putting yourself in position and striking at an imaginary opponent, guarding as if struck by the same opponent, and using the feet, springing round like a panther in every direction, always aiming at keeping yourself in good style positions as if you had an audience watching.

Do you know there is nothing in the world I should like better than to have been born the man to knock out Johnson? I mean as an amateur. I look upon a good fighter as the finest specimen of manhood possible, and boxing is a clean, fine sport when commercialism is kept out.

Easy Work to Judge a Man.

When you stand up to meet an opponent in boxing, or are facing some large, impulsive man who has promised to black your eye for you, you can tell something of what is about to occur by a scrutiny of the individual. Look at him well. How does he stand? What do his eyes, his feet, tell you? If you find that he stands with his right foot and his right arm forward, you already have a pretty good idea that he is not an experienced boxer or fighter. Of course, there are exceptions, but as a rule when a man comes at you, right forward, you may knew that he has never learned to use his left hand and is slow and awkward with it. This alone should give you enough confidence to carry you half way through the encounter.

A man who leads out with his right for your countenance may be met with several good things. The choice is up to you. A left hand swing on the right section of his ribs will have a very satisfactory effect if you land it hard. Duck his blow first—don't forget that—and let him have it on the kidney if you can. You can follow this up with a right straight to his face, with the whole weight in it. Or, if he looks ripe higher up, you can return his right lead (at the same time ducking it) at once by the straight counter to his face. You can afford to take his blow, for it will probably be nothing more than a poke, while yours will have your full weight in it. If he should try to cross your blow with his left, you can, if your eyes are open and observant, change your tactics in time, guard against his left with your right, and use your own left for an effective counter.

Results of a Right Hand Lead.

It may be interesting to remember what a right hand lead did to Sam Fitzpatrick, the old time "Australian comet." In a bout on the Pacific coast things got so lively that both he and his opponent—the affair is so old by now that history has forgotten the name of the opponent—forgot science and both led out with the kind of rights that are said to flourish on the farm. Both landed on the jaw and both were knockouts. Both men went down at the same time and both were counted out. If your man comes at you right first, don't be afraid; he is not likely to be the exception.

If you can't jump out of reach and are hurt or unready to return the blow, you will have to clinch. A good thing to remember in this sort of thing is that it is usually better to duck to your right than to your left. You will have a better chance if you do. In breaking away be sure to get out of reach quickly. Give your man a good shove with both hands and jump back vigorously.

If your assailant has led his left for your nose before you are ready to hit back, duck, which is to say, dodge, under his lead and push the point of your shoulder clear up against him into the pit of his arm. Then grab him so as to hold his right arm down against his side. But remember to hold him tight, for if this is an informal affair arising over an injured corn or a jackpot, there will be no rules and he will hit you when and where he can. If he leads with his right and not his left, you can save yourself by reversing the operation described before. Don't forget while you are ducking to duck a plenty. If you don't your little plan may be knocked in the head at the same time you are.

How to Escape from Dangerous Position.

If your assailant has backed you into a corner or up against a brick wall he will put everything he has into a wallop at your head with the idea of making a dent in the building with you. You can guard yourself from his blow probably by catching it upon the strong part of the forearm and stepping out to the left so as to get away from your dangerous position. Or you may be able to duck under the blow and slip out to the left and away.

The left hand to jaw comes as a counter when your assailant lunges at you. The instant he lunges strike out with your left. Drop your chin at the same time and throw up your right forearm so that it will protect your face from his lead. Have your arm about a half foot in front of your face. With gloves you can receive the blow on the glove, but if you are having a plain fight without trimmings it would be better to take it on the strong part of the forearm.

Hold the arm with the hand upward and somewhat inward. You must have yourself well balanced on your feet and must brace your arm for the impact of his blow. This counter of yours is intended as much as anything to stop your assailant's rush, but does not hurt him so much as the blow with which you can follow it with your right. Such opportunities are valuable. You may win the fight if you are on the watch for them. The instant you see you have staggered your man or stopped him, follow up the blow, and you may be able to land him in the police station or wherever you wish to land him.

Weight Must Be Behind Wallop.

When you mean to hit a man on the heart, don't stand back as if your arm had rubber in it like a slingshot. Your arm won't stretch an inch and your blow won't do any good unless you are close enough to have some steam in it. There is no use hitting a man unless he is going to know he has been hit. Step in when you counter and give him your whole 150 pounds. As has been said before, the time for you to get in your little argument on his ribs is when he has led at you. The minute he has led out with his left or has raised his left guard he is your meat if you know the game.

Step well forward to the left and whack him where you think his heart ought to be. If he feels solid and sick under your blow, follow up and poke him in the pit of the stomach. The stomach is a sacred thing and used to respectful treatment. Therefore, you can hurt it if you can get your knuckles on it. Follow up your right to his heart with your left to the stomach with the swing of your weight behind it. All this is supposing you have succeeded in avoiding his lead by ducking your head to the left. If you did not succeed in this that which is supposed to follow would be of no interest to you.

If he follows up his original blow by a right counter to your return, you can safely take this on the top of your head. However, stiffen up the muscles of your neck. You don't want any slack when the jar comes. When a man attacks you he is usually angry and therefore intent on hitting you and so neglecting his guard. If you are cool and at all alert, you can find plenty of opportunities.

MARQUIS SAYS EVEN CLERGY APPROVE BRITISH BOXING.

CHAIRMAN MAKES DEFENSE.

... think, of the whole affair, from beginning to end?" It gave him real pain to find himself in opposition to a man who had done so much good in the world as had the Rev. F. B. Meyer. Mr. Meyer was conducting his case like the very astute general that he was, and small blame to him for that, for if a man entered upon a fight he might as well fight hard. He ventured to say he could get a hundred clergymen to sign a counter-petition, a hundred that would be far more representative.

Personally, he said, he would never attempt to run a slum mission if he could not have boxing as a very real help. He had known not one case, but countless cases of pretty rough types of men turn into decent, clean-minded citizens by their boxing.

COLOR LINE NO ARGUMENT.

He must just say one word on the colored question. This particular part of the protester's case seemed to him the strangest anomaly. For years a Christian nation had been saying to the black race, "You are our brothers" but today they turned around added, "You may be our brothers, but we're hanged if you are going to share our sport." He construed that they could send from that meeting a petition to the Home Secretary ten times as influential as the one he had already received.

The Rev. Father Boulder said that he spoke after an experience extending over a widely differing field among the workers of England and he should feel inclined, if he were prevented from using boxing as one of his means of work, to give up that work altogether. He believed that the present opposition to boxing would in the end have a beneficial effect. One thing that it would prove at any rate was that a big section of the clergy were not Kill-joys. He was perfectly sure that boxing had a great deal to do with the cultivation of strength of mind and moral life in every man, and he was dreadfully sorry that the objection to this match had been raised in the name of religion.

REV. BROWN DEFENDS SPORT.

The Rev. Darren Brown followed and in a short, but eloquent, speech cordially indorsed what his fellow-clerics had said and expressed his whole-hearted admiration for the splendid sport of boxing.

What have the Kill-joys and Kill-sports to say after such overwhelming evidence by some of the finest divines and sportsmen in the world?

The Oaks' lone score came in the ninth on some heavy bingling. After Yates had fanned Hoffman tripled to center and Coy brought him in with a double to right.

Harry Ables—that's all in morning game at Oakland. With one victory already hanging at his belt and with $200 coming to him if he could make it two from Vernon in the week, the giant southpaw pitched rings around the Villagers and won hands down. Final score 5 to 0. Ables distributed three hits throughout the game and was always master of the situation.

Opposed to Ables was "Soldier" Carson, and the Oaks piled up all their damage against him in the third inning. Kid Wares opened the way with a three-bagger clear to the score board in deep center field. Carson then cut loose a wild pitch, which scored Wares and gave Mitze his base on balls. Ables forced Mitze at second but Hoffman doubled to left, Ables legging it to third. Ables scored on another costly wild pitch and Hoffman went to third. Coy walked and when Tiedeman bunted to Carson, Hoffman beat the ball to the plate. Zacher's single to left counted Coy. Wolverton fouled out and Cutshaw singled to left, Tiedeman scoring. Wares up for the second time made the third out after five runs had been chalked up and the game put on ice.

RANGERS ARE THE STARS AT SOCCER.

AGAIN DEMONSTRATE ABILITY IN CAMERON GAME.

This Proved to Be the Most Interesting Game Played Thus Far in the Soccer Football Season—The Dope Again Upset When Berkeley High Defeats Alameda at Rugby.

The Rangers again demonstrated their ability by defeating the Clan Camerons in a hard-fought game at Fiesta Park yesterday. The score was 10 to 2, each team's points being evenly divided in each period. It was the most interesting game of the soccer league yet played as each side was well represented in the grand stand and they did not hesitate to root for their respective teams all through the struggle.

The Rangers have a big lead over any of the other soccer teams in their team work, being able to pass the ball from one to another with a good deal of skill and seldom do they kick the ball wildly. Besides this they follow the play better, loafing being rarely seen when action is needed.

If the other teams expect to accomplish anything against this crowd they will have to display more life and spirit in their play or it will result in a walk-away for the striped jerseys, all along.

The referee had a hard time of it yesterday as several mistakes on his part in the early stages of the game got him in bad with both sides and after that every one was anxious to give him advice at all the critical points. The Clans got the worst of the decisions on one or two counts, one of their goals that was not allowed, because of off-side play, being easily as good as two of the Rangers that the official did not see.

Jarvis	goal	Sanderson
J. Mitchell	right back	R. Aken
Barton	left back	Hyde
Mellor	right half	Harrisson
Burleigh	center half	Girard
Lowe	outside right	A. Aken
A. Mitchell	inside right	Leslie
Meldrum	Center	W. Robison

BERKELEY EASILY BEATS ALAMEDA.

The dopesters of high school football again were given another jolt last week when the crack Alameda Rugby fifteen met defeat at the hands of the team from Berkeley High School. Alameda had easily disposed of the fast Palo Alto crowd by the score of 8 to 0 and by the form that they displayed predictions were freely given that the victors over Palo Alto would land at the top.

Berkeley High had no trouble at all in turning the trick, leading by the score of 14 to 0 and outplaying them at all stages of the game. This puts the university town team away in the lead as far as early season games are concerned, as it is the only secondary school that has a clean record for the season.

This school always used to figure in the State championship in the American game and has had several memorable contests with the Los Angeles High School team, both in this city and in Berkeley, and they are anxious to win out this year to get the trip South.

The Academic League series starts the latter part of this month and the final game will be played somewhere near Thanksgiving.

George Kirkwood.

BY DE WITT VAN COURT.

GEORGE KIRKWOOD, the clever little San Francisco boxer who is matched to fight Joe Rivers went through his training before a small crowd yesterday afternoon at the St. Ignatius Club.

Kirkwood has not got down to real hard work yet, and Manager Humbrecht will not allow him to do so for several days yet. George always keeps himself in good condition and does not require as long to train as other fighters do.

In appearance, he looks very much like Johnny Kilbane, not as broad across the shoulders as Kilbane, but with a longer reach.

Kirkwood's work consisted of a short game of handball, a short session with the medicine ball and three rounds of boxing with Louie Rece, a sturdy lightweight.

It would not be fair to Kirkwood to pass judgment on his ability from the light work he did, but he showed flashes of cleverness and hitting that proves that Rivers will have no easy time in winning.

He hits very hard with either hand from any position and counters and feints well. Many seem to think that he has never fought over four rounds. He fought Roy Moore ten rounds and a ten-round bout in East St. Louis, his home town. He has also fought a number of six-round fights. In all his fights he has knocked his man down, and has won many contests by clean knockouts.

While he has had more fighting experience than Rivers, he has not fought as many or as long fights as Joe.

Any boxer who can go ten rounds without blowing up can surely go twenty. Manager Humbrecht says that if George wins from Rivers, that he will send him after the best featherweights in the country.

CHAMPIONSHIP FIGHT.

Charlie Ardell, the manager of the Taft Athletic Club, has matched Brick Burgess and Kid George, two middleweights, for a twenty-round fight on the seventeenth of this month. The contest is for a $1000 purse and the championship of the Coast. George Blake, the popular referee who always referees the fights at Taft, says that the money is up for this fight and that it is not stage money, either. Blake says that the boys who patronize the game around Taft are no pikers and that they bet heavy and pay good prices for their sport. Both Burgess and George are well known in the northern country and have good reputations.

WHITE SOX TRIM CUBS BEFORE CROWD IN CHICAGO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—The largest crowd that ever witnessed a baseball game in Chicago saw the Chicago Americans win their third successive game, 4 to 2, from the local Nationals in the city championship series.

Official figures gave the attendance at 36,308 and the receipts at $24,552. Thousands of persons were refused admission to the park. The sale of tickets was stopped at 1:15 o'clock, more than an hour before the game began.

Doc White, who yesterday opposed the Cubs and was driven from the box in less than one inning, pitched splendidly today, holding the Nationals to six hits, while the Sox hammered Cole and McIntyre for ten, four of which were doubles.

The teams are scheduled to play the fourth perhaps the final game, of the series tomorrow. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Nationals	2	6	0

Batteries—Cole, McIntyre and Archer; White and Sullivan.
Umpires—O'Laughlin and O'Day.

CINCINNATI WON THE CHAMPIONSHIP.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CLEVELAND, Oct. 15.—Cincinnati won the inter-league series to decide the championship of Ohio by defeating Cleveland today in the second game of a doubleheader, 7 to 0. Cleveland won the first game, 4 to 2.

Six games were played to decide the supremacy of the teams, one at Cincinnati and five at Cleveland. Cincinnati won the first three, dropped the next two, and then captured the sixth. Scores:

First game:

	R.	H.	E.
Cleveland	4	8	2

Batteries—Kaler and O'Neill; Keefe, Fromme and Clarke.

Cleveland	0	4	0
Cincinnati	7	5	0

(Eight innings.)
Batteries—Blanding, Mitchell, Baskette and O'Neill; Suggs and Clarke.
Umpires—Evans and Rigler.

In the P.A.A. meet held on the California oval last week Don Dawson, representing Stanford, won the broad jump for his school by clearing 22 ft. 3½ in. This is a remarkable jump for this early in the season and Dawson's friends are predicting great things for the former L. A. High School athlete. The Stanford coaches were agreeably surprised by the performance of this freshman jumper and they will watch him carefully as the season progresses, as Stanford has been weak in this event for the past two years.

MONOGRAM MAKES A WINNING.

R. P. Howe, local representative for the New York Lubricating Company, is pleased with the showing made at Santa Monica. The Marmons all used Monogram and the Nationals crank cases were also filled with the lubricant. In addition to this the Fiat cars had the oil, the Inter-State, Lexington, Reo, Maxwell, Mercer, Regal, Schacht were users of the product.

John Philip Sousa,

As He Tells It.

HERE'S SOUSA'S FIRST SELF-WRITTEN INTERVIEW.

Famous Bandmaster Tells in Own Graphic Way of the Vagaries of Concert Receipts and Round-the-World Experiences—Tales from South Africa to Texas—The Booby Prize Goes to Bakersfield.

COMING down from San Bernardino yesterday morning, John Philip Sousa dictated the story below to his secretary, who transcribed his shorthand, exactly as given herewith, on an Alexandria Hotel typewriter an hour later. Mr. Sousa gave this interview in response to a story-request from The Times Pink Sheet. Though he has written magazine articles, is the author of one or two libretti and several well-known novels, and has given innumerable newspaper chats all over the world, this is, as Mr. Sousa says, the "first newspaper interview which I wrote myself." After correcting the sheets of his own story, Mr. Sousa followed his band to Long Beach, where he gave an afternoon concert to an immense audience. He is just concluding a tour of the world, and will spend the week in Los Angeles:

"The vagaries of receipts for concerts are most interesting, and as I have probably given more concerts than any man alive or dead, perhaps some figures would be interesting to the public.

"First of all, I must explain that in my career I have given concerts under four different conditions: The first, where we play with theatrical or hall managers, in which each of us take a certain percentage of the receipts and each have certain expenses relating to the giving of the concert. The second, where the attraction assumes the entire responsibility, paying rent, advertising, etc., and taking the entire receipts. The third, where an attraction has been guaranteed a fixed sum and the local manager or society assumes all the risk and takes all the receipts. The fourth is the common form of employing a band for an exposition, park or summer resort, where the band's reputation is used as a drawing-card for a number of other attractions. Of all these forms of concert giving, the first has always appealed to me as the best, and strange as it may appear, the guarantee is the least attractive, for the reason that if the house is very big the financial backer pockets a lot of money and praises the concert, whereas if the house is small he pays his losses grumblingly and openly damns the organization. Therefore, I prefer to take my chance, and be a partner in the greater gains or greater losses.

"The greatest single week's receipts taken in a single city by my organization was over $24,000, in London. The greatest two nights' receipts in any one place was on the occasion of my first visit to England, where we opened at Albert Hall and played Friday and Saturday evenings to $10,000, while the sale of programmes amounted to $500 more. The largest single "gross business" was in the old Convention Hall in Kansas City, where a single concert drew $5960.

"On the other side of the picture, the smallest sum my band ever blew a note for was in Bakersfield. Total, gross, $64.

"The biggest week I ever had, embracing different towns and as a result entirely different audiences, was a six-day period covering Richmond, Va., Washington, Baltimore, York, Pa., Philadelphia, New York and Boston. Our receipts here totaled $25,500.

"As for audiences: in open-air concerts I have had audiences at Willow Grove estimated at considerably more than 100,000 people, and also enormous gatherings at the World's Fairs in Chicago, St. Louis, Paris, Buffalo and other big international affairs. But at Glasgow, on the last evening of my engagement in 1901, I drew by actual turn-stile count, more than 153,000 people.

"Isn't that going some for a concert audience?

"Among the things amusing though profitless that have occurred to me, one of my choicest recollections is of Owosso, Mich.

"We were billed for a matinee in the town, and when we arrived the treasurer of the band came back to me, with the none-too-pleasant remark: "Pretty rotten advance sale here. Only $34."

"Before I get into the plot of the thing I must add that we were next door to the city fire department. In fact a part of it was above us.

"The concert was announced for 2:15 and the doors were to open at 1:15. About 1:40 I strolled up to the "opryhouse" and found the whole front a congested mass of people. True to rural traditions, they were there, but were intending to pay as they passed in. About sixty seconds before the ancient Cerberus opened the gate the fire-bell rang; immediately the Sousa Band became a nonentity. The intending audience and the already-paid audience alike clattered down the street, and we played to just $64 in money, but by no means to $84 worth of people.

"The greatest "jump" in receipts that I ever experienced happened this year in South Africa. Our initial city was Cape Town. We opened to $600. The next day we played to $2400.

"The biggest "tumble" in receipts was also in South Africa, at Johannesburg. We opened to large houses, and on the fourth evening our intake was $4000. The management refused an offer of $5000 cash for Sunday night, whereupon a storm came in full South African fury and the box office gathered less than $500.

"A misdirected sympathy for our efforts happened once in Texas. We were in the State during a terrible blizzard. The theaters mostly were very cold, and the audiences, under those conditions, far from promising. We got into a small town for the matinee and there was $128 in the house, while most of the audience sat wrapped like Indians in blankets—some even shrouded in quilts. My men played in their overcoats.

"We began the concert. At the end of the first number—absolutely not one hand. Then followed the second number, with no applause, and then a third, fourth and fifth. Not a selection received the slightest recollection from the chilled collection of statues in front. The band retired from the stage during the intermission.

"I was waited upon by the Mayor of the town, the editor of the village newspaper and the manager of the hall. The Mayor explained, hesitantly, that he thought it must be very hard on our men to play under such conditions, and that the audience, with unusually delicate feeling, had refrained from applauding so that they would not be cruelly urged to further efforts.

"'But,' said the Mayor, 'we do want to hear 'Dixie' and 'The Stars and Stripes Forever.' Will you play them for us?'

"'Play them!' I exclaimed. 'Of course I'll play them, but I must have some sign that you would like to hear them. I am willing at all times to respond to an encore, but I must get some encouragement from the audience. I will play those numbers, but as encores, as I have the music of my regular programme laid out. Don't trouble yourselves to any great extent, however; merely have some man drop his foot off a chair after the next selection, and that will be sign enough for me.'

"'We will see to it, sir, that you have some sort of demonstration after the next number,' said the editor, backing out respectfully.

"The next number happened to be a long, heavy "Parsifal" excerpt.

"After a second of silence at its close the uproar commenced. Feet, hands, canes, umbrellas, voices and furniture joined in the uproar. Several boys took a chair in each hand and pounded the floor until the plaster threatened to fall. I not only played "Dixie" and "The Stars and Stripes Forever," but a medley of plantation songs, two current ragtime hits and no less than four of my marches before they would let my men rest. I was in a profuse sweat at the last and most of my band's overcoats were lying over the feet of the men.

"That editor, mayor and manager must have done missionary work with a vandal's vengeance."

BY GREY OLIVER.

Portland, 8; Los Angeles, 2; morning game.

Portland, 4; Los Angeles, 1; afternoon game.

Even with the pennant race practically decided and the tail-end Los Angeles club as the home team, about three thousand fans journeyed out to Washington Park yesterday afternoon to see the Champion Beavers in their final appearance.

While the occasion was a fitting one to salute the Champions in their last local game of the season, it was rather embarrassing to have them beat the Angels twice in one day, but they did this handily by slugging the ball hard in the morning at Vernon and because Steen was too good for the locals in the afternoon. Both were apparently easy victories, because the Angels seemed to be buffaloed. This is about as good a reason as any and is doubtless the true one.

While the afternoon game drew the big crowd, the morning game had more real baseball in it, for there was a little of everything. The feature stunt of the day happened in this contest when with the bases full of Beavers in the eighth inning Peckinpaugh took a rap at the ball and sent it over the left-field fence for a home run, four runs scoring from this one swipe. This lick threw the wet blanket of seriousness over the Angels and paralyzed their chances of taking the game.

AGNEW IS WEAK.

Agnew was the flinger for the locals and, while he pitched good ball for six innings, the Champions began to rap him in the seventh, knocked the life out of him in the eighth and hit him for a double and two singles in the ninth just to show that they could, presumably.

They began on him in the first with a run made from two singles and Chadbourne's steal from third to the plate. Three of them managed to get to third base during the next five innings. In the seventh Krueger led off with a single, ran to third on Peckinpaugh's double to center and scored when Daley threw the ball in over the catcher's head. Peck got to third on this and chased in when Chadbourne hit to left.

Rodgers was the first man up in the eighth and singled. Kuhn was hit by pitcher and Rapps got one of the new rule singles on a bunt that Agnew tried to force Rodgers at third on, filling the bases. Ryan made the first out on a foul and Krueger hit to right, scoring Rodgers. The bases were still full and then Peckinpaugh lifted the ball over the left fence for a home run, scoring the three runners ahead of him. After all this bombardment, Agnew fanned LaLonge and made Seaton ground out to first.

The Angels could do nothing with Seaton until the seventh. Lober singled and advanced when Abbott was hit with the ball and both men took another base on a wild pitch. Agnew fanned, but Dulin hit to center, scoring Lober and Abbott.

In the eighth inning Daley was called out by Ump Hildebrand on strikes and roared so loudly that the ump threw him out of the game. This was about the only incident worth recording aside from Peckinpaugh's homer.

STEEN VERY STRONG.

The matinee was a little exercise gallop for Steen, for he held the Angels to seven hits, and as he was given fine support was never in danger of losing. The Angels made no less than four doubles off him, but only one of these counted.

Fine fielding featured this contest and the fans got the worth of their money in watching how the players handled the ball. Lober made a great running catch of Krueger's fly to the score board in the second inning. Nothing could get away from that kid in left. In the ninth he dashed over into center field far behind second base to take Peckinpaugh's fly away from Daley.

Dulin made a brilliant left-handed running scoop of Krueger's grounder toward right in the ninth and assisted the runner out at first, while Peckinpaugh's work was all to the fancy.

Tozer pitched a very fair game, but was hit hard in the fifth and eighth. Krueger started the fifth with a single, got to third on Peckinpaugh's single and scored on LaLonge's sacrifice fly to center. Steen's grounder forced Peck at third. Steen got to third on Chadbourne's double to right and scored on Rodgers's single. A single, fielder's choice, a double and a triple made two runs in the eighth.

The Angels could do nothing with Steen until the sixth, when, with two out, Dillon walked and scored on Heitmuller's double to center. Only three of the locals reached third base in the entire game.

SENATORS CLIMB BY HARPOONING SEALS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO (Cal.) Oct. 15.—Sacramento regained fourth place and made it an even break for the series, four games each, by taking both games of this afternoon's double-header.

In the first game the Seals put up a ragged exhibition, Powell's muff of Madden's easy fly starting the Senators on their five-run lead in the first inning. Dansig drove one over the fence in the same inning with two men on the bags. Noyes relieved Browning and except for the seventh, when the locals scored three runs, he pitched good ball.

The final score of the first game was 8 to 1, the Seals getting one in the sixth on Mohler's double, an infield out and Johnson's single.

In the afternoon game, Fitzgerald held the visitors to two infield hits, both of the scratch variety, and only one of the Seals reached third. In the sixth with two out Shinn singled and Miller filled the bases by walking two men. Van Buren drove a single to right, scoring three men and going to third himself when Carman allowed the drive to roll through him.

NO MORE FOOTIGHTS FOR MIKE DONLIN.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

BOSTON (Mass.) Sept. 24.—Mike Donlin, the former captain and outfielder of the Giants, who is covering center field now for the Boston Nationals and is playing in good form, has again decided to stick to baseball and quit the stage. Mike has come to the conclusion that he cannot expect to be a good ball player if he follows theatricals, and on that account has made up his mind to give his entire attention to the national game. He says: "I am through with the footlights forever. I am going to stick to baseball in the future, and just take a little tip from me that next season will be the best that I have ever had during my career. I am going to get into the finest shape and I will show the knockers who are claiming that I am all in that they are mistaken. A player must have that spring training in order to be good, and, believe me, I miss it greatly. I will give all my attention to the spring training next year, and then watch the difference, both in my playing and batting."

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

Pasadena.

ROSE CANOPY IS PROVIDED.

Crown City Completes Plans for Taft Reception.

Luncheon at Maryland to Be a Feature.

Druggists Arrested for Violation of Liquor Law.

[Office of The Times, 52 S. Fair Oaks Ave.]

PASADENA, Oct. 16.—All arrangements have been made for entertaining President Taft when he visits Pasadena today, and the event will be one of the most brilliant in the history of the city.

D. M. Linnard had a force of men at work all day yesterday upon the decoration of the Hotel Maryland, which is to be literally covered with flowers, inside and out. Five hundred and fifty men, among them the city officials and prominent residents of the city, will be seated in the large dining-room when the President enters at 1 o'clock this afternoon for luncheon.

The President will make his entrance through the front door, walking from the curb to the portal along a red plush carpet with a canopy of smilax and roses overhead for the entire distance. Upon entering the hotel he will pass through a certain of roses and the tables in the dining-room will be heaped with wagonload after wagonload of the choicest flowers ever grown in the city. They will be of only three colors, red, white and blue, which, with the arrangement of the tables, will form an immense American flag with the President sitting at the lower left-hand corner of the blue field.

The dining-room at the Maryland will be thrown open at 12:30 o'clock and all guests at the luncheon must be in their seats by 12:55 o'clock. At this time the doors will be closed. The President is due to enter at 1 o'clock.

There will be but one address and that by President Taft.

The Pasadena Reception Committee will meet the Presidential party at Occidental College at 12:15 o'clock. The President will be received by the students at the college and will then proceed directly to the Maryland Hotel. The route the President's automobile will take will be along Pasadena avenue through Highland Park and South Pasadena on to the Monterey road, thence along Monterey road to Fremont avenue, north on Fremont to Columbia street, along Columbia to Pasadena avenue, on Pasadena avenue to California street, on California to Marengo avenue, on Marengo avenue to Colorado street, and along Colorado street to the Maryland Hotel.

The luncheon will be over at 2:30 o'clock and the President will proceed immediately west on Colorado street to the Carmelita playground, where he will be welcomed by the school children of the city. No one will be allowed to enter the playgrounds but the school children, their teachers and the principals of the schools.

After the reception there the President's automobile will again turn eastward on Colorado street and proceed as far as Lake avenue. He will go south on Lake to San Pasqual street and east on San Pasqual to the Throop campus, where he will be received by the students of the institute.

Residents of the streets along which the President will travel have been urged by the Board of Trade to decorate their homes with flags, and already many flags have been hung up in Pasadena. Colorado street will be decorated with flags and bunting and all members of the Pasadena police force will be on duty in full dress uniform.

DRUGGISTS ARRESTED.

As a result of the arrest yesterday by Police Detective Schults of C. H. Ward and Charles Parsons, proprietors of the Ward Drug Store, corner of Fair Oaks avenue and Colorado street, the courts will probably be asked to determine the question of whether a dentist is empowered to write prescriptions for liquor.

The arrests were made upon complaint of Frank D. Dewar of No. 1045 North Stevenson avenue, whose wife is alleged to have obtained the liquor. Dr. A. H. Savage is the dentist alleged to have written the prescription.

CONFERENCE TONIGHT.

The City Temperance Commission and the committee headed by Rev. Albert Hatcher Smith that presented to the City Council the proposed new liquor ordinance will meet tonight at the office of the Snowball-Sullivan Company, No. 167 East Colorado street. Rev. Robert Freeman, chairman of the commission, stated last night that the conference will be strictly a private one.

"Only one member of the commission heard the subject presented to the City Council by the committee," he said, "and we wish to give the committee an opportunity to present to us the same arguments that were presented before the City Council."

OLD RESIDENT DIES.

Mrs. Mary L. Johnson, wife of George H. Johnson of No. 1651 Kirkwood avenue, died yesterday morning at her home of tuberculosis. She was 43 years of age and had lived in Pasadena for twenty years. She was a native of Nebraska. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

Multiplicity of Candidates Worries Congressman.

Northern Fishing Boats Destroying Many Fish.

LONG BEACH, Oct. 15.—As a result of a conference held last night between aspiring candidates for the local postoffice, a choice may be made Tuesday evening at a conference to be held in the City Hall by the Executive Committee of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League before the last election all precinct committeemen who are "progressives," and the resident members of the State Executive Committee. The candidates for the postmastership, Messrs. W. Clifford Smith, C. L. Day, A. B. Austin, B. C. Kenyon and A. C. Malone have agreed to abide by the decision of the committee, who will nominate by ballot and eliminate the weaker candidates as the balloting proceeds.

At the conference last night Congressman Stephens, who acted as moderator, refused to consider any motion unless it was made unanimously. He said that the candidate, who should be selected was not sure of an appointment, but he was willin gto get behind him so far as his Congressional influence went with the present administration.

There is nothing against the incumbent, George F. Hirsch, who has yet nearly four years to serve, but the postoffice name has been changed to two words, and in the opinon of the department this creating a new office, there must be an appointment either of the incumbent or a new man. Congressman Stephens has been asked to make a recommendation, and as his friends and constituents will not permit him to name Hirsch, who belongs to the regular organization, it is up to Stephens to go among the Progressives for his choice. He made one selection, C. L. Day, but such a howl arose from the other candidates and from the local organization that Stephens withdrew his recommendation, and decided to let the locals fight it out among themselves.

UP IN ARMS.

Local fishermen are up in arms over the operation in these waters of the trawling boats Colombo and Blanco from San Francisco, which operating within half a mile of shore with their huge seine are not only draining the waters of big fish, it is claimed, but are destroying the small ones. It is estimated that during the last few weeks over fifty tons of small fish have been destroyed, being crushed and trampled upon while the net is being hauled aboard the boats.

The small fry are dumped back into the ocean and very few of them survive the rough usage and as a result the channel is covered at times with dead fish. It is like going into a forest and killing the small trees to get at the big ones. Although the State law is understood to prevent seining within three miles of shore, the fishermen pay little attention to it. Unless strong measures are adopted local fishermen say there will be a fish famine within the next year.

Season Is Open.

POLICE PRECAUTIONS CAUSED BY HOLD-UPS.

THE opening of the hold-up season which, by general acceptance is supposed to begin on October 16, was ushered in as usual last night by two daring gun robberies which are believed to have been committed by the same man.

The first case to reach the ears of the police was reported at 7:40 o'clock when the University Station was notified that a robber had held up a grocery store at No. 5517 Hooper avenue, conducted by Mrs. B. Fox.

A moment previous to the occurrence Mrs. Fox had occasion to enter a rear room and was just emerging when a stranger, roughly dressed in dark clothes, opened the door and demanded $2.

Rather than take any risks with a desperado whose requirements could at least be considered as modest, the woman produced a small cash box and counted out the amount asked for.

After expressing his appreciation of her kindness in not raising an alarm, the stranger backed towards the door and with a final word of farewell disappeared in the darkness.

A little more than an hour later a robber confronted Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Wood of No. 118 East Pico street as they were passing the corner of Sixteenth and Santee streets, and sticking a revolver in the face of the astonished husband, made a demand for $2.

Realizing that he was covered by the pistol, Wood withdrew his purse and counted out the required amount of cash, which was handed over with alacrity.

A moment later the robber backed away in the darkness and although an automobile loaded with officers was dispatched to the scene, no trace of the stranger could be found.

The description given by the victims coincided with that given by Mrs. Fox and the police began to scour the city for the criminal. In tracing his movements the officers ascertained that after committing the first robbery the stranger boarded a Hooper avenue car. They believe he alighted at Sixteenth street and then walked to Santee, where he met the second victim.

As the result of the crimes unusual precautions are being taken to guard the city today and tonight, as a large number of visitors are expected on account of the arrival of the President and all suspicious persons will be brought to police headquarters for investigation.

After One Year.

REV. BOWER RESIGNS WILSHIRE PASTORATE.

FOR reasons which he refuses to discuss publicly, Rev. W. C. Bower, pastor of the fashionable Wilshire Boulevard Christian Church, tendered his resignation to the board of trustees, and expects to sever his connection with the church tonight. The resignation was deposited a week ago yesterday and formally presented to the church board last Monday night.

At the time of the official presentation of the resignation no action was taken and the matter was not made public. The board will meet tonight, however, to determine on definite action. The Rev. Bower says that with him the matter is final and he will not reconsider the step he has taken. So far the Rev. Bower has not taken the lay members of the congregation into his confidence. At neither service yesterday did he refer in any way to his determination to vacate the pastorate, which he has occupied during the last year.

The Rev. Bower, when asked for a statement as to the reasons which prompted him to tender his resignation, declared that he had nothing to say further than that he had decided to discontinue his services with the church and would not reconsider his action.

F. G. Tyrrell, chairman of the church board, last night said that the transaction was a friendly one and that there were no hard feelings on either side. He said that the terms of their contract provide that relations can be severed upon notice of either party.

The Rev. Bower came here one year ago from New York City. His last charge prior to coming to Los Angeles was at North Tonawanda, N. Y., where he was pastor of the Central Church of Christ.

ASKS FOR RECEIVERS.

Sandwich Man's Business At the Races Fails to Prosper, But He Finds Relief In Jail.

The sandwich man's loss was the city prisoners' gain yesterday and though the inmates of the City Jail did not see the auto races at Santa Monica they ate sandwiches that were there.

J. Findley, who has a place of business at No. 416 West Seventh street, telephoned Jailer John Shand yesterday afternoon, that he had 600 nice fresh rolls which he would give the prisoners if the jailer would send for them.

An automobile loaded with bread boxes was filled and 170 prisoners had their treat.

Findley embarked in an ill-fated venture Saturday morning when he took a large wagon loaded with sandwiches to the race track. The spectators were too intent upon watching the big machines buzz past to give the sandwich man attention and he returned with a generous portion of his load.

He said he had an opportunity to dispose of the rolls to parties who would pay something for them, but he thought inasmuch as the prisoners had been unable to see the races they ought to be remembered.

The music lovers of Los Angeles will be pleased to learn that the first concert of the Ellis Club is scheduled for Tuesday evening, October 14, at Temple Auditorium.

The Ellis Club has been enlarged by a number of excellent voices and will sing their next concert with eighty active members. They aspire to a chorus of 100 voices.

The next concert will be one of the most pretentious ever given by this organization. Although the entire programme has not been selected, the numbers chosen promise to bring out the strength of the club. Several eminent soloists will assist.

In former seasons the associate list was restricted to 250, but with the enlarged seating capacity afforded by the Temple Auditorium, 500 associate members with their friends can be accommodated.

An associate membership entitles the holder to four tickets for each of the four concerts given each season, and tickets can be obtained from any active member of the club or by addressing H. D. Alphonso, the secretary.

Thousands enjoyed the outdoor entertainment provided by the management of Luna Park yesterday.

The vaudeville bill which was presented yesterday was composed of twelve cats. The Hendee family of eight offered music. Each member from the smallest to the eldest of the family, was heartily encored for his efforts.

The comedy acrobatics of Farley and Hunt created no end of amusement. They mix fun and cleverness in a way which pleases. Robinson's Dixie Entertainers also furnished music and mirth.

The reproduction of the Battle of the Monitor and Merrimac will be the feature of this week. The spectacle is a combinatin of fireworks and mechanical effects.

Hamburger Majestic.

Contemporary drama—or at least the drama of the past decade—has given us no more appealing, irresponsible, spontaneous, enthusiastic, delicate and yet withal virile character than Hiram Perkins as he is realized by Max Figman.

Mr. Figman is again playing "Mary Jane's Pa" at the Majestic Theater. And though the role has been essayed by him many, many times, there was no weariness or uncertainty manifested by the actor last night. It was as though he was in the first enchanting moment of creating the role.

Dorothy McKay as Mary Jane, Ted Flinn as Llewellyn Green, Ben Horning as Joel Skinner and Lillian Hayward as the village milliner were the principal, and valuable, adherents of Hiram and his journalistic spouse.

Lyceum.

Rex Beach's "Barrier" received an initial production at the Lyceum yesterday which was pleasing for the reason that the company rather exceeded expectations in its merit.

The play has been seen in Los Angeles previous to this time and for that reason its melodramatic plot is well known to many. It is a story of the northern wilds, of fierce human passions, of improbable happenings, of gold and its hunters. Its motif is the love of a soldier, a blue blooded officer, for a girl that is supposed to be a half-breed, and for whom the officer is willing to sacrifice his position and family connections. The villain of the play turns out to be the girl's father, and her mother instead of having been the lowly squaw wife of her foster father was the sweetheart of the two men in days long past.

Miss Eleanor Haber played the part of Necia in a creditable way. The transition of her soul from the wild, untrammeled girl, supposedly even in her own mind a half-breed, to a full-grown woman with all of the woman's intuition and woman's mannerisms is portrayed rather abruptly. The characterization lacks the subtle touch necessary to lift it from the rank of ordinary.

To hear Miss Haber in the first act as the unsophisticated child of the woods, a child of uncouth bringing up and lacking all higher education, descanting in the following scenes with the wisdom of a woman of the world is greatly the fault of the author of the play. It might be touched off more artistically by the interpreter of the character, however.

Norval MacGregor, as the hunted white man, who has been for years under government indictment for murder, who has taken a squaw wife and has preceded the tide of immigration to the frontier time and again to avoid capture, is the leading man in the plot and does not overdo a part that might be laughably melodramatic. Capt. Burrell, U.S.A., in the hands of Lee Miller is a trifle weak. Burrell is good looking and that added to his blue blood may assist Necia in finding more in him than in the usual rough characters of the frontier.

No Creek Lee, the vermifuge appendix of every camp that was ever located, as he himself puts it, until Flambeau on the Yukon was discovered by himself, is cleverely given by Max Steinle. Poleon Dorret, who loses out with Necia because he is merely a Canuck voyageur, trapper and bar tender for her supposed father, is played by George Cleveland in a merely passable way. Stark, who is the villian, is played by Bryce Howatson and like the character of Runnion, played by George Byron, is capably done. Alluna, squaw wife of John Gale, is the only other woman in the plot and Miss Mattie Hyde has still much to learn of a squaw woman before she gives a perfect interpretation.

Incidentally, the management of the theater has put a few new leather covers on the chairs, has given the carpets a vacuum cleaning, has had a few buckets of paint applied in various portions of the house and it looks a trifle better than at any time since the days it first came into the Orpheum circuit.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The savings department of the postal service which opened at the local office a week ago has a clientele of twenty-eight, with deposits of about $1000. Most of them are Americans, with a few Japanese.

Larger than at any time in its history is the enrollment at the Polytechnic High School, there being 806 students registered as against 676 this time last year. A peculiar feature of the enrollment is that the number is almost equally divided as to sex, there being 394 boys and 412 girls. This condition is due, thinks Principal Burcham, to the shop work which has attracted the boys.

Sousa and his band gave two concerts this afternoon and evening to large audiences at the Auditorium.

BAD BUMP; MERE TRIFLE.

That Is, to a Monagenarian Veteran of Two Wars and Twenty-six Years' Service, It Is.

Bruises received in falling down on the sidewalk are not to be classed as "injuries," according to Elisha E. W. Shekel, 90 years old and a veteran of the Mexican and Civil War. He lost his footing at Temple and New High streets late yesterday afternoon and struck the sidewalk on the back of his head. A police ambulance was called and the old man was taken to the Receiving Hospital despite his protests.

He proved to the satisfaction of Police Surgeon Gage that he was just a "bit shaken up" and he said he would sit down and rest and then go home.

Shekel was born in Geneva, N. Y., August 21, 1821, and served twenty-six years in the regular army. He is now living in Ventura county, he said, and was in the city yesterday on a pleasure trip.

FRIDAY, THE THIRTEENTH.

That and Satan Too Much for Him, He Cuts Throat on Hoodoo Day and Is Held for Insanity.

Friday, the 13th and Satan proved too strong a combination for Charles Howkson and he attempted to end his life with a razor. He was unsuccessful, however, and gave it up for the time being.

Howkson was found at Fourth and Main streets yesterday afternoon by Patrolman Shy. The officer noticed that Howkson did not raise his head when questioned. He lifted the man's chin and discovered that his throat had been cut.

Howkson was taken to the Receiving Hospital and a charge of insanity lodged against him. He told Dr. Gage that Satan had been following him for weeks and that last Friday a "call" came. In answer he used his razor.

He appeared to be rational on all subjects but the one that his life has been demanded by the powers of evil. He will recover.

TROPICO.

TROPICO, Oct. 15.—After suffering for many years Elvira Rittenhouse, wife of C. C. Rittenhouse passed away yesterday evening. She was born in Johnston county, Iowa, in 1851, being 60 years old. She leaves a widower and four children. The children are: Frank H. of Salmon City, Idaho; Ralph G. of Trenton, Canada; C. C. Jr., and Lena Pearl of Tropico. The funeral ceremonies will be held at Tropico Presbyterian Church Tuesday at 2 p.m. Interment Forest Lawn.

CHILDREN TO SEE PRESIDENT.

South Pasadena Schools Will Be Dismissed to Give Youngsters Opportunity to See Parade.

SOUTH PASADENA, Oct. 15.—The city schools will be dismissed tomorrow at 11:35 o'clock, and the afternoon session will not convene until 1:15 o'clock for the purpose of affording the teachers and pupils an opportunity to see President Taft, when he passes through this city from Occidental College on his way to Pasadena. The Presidential party will pass along Pasadena avenue to Monterey Road; east on Monterey Road to Fremont avenue; and north on Fremont avenue to Pasadena, reaching there at 1 o'clock.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Rev. James H. Wortendyke, chairman of the State Central Committee of the Prohibition party, spoke this evening at the Christian Church, on invitation of the pastor, Rev. Booker Smith. Rev. Wortendyke has a national reputation as a platform speaker, and spent a number of years in pastoral work.

Rev. Charles M. Fisher, D. D., pastor of the Presbyterian Church, gave an illustrated stereopticon lecture this evening, with special music, and Rev. George C. King, the new pastor of the Methodist Church, preached both morning and evening. The members of this church are arranging for a reception to be tendered to their new pastor and wife next Friday evening.

Two modern six-room bungalows are being built on adjoining lots at Hope street and Mound avenue, to cost $2200 each. The corner house is being erected by the O. Hibbard Realty Company, and the adjoining home by M. W. Talbott of Los Angeles.

NEW PRESIDENT FOR RAPIDLY-GROWING BANK.

The directors of the Home Savings Bank recently elected O. J. Wigdal president to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Russell J. Waters.

The motion for Mr. Wigdal's promotion was made by Vice-President H. J. Whitley, who has been since its inception, one of the moving spirits in the growth of this institution, and the choice was unanimously approved by the board of directors.

Mr. Wigdal has been actively engaged in banking for twenty-four years in Los Angeles, having commenced with the Los Angeles National Bank in 1887. He had several years banking experience previous to that time in Minnesota, having commenced his banking career as messenger boy, and by force of diligent effort and marked ability worked his way to the head of one of the strong financial institutions in the city.

The Home Savings Bank was organized about seven years ago with a capital of $100,000. Its present capital is $400,000, with a large surplus and over $2,000,000 deposits. It is expected that the bank's capital will be in the near future increased to $1,000,000 and a new building, which will be one of the largest and finest in the city, built as its permanent home.

At the same meeting, A. I. Smith, formerly secretary of the Los Angeles Pacific Railway Company, was elected director.

There were no other changes in officers or directors. W. F. Callander, who for the past two years has been a co-worker with Mr. Wigdal in active charge of the bank, remains as now, vice-president and one of the heads of the institution.

The officers and directors are: O. J. Wigdal, president; W. F. Callander, vice-president; H. J. Whitley, vice-president; F. L. Thompson, cashier; R. B. Lane, F. M. Douglas, George Hanna, Herbert J. Goudge, T. A. Thompson, L. J. Christopher, D. F. Hill, R. T. Hazard, W. M. Bowen, J. H. Bullard, George R. Murdock, J. E. Fishburn, A. I. Smith and W. E. Oliver.

HAIR HEALTH

If You Have Scalp or Hair Trouble, Take Advantage of This Offer.

We could not afford to so strongly indorse Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and continue to sell it as we do, if we were not certain that it would do all we claim it will. Should our enthusiasm carry us away, and Rexall "93" Hair Tonic not give entire satisfaction to the users, they would lose faith in us and our statements, and in consequence our business prestige would suffer.

Therefore, when we assure you that if your hair is beginning to unnaturally fall out or if you have any scalp trouble, Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will promptly eradicate dandruff, stimulate hair growth and prevent premature baldness, you may rest assured that we know what we are talking about.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is vastly different from other similar preparations. We believe that it will do more than any other human agency toward restoring hair growth and hair health. It is not greasy and will not gum the scalp or hair or cause permanent stain. It is as pleasant to use as pure cold water.

Our faith in Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is so strong that we ask you to try it on our positive guarantee that your money will be cheerfully refunded without question or quibble if it does not do as we claim. Certainly we can offer no stronger argument. It comes in two sizes prices 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain it only at our stores—The Owl Drug Co., Inc., Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland, Cal.; Seattle, Wash.; Portland, Ore.

POURPARLERS FOR PEACE ON.

Powers Anxious to Restore Order in Tripoli.

Chinese Troops Depart for Scene of Revolt.

Fervent Insurgents Withdraw from Fight.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, Oct. 16.—A dispatch to the Matin from Rome says it is learned from an authoritative source that unofficial pourparlers between several powers and Italy on the subject of peace have been opened. The Italian government, however, while willing to conclude peace with Turkey and even to accord certain concessions, remains inflexible with regard to the annexation of Tripoli. In addition, the dispatch says, if the bombardments of reprisals against the Dardanelles by Turkey is carried further, the Italian fleet will be obliged to appear in the Aegean Sea. The absence of a strong and influential government at Constantinople continues to be unfortunate, makes the task of the ambassadors difficult and prospects for the immediate conclusion of peace not good.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Announcement was made today by the Young Chinese Society that at the meeting which was addressed by Dr. Sun Sat Sen, provisional President of the republic, revolutionary Chinese hope to establish, a large sum of money was pledged by local Chinese business men to help the revolution. Dr. Sun, however, had nothing to say. Following the meeting he disappeared.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] At a mass meeting of the quarters of the Young China Association last night a cablegram from Peking was read, that it had been learned that Japan had secured a monopoly of munitions traffic in the Chinese country. A conference between the Japanese officials and the Japanese consular at Peking had given rise to rumor that the Mikado might annex his country in the Chinese republic.

STATEMENT OF POLICY.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 16 — [By A. P. Night Wire.] The Porte without news concerning the intentions of the powers on the question of mediation. The Cabinet will make a statement of its policy at a secret meeting of the Chamber of Deputies Tuesday. It will declare that the government will undertake the suppression of a nature calculated to disturb the peace in the Balkans. At the same time, the government will pursue a firm and just policy in defense of Turkish rights in Tripoli and oppose any solution contrary to the interests of national dignity. The Albanian deputies have addressed a protest to the president of the chamber against the impeachment of the late Premier on account of its conduct in the Tripolitan affairs.

BAPTISM OF FIRE.

ROME (Italy) Oct. 16.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] News of the attack of the Turkish infantry upon the Italian outposts at Tripoli has been received with great interest here because it was the Italian soldiers' baptism of fire after fifteen years of peace. Official advices say the young soldiers behaved like veterans. It is reported the last twenty transports with the expeditionary force aboard sailed at Tripoli late last night. The expedition includes 15,000 men and members of the general staff. Seven aeroplanes are included in the equipment.

ATTACKED BY MOORS.

MELILLA (Morocco) Oct. 16.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The Moorish tribes, who recently have made several attacks on the Spaniards, yesterday assaulted the positions at Sidi Ahmed and Tmarufen, but were repulsed with severe loss. Gen. Marina, the Spanish commander, was shot through the chest, as he was mounting his horse, and died shortly afterward. A captain, a lieutenant and sixteen soldiers were wounded.

ITALIANS IN DISTRESS.

ROME, Oct. 16.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] A dispatch from Smyrna to the Corriere d'Italia says the colony of 10,000 Italians there is in a precarious position. All Italian railroad employes have been discharged and the Italian port workers are being boycotted. Neapolitan fishing boats in the harbor have been seized and their families are destitute. A massacre is feared for large numbers of Italian workmen in the interior of Anatolia.

THE CHINESE REVOLT.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] A copy of the proclamation of the Chinese rebel leaders is published here. After appealing to everyone to follow the example of his ancestors and drive the Manchus out of the country, the proclamation sets forth the object of the revolt, which is "to expel the Manchus and restore China to the Chinese; to establish a republic and restore the land to the people on the basis of social equality." It proposes to carry out these changes in three periods, the first period of three years, in which a military government will preside over the nation and wipe out all national disgraces; the second period of six years, in which the military government will furnish the people with the privilege of self-government and take general superintendence over national affairs; the third period in which the military government will relinquish its powers and the constitutional laws will become the basis of administration for all the affairs of the nation.

A Peking dispatch to the Times says Gen. Ching Chang and his staff left for the south this afternoon. Thirteen transport trains were dispatched from Peking and Pao Ting Fu Wa today, eleven will leave tomorrow and ten Tuesday, carrying a mixed division of troops, numbering 24,000 men. Of these 20,000 are fighting men. The troops will assemble at the third station north of Hankow. So far, despite alarming rumors, there has been no extension of the revolution to the provinces adjoining Hu Peh, but dispatches report a state of great anxiety regarding the attitude of the troops at Nan Chang, Nanking and other provincial capitals.

TAKES CARDINAL TO TASK.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Senator Jonathan Bourne, Jr., president of the National Insurgent Republican League, in a statement today took to task Cardinal Gibbons and Archbishop Ireland for their criticism of the initiative, referendum and recall as practiced in Oregon. The Senator said that both reason and experience were ignored the words "mob law" and "mobocracy" in describing the Oregon system.

"Mobs act under the sudden impulse by the two prelates in their use of pulse of anger, fear and hatred," says the statement. "Mob action is absolutely impossible under the initiative or referendum, because there is not less than four months of discussion before a vote can be taken.

"It also is impossible under the recall, because the recall cannot be invoked until petitions have been circulated and signed by at least twenty-five per cent. of the voters. This takes weeks and gives the widest publicity. Then the recall election cannot be held within less than twenty days after filing the petition. Voting under such circumstances cannot be mob action.

"Nine years' experience in Oregon demonstrates that the initiative, referendum and recall are not injurious to any personal right or legitimate property interest.

BASEBALL WEATHER.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] George S. Blias, the official forecaster, made a special observation last night and reported that the indications are that tomorrow will be clear and slightly warmer. He said showers are headed this way, but he did not expect any rain until the game was over.

ARKANSAS TOWN AFIRE.

FORT SMITH (Ark.) Oct. 16.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] A telephone message announces that Bonanza, a town of 800 inhabitants, fifteen miles east of here, was afire. The operator there telephoned to the local exchange that she was forced to flee as the fire was threatening the exchange. The town was destroyed by fire three years ago. Communication is cut off.

OCCUPIED BY REBELS.

PEKING, Oct. 16.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] A message from Chun King says advices from Kia Tong report that town occupied several days ago by two thousand rebels. About the same time four hundred of the insurgent forces were marching toward Yachow. Passports were issued to the missionaries at Kia Tong and the churches were guarded.

DENIES GIVING UP CASH.

Neresheimer Says He Reveres Katherine Tingley and Is Going to Point Loma to Live.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

"Statements appeared in the Los Angeles Times, October 12, that I had broken away from Katherine Tingley and her teachings and that she obtained from me cash and deeds to lands and other gifts aggregating $200,000. This statement is utterly false. I have not authorized any statements against Katherine Tingley. My respect, even reverence for her, increases with time. Her teachings are the most truly religious, more instructive than any books in existence, and they inculcate only the highest morals. I know whereof I speak, having lived at Point Loma for over three years, and I am now shaping my business affairs to return to Point Loma at the earliest possible moment to remain permanently. Please have this published in Los Angeles and other papers.

Contestants are especially cautioned to mark very plainly on every subscription slip whether the subscription is new or old, as in order to draw commissions it is necessary that this office should have the slips made out in detail by contestants.

On November 1 contestants whose net subscription scores do not total 4000 points each, will be temporarily dropped from the Contestant's Bulletin until such time as their scores reach the required amount.

As everything turned in to the Greater Contest office on Saturday was recorded in Sunday's paper, there is of course nothing of moment to record on Monday morning.

Saturday, while not a holiday, was somewhat of a gala day, in that it was the occasion of the Santa Monica road race, which has become a world-renowned feature of the autumn season in Los Angeles.

Today is also a pseudo-holiday and every citizen of Los Angeles has the opportunity to pay respect and honor to the Chief Executive of the nation, who is the city's guest at this time.

While the contest department desires every contestant to use every effort to secure subscriptions, these holidays that come now and then are a benefit and serve to give contestants the opportunity of a little rest and a little play, which only goes to strengthen their work afterwards.

Again, it is proper and meet that the soliciting of subscriptions should be laid aside long enough today to add each voice in greeting to the President of the United States.

CONTESTANTS' BULLETIN.

October 15, 1911.

NOTE: Names of contestants not having scored 4000 subscription points by November 1 will be omitted and only those whose names appear at the finish will be eligible to prizes in the Greater Contest.

Told Her Where to Go.

[Philadelphia Times:] Of the many experiences which Magistrate Richard W. Barrett has had, here's one dealing with a modest witness in a hearing. She was a woman of evident refinement, and much modesty. She testified against a man who had visited her home to complain against the dismissal of the cook, his sweetheart.

"You say the prisoner was profane?" said Magistrate Barrett, embarrassed, but wishing to get the facts. "Would you mind telling me, if you can, just what he said?"

"Oh, judge," said the woman, blushing, "I'd rather not; but, if you can understand me, he gave the home address of Mephistopheles."

Woman's Happiness

The highest point of woman's happiness is reached only through motherhood, in the clasping of her child within her arms. Yet the mother-to-be is often fearful of nature's ordeal and shrinks from the suffering incident to its consummation. But for nature's ills and discomforts nature provides remedies, and in Mother's Friend is to be found a medicine of great value to every expectant mother. It is an oily emulsion for external application, composed of ingredients which act with beneficial and soothing effect on those portions of the system involved. It is intended to prepare the system for the crisis, and thus relieve, in great part, the suffering through which the mother usually passes. The regular use of Mother's Friend will repay any mother in the comfort it affords before, and the helpful restoration to health and strength it brings about after baby comes. Mother's Friend is for sale at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

Schlitz is brewed in the dark—stored for months in glass lined steel enameled tanks—bottled in darkened rooms where even the window shades are drawn to exclude the light—then sent to you in brown bottles.

Without all of these precautions, no beer can be healthful, and who knowingly would drink beer that was not.

We have adopted every idea, every invention that could aid to this end. Today, more than half the cost of our brewing is spent to make and keep Schlitz beer pure.

If you knew what we know about beer, you would ask for "Schlitz—Schlitz in Brown Bottles."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Talented Woman Dies.

Mrs. Mary Eveline Murphy, wife of Dr. L. J. Murphy, and prominent in local musical and club circles, died Wednesday at Sierra Madre. She was 36 years old. She is survived by her husband and three children, Helen, Paul and Louise.

Memorial Cross Given.

A handsome processional cross was presented to the Christ Church Sunday-school yesterday by Superintendent C. L. Pierson. The cross, which is a memorial to Pierson's mother, is intended for the use of the junior choir. It was accepted by Rev. Baker P. Lee and dedicated by him. Wallace Braden was chosen as crucifer.

Hurt by Automobile.

While riding a bicycle at Santa Fe and North Main streets yesterday noon, Gregorio Zunica, 18 years old, was struck by the automobile of E. Fleur, No. 404 North Los Angeles street. His face was cut and his back bruised. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital in Fleur's machine and his injuries attended.

Lecture on Hawaii.

A lecture on the Hawaiian Islands and the people living there will be a special feature contributed to the programme of the Colorado Society at a meeting to be held at the Fraternal Brotherhood building tomorrow evening. Each person in attendance will be presented with a large Jonathan apple.

Tells of Taft's Reception.

Dr. Walter Lindley, Chamber of Commerce delegate to the Panama-Pacific ground-breaking ceremonies at San Francisco, returned to Los Angeles last evening with an enthusiastic account of the tremendous ovation given President Taft in the Bay City. Both at the fair grounds and at the Palace Hotel, where the Chief Executive spoke, his reception was so tremendous as to leave no doubt of the esteem with which Mr. Taft is held in Northern California.

Pre-Nuptial Reception.

In honor of her engagement to Irving H. Hellman, which was announced at a dinner given on the 8th inst., Miss Florence E. Marx held a reception at her home, No. 2316 South Figueroa street, yesterday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock. It was a largely attended affair as the young couple have a host of friends. While the date of the wedding has not been officially announced, it is understood that it will occur next month. It promises to be the most brilliant event of the year.

Union Evangelistic Services.

The big tent at Pasadena avenue and Avenue Fifty-five was thronged yesterday morning when a reunion of seven church congregations was held with Evangelist John E. Brown and his helpers in charge. The services were productive of great good and were given preference over the usual church service. The regular meetings were held at 2:30 in the afternoon and at 7:30 o'clock last night. Brown and his assistants have just come from Stockton, where their meetings were overcrowded.

A Message From Africa.

"A Message From the Dark Continent," was the subject of an interesting address delivered in the auditorium of the Y.M.C.A. building yesterday afternoon, by Charles F. Hurlburt. He is director of the Inland Mission at Kijaba, British East Africa and told of the work being done there toward Christianizing the natives. At the conclusion of the lecture, a missionary conference was held by the members of the association, and several addresses on the subject of missions were delivered, E. H. Emmet leading the discussion.

Foul Tip in the Eye.

Like taking a bone from a dog, is the taking of a baseball from a gang of sand-lot kids. So J. H. Crocker, a lumberman living at No. 1361 East Fifteenth street, learned yesterday. He had an injured eye treated at the Receiving Hospital as a result. According to the story told by Crocker at the hospital some boys were playing to the rear of his home and occasionally the ball was hit into his garden. Losing patience when such a condition occurred frequently, Crocker kept the ball. When he refused to surrender it he said one of the players hit him and ran.

MYSTERIOUSLY DISAPPEARS.

San Diego City Employee, After Visit in Los Angeles, Drops Out of Sight Without Known Cause.

Ernest P. Brockway, a cashier and bookkeeper in the office of the San Diego Street Inspector, is sought in this city by his family and friends, who say that he disappeared here last Wednesday, leaving no word or trace.

Brockway came up from his home at Pacific Beach, near San Diego, to visit friends, Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Lefever, of No. 1622 Las Vegas street. He left their house about midnight Wednesday to go to the Santa Fe station, intending to catch the Owl train south. He has not been seen since.

Brockway is 20 years old, 5 feet 9 inches tall, weighs 165 pounds, has heavy black hair sprinkled with gray. When last seen he was wearing a light suit, black button shoes, black fedora hat with a round crown. He was carrying a small black alligator bag, a gold watch and about $20 in money.

Investigation of his books shows that they are straight. He was not a drinking man and his friends know of no reason why he should have left unannounced.

Brockway's father, J. C. Brockway, was formerly Street Inspector of San Diego. He is now a teaming contractor.

COVERED WITH WELTS.

With his head covered with welts, Fred S. Roll, a shoe salesman living at No. 516 South Fremont street, reported to the police last night that he had been assaulted with a billy by a conductor of a Jefferson street car. According to his statement the assault was unjustifiable and occurred while the car was standing at Sixteenth and Main street. At the Receiving Hospital it was found that Roll had been struck at least eight times and that he had been considerably weakened by loss of blood. He was advised to apply for a warrant for the arrest of his assailant.
